Poetry And Poetics Of Nishiwaki Junzaburo Modernism In Translation:

The Poetry and Poetics of Nishiwaki Junzaburo Hosea Hirata, 2014-07-14 This book offers an in depth investigation into the writings of one of modern Japan's most gifted poet scholars Nishiwaki Junzaburo 1894-1982 who has been compared to T S Eliot R M Rilke and Paul Valéry Exploring both his poetry and theoretical writings Hosea Hirata describes how Nishiwaki who wrote his first poems in English and French shaped a highly influential poetic modernism in Japan while elevating the artistic status of translation This volume includes Nishiwaki's highly original essays on the nature of poetry his first two collections of Japanese poems and a poem meditating on the annihilation of symbolism The author maintains that in Japan the language of modernism was that of translation When Nishiwaki finally began to write poems in Japanese a new poetic language was born in his country a translatory language Hirata elaborates this birth of new poetry via translation by referring to the theories of translation and of difference articulated by Walter Benjamin and Jacques Derrida The author reconsiders the view that translated texts are secondary to the originals where the truth supposedly resides instead he presents translation as an essential textual movement critique toward the paradise of pure language and Poetry Originally published in 1993 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 A New Companion to Malory Megan G. Leitch, Cory

Rushton, 2019 A comprehensive survey of one of the most important texts of the Middle Ages Learning to Kneel Carrie J. Preston, 2016-08-16 In this inventive mix of criticism scholarship and personal reflection Carrie J Preston explores the nature of cross cultural teaching learning and performance Throughout the twentieth century Japanese noh was a major creative catalyst for American and European writers dancers and composers The noh theater's stylized choreography poetic chant spectacular costumes and masks and engagement with history inspired Western artists as they reimagined new approaches to tradition and form In Learning to Kneel Preston locates noh's important influence on such canonical figures as Pound Yeats Brecht Britten and Beckett These writers learned about noh from an international cast of collaborators and Preston traces the ways in which Japanese and Western artists influenced one another Preston's critical work was profoundly shaped by her own training in noh performance technique under a professional actor in Tokyo who taught her to kneel bow chant and submit to the teachings of a conservative tradition This encounter challenged Preston's assumptions about effective teaching particularly her inclinations to emphasize Western ideas of innovation and subversion and to overlook the complex ranges of agency experienced by teachers and students It also inspired new perspectives regarding the generative relationship between Western writers and Japanese performers Pound Yeats Brecht and others are often criticized for their orientalist tendencies and misappropriation of noh but Preston's analysis and her journey reflect a more nuanced understanding of cultural exchange

Topographies of Japanese Modernism Seiji M. Lippit, 2002 What happens when a critique of modernity a revolt against the traditions of the Western world is situated within a non European context where the concept of the modern has been inevitably tied to the image of the West Seiji M Lippit offers the first comprehensive study in English of Japanese modernist fiction of the 1920s and 1930s Through close readings of four leading figures of this movement Akutagawa Yokomitsu Kawabata and Hayashi Lippit aims to establish a theoretical and historical framework for the analysis of Japanese modernism The 1920s and 1930s witnessed a general sense of crisis surrounding the institution of literature marked by both the radical politicization of literary practice and the explosion of new forms of cultural production represented by mass culture Against this backdrop this study traces the heterogeneous literary topographies of modernist writings Through an engagement with questions of representation subjectivity and ideology it situates the disintegration of literary form in these texts within the writers exploration of the fluid borderlines of Japanese modernity

The Algorithm of Creation Nicholas Hagger, 2023-10-27 2023 SMN Book Prize Winner Significant Contribution to its Field The Algorithm of Creation is the last of Nicholas Hagger's quartet on the unity of the universe and humankind and follows The Universe and the Light 1993 The One and the Many 1999 and The New Philosophy of Universalism 2009 It offers an algebraic formula written out for him by Junzaburo Nishiwaki Japan's T S Eliot in Tokyo in October 1965 that sums up the wisdom of the East A A 0 Based on ancient Chinese thinking yin dark yang light the Tao it shows all opposites reconciled in the underlying unity of the One Void whose emptiness is also a fullness During a dinner at a conference of leading scientists at Jesus College Cambridge in September 1992 watched by Nobel physics prizewinner Roger Penrose Hagger reversed the formula to 0 A A when he wrote down the maths for his view of the origin and creation of the universe and showed the first two particles emerging from the Void's singularity influenced by the 1992 discovery of ripples in the cosmic microwave background radiation and the Presocratic Anaximander of Miletus In this work Hagger shows how this algebraic formula has worked as a universal algorithm 0 A A 0 Its many variations have acted as rules that have controlled the creation and development of the expanding universe its evolution and the rise of human history religion and science and its ultimate fate The formula is behind many of Hagger's works and his application of this algorithm to all human knowledge of the universe and all disciplines takes him to a first ever Theory of Everything which is set out at the end the algorithm of Creation containing 100 mathematical symbols reflecting all the variations that can be summed up in the above algorithm This startling achievement has been made possible by his Universalist cross disciplinary approach which focuses on the fundamental oneness of the universe and humankind and the unitive vision

Finnegans Wakes Patrick O'Neill, 2022-03-01 James Joyce's astonishing final text Finnegans Wake 1939 is universally acknowledged to be entirely untranslatable And yet no fewer than fifteen complete renderings of the 628 page text exist to date in twelve different languages altogether and at least ten further complete renderings have been announced as underway for publication in the early 2020s in nine different languages. Finnegans Wakes delineates for the first time in any language the international history of these renderings and discusses the multiple issues faced by translators. The book also comments on partial and fragmentary renderings from some thirty languages altogether including such perhaps unexpected languages as Galician, Guarani, Chinese, Korean, Turkish, and Irish, not to mention Latin and Ancient Egyptian. Excerpts from individual renderings are analysed in detail together with brief biographical notes on numerous individual translators. Chronicling renderings spanning multiple decades, Finnegans Wakes illustrates the capacity of Joyce's final text to generate an inexhaustible multiplicity of possible meanings among the ever increasing number of its impossible translations. Classic Morita Therapy Peg LeVine, 2017-07-28

Shoma Masatake Morita M.D. 1874-1938 was a Japanese psychiatrist professor who developed a unique four stage therapy process. He challenged psychoanalysts who sanctioned an unconscious or unconsciousness collective or otherwise that resides inside the mind. Significantly, he advanced a phenomenal connection between existentialism, Zen, Nature, and the therapeutic role of serendipity. Morita is a forerunner of eco psychology and he equalised the strength between human to human attachment and human to Nature bonds. This book chronicles Morita's theory of peripheral consciousness, his paradoxical method, his design of a natural therapeutic setting, and his progressive four stage therapy. It explores how this therapy can be beneficial for clients outside of Japan using for the first time non Japanese case studies. The author's personal material about training in Japan and subsequent practice of Morita's ecological and phenomenological therapy in Australia and the United States enhance this book. LeVine's coining of cruelty based trauma generates a rich discussion on the need for therapy inclusive of ecological settings. As a medical anthropologist, clinical psychologist, and genocide scholar, LeVine shows how the four progressive stages are essential to the classic method and the key importance of the first rest stage in outcomes for clients who have been embossed by trauma. Since cognitive science took hold in the 1970s, complex consciousness theories have lost footing in psychology and medical science. This book reinstates consciousness as the dynamic core of Morita therapy. The case material illustrates the use of Morita therapy for clients struggling with the aftermath of trauma and how to live creatively and responsively inside the uncertainty of existence. The never before published archival biographic notes and photos of psychoanalyst Karen Horney, Fritz Perls, Eric Fromm, and other renowned scholars who took an interest in Morita in the 1950s and 60s provide a dense historical backdrop. Surrealism and Photography in 1930s Japan Jelena Stojkovic, 2020-05-31

Despite the censorship of dissident material during the decade between the Manchurian Incident of 1931 and the outbreak of the Pacific War in 1941, a number of photographers across Japan produced a versatile body of Surrealist work. In a pioneering study of their practice, Jelena Stojkovic draws on primary sources and extensive archival research and maps out art historical and critical contexts relevant to the apprehension of this rich photographic output, most of which is previously unseen outside of its country of origin. The volume is an essential resource in the fields of Surrealism.

and Japanese history of art for researchers and students of historical avant gardes and photography as well as for readers interested in visual culture Southern Exposure Michael Molasky, Steve Rabson, 2000-08-01 Southern Exposure is the first anthology of Okinawan literature to appear in English translation and it appears at a propitious time Although Okinawa Prefecture comprises only one percent of Japan's population its writers have been winning a disproportionate number of literary awards in recent years including the prestigious Akutagawa Prize for fiction which was awarded to Matayoshi Eiki in 1996 and to Medoruma Shun in 1997 Both Matayoshi and Medoruma are represented in this anthology which includes a wide range of fiction as well as a sampling of poetry from the 1920s to the present day Modern Okinawa has been forged by a history of conquest and occupation by mainland Japan and the United States Its sense of dual subjugation and the propensity of its writers to confront their own complicity with Japanese militarism imbues Okinawa's literary tradition with insightful perspectives on a wide range of issues But this tradition is as deeply rooted in the region's lush semitropical landscape as in the forces of history As this anthology demonstrates Okinawan writers often suffuse their works with a lyricism and humor that disarms readers while bringing them face to face with the region's richly ambiguous legacy Anna Livia Plurilingual Patrick O'Neill, 2025-05-16 The complexity of James Joyce's Finnegans Wake ensures that it cannot be translated rather it can only be rewritten These rewritings vary significantly and the extent of their differences both within individual target languages and across multiple languages invites further exploration Anna Livia Plurilingual is a study of a Joycean macrotext that provides a detailed comparative analysis of multiple translations of selected excerpts from Joyce's iconic Anna Livia Plurabelle 1928 which was later incorporated into Finnegans Wake 1939 Patrick O'Neill examines how these translations function as independent texts rather than mere derivatives of the original highlighting the creative and interpretative choices made by translators While the concept of a literary macrotext could in principle encompass all reader responses this work specifically focuses on translations emphasizing comparative readings of the original text alongside its diverse interpretations O'Neill's investigation not only illuminates the intricacies of Joyce's language and the complexities of the resulting macrotext but also offers valuable insights into the broader field of literary translation studies
