Rates of Urbanization in England 1981-2001 Great Britain. Department of the Environment,1991 Rates of Urbanization in England 1981-2001 P. R. Bibby,J. W. Shepherd,1991 By the year 2001 it is forecast that around 11% of England is likely to be in urban use Almost a third of this expected urban growth will be concentrated in the South East Up until now the factual basis for assertions such as these has been extremely weak Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth,Vincent Nadin,2006-10-16 This revised fourteenth edition reinforces this title s reputation as the bible of British planning It provides a through explanation of planning processes including the institutions involved tools systems policies and changes to land use Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B. Cullingworth,Vincent Nadin,2002 Town and Country Planning in the UK has become the bible of British planning It provides an explanation of the nature of planning the institutions and organisations involved the plans and other tools used by planners planning policies and more

Greenfields, Brownfields and Housing Development David Adams,Craig Watkins,2008-04-15 The location of new housing development has become one of the most intractable controversies of modern times This book provides a powerful critique of the growing tendency to reduce the debate on the development of new housing to a mere choice between greenfield and brownfield locations It calls for full account to be taken of such factors as the structure and organisation of the housebuilding industry supply and demand pressures in the housing market the contested nature of sustainability and the political character of the planning process if a truly effective housing land policy is to be devised Drawing on theories from economics and political science this book will provide an important reference point on the institutional context within which residential development takes place and on the concerns of planning authorities environmentalists housebuilders and their customers in relation to the apparent choice between greenfield and brownfield development Planning At The Crossroads James Simmie,2003-09-02 Through a detailed analysis of studies of the effects of planning comparing low levels of urban containment in California with much higher levels in the UK Some comparative insights are also drawn from the pre conflict Yugoslavian planning system The analysis shows that many of the serious criticisms of planning are valid and leads to the conclusion that some sacred cows notably green belts should be abandoned This distinctive text is of use to students researchers and professionals in planning geography and urban studies Urban Landscapes J. W. R. Whitehand,Peter J. Larkham,1992 Taking a multidisciplinary approach this addresses the academic and practical issues concerning the present and future of the built environment arguing for its enlightened management in the future of our present day environment

The Compact City Elizabeth Burton,Mike Jenks,Katie Williams,2003-09-02 provides forum for progressing the urban debate demonstrates good design and practice through a variety of case studies offers cross disciplinary view points

Planning, the Market and Private Housebuilding Glen Bramley,Will Bartlett,Christine Lambert,1995 Planning the market and private housebuilding is a timely new book which analyzes key contemporary issues in the light of the latest research findings and trends in policy and practice The relationship between land use planning and the housebuilding industry in Britain has long been characterized by intense debate and conflicting priorities about land supply The experience of the late 1980s and the early 1990s has made national policy makers and economic analysts aware of the crucial importance of the housing market for the whole economy and has once more put planning in the spotlight At the same time planning itself is undergoing significant changes and has been given a new mission in terms of the environmental agenda which may be in some tension with the needs of the housing economy The artificial boundaries between housing and planning have also been broken down by recent developments linking planning and social housing and stressing the enabling role of housing authorities The authors are based in leading research and teaching centres for planning and housing and they combine expertise in housing policy and finance industrial economics and organization and town The book grapples directly with some of the biggest issues How sluggish is the housebuilding industry in responding to demand How much does planning affect house prices What would happen if we scrapped the Green Belt Do planning policies get implemented Do planning agreements for affordable housing make sense What would happen if mortgage interest tax relief were abolished The book is aimed at interested lay readers those involved professionally in the housing development and planning fields and at students of planning construction housing geography economics social policy and related disciplines While centred on the experience of the UK the authors bring to bear their knowledge of comparative experience and research in a range of other countries including North America and Europe Glen Bramley a specialist on housing and public finance is a Reader in the School for Advanced Urban Studies SAUS at the University of Bristol he was Deputy Director of SAUS for 1990-92 Will Bartlett is a Research Fellow at SAUS having lectured in economics at the universities of Southampton Bristol and Bath Christine Lambert is a Senior Lecturer in the School of Town and Country Planning at the University of the West of England Bristol and she specializes on planning and local government issues geographies population geographies social geographies urban and rural geographies Finally Part III Horizons assesses the latest research in innovative areas from mobilities and securities to non representational geographies This comprehensive stimulating and cutting edge introduction to the field is richly illustrated throughout with full colour figures maps and photos These are available to download on the companion website located at www.routledge.com/9781444135350 Environment & Planning A, 1997-07 Town & Country Planning, 1994 Urban Planning and Management Kenneth George Willis, R. Kerry Turner, Ian Bateman, 2001 Urban Planning and Management presents a collection of key articles on different aspects of sustainability in urban planning and management whilst simultaneously illustrating the conflicting arguments about whether and how sustainability should be achieved Part I covers the factors determining the life and death of cities and what is required to achieve sustainable development In Part II issues of whether cities should be compact or dispersed and concepts of sustainable development in third world cities and societies are explored Parts III and IV examine design as an integral part of producing a sustainable urban policy and energy use Part V deals with Local Agenda 21 issues and Part VI looks at town planning Part VII discusses transport as both a product and determinant of sustainable urban planning and management Parts VIII IX and X examine the sustainable provision of other services including waste collection recycling schemes and water In Part XI sustainability is shown as occurring within and constrained by legal property rights and management practices GIS and Evidence-Based Policy Making Stephen Wise, Max Craglia, 2007-12-28 Although much has been written on evidence based policy making this is the first volume to address the potential of GIS in this arena GIS and Evidence Based Policy Making covers the development of new methodological approaches emphasizing the identification of spatial patterns in social phenomena It examines organizational issues including the Environment & Planning, 2012

Sociological Abstracts, 2004 CSA Sociological Abstracts abstracts and indexes the international literature in sociology and related disciplines in the social and behavioral sciences The database provides abstracts of journal articles and citations to book reviews drawn from over 1 800 serials publications and also provides abstracts of books book chapters dissertations and conference papers Environment and Planning, 2008 Sociable Cities Peter Hall, Colin Ward, 2014-06-05 Peter Hall and Colin Ward wrote Sociable Cities to celebrate the centenary of publication of Ebenezer Howard's To-morrow: A Peaceful Path to Real Reform in 1998 an event they then marked by co-editing with Dennis Hardy the magnificent annotated facsimile edition of Howard's original long lost and very scarce in 2003 In this revised edition of Sociable Cities sadly now without Colin Ward Peter Hall writes the sixteen years separating the two editions of this book seem almost like geological time Revisiting the 1998 edition is like going back deep into ancient history The glad confident morning following Tony Blair's election has been followed by political disillusionment the fiscal crash widespread austerity and a marked anti planning stance on the part of the Coalition government But closely following the argument of Good Cities Better Lives How Europe discovered the Lost Art of Urbanism Routledge 2013 to which this book is designed as a companion Hall argues that the central message is now even stronger we need more planning not less And this planning needs to be driven by broad high level strategic visions national regional of the kind of country we want to see Above all Hall shows in the concluding chapters Britain s escalating housing crisis can be resolved only by a massive programme of planned decentralization from London at least equal in scale to the great Abercrombie plan seventy years ago He sets out a picture of great new city clusters at the periphery of South East England sustainably self sufficient in their daily patterns of living and working but linked to the capital by new high speed rail services This is a book that every planner and every serious student of policy making will want to read Published at a time when the political parties are preparing their policy manifestos it is designed to make a major contribution to a major national debate
