The Concertation Impulse in World Politics Andrew F. Cooper, 2023-11-30. This book unravels the centrality of contestation over international institutions under the shadow of crisis. Breaking with the widely accepted image in the mainstream US centric literature of an advance of global governance supported by pillars of institutionalized formality, Andrew Cooper points to the retention of a habitual impulse towards concertation related to informal institutionalism. Rather than endorsing the view that world politics is moving inexorably towards a multilateral rules based order, he places the onus on the resilience of a hierarchical self selected concert model that combines a stigmatized legacy with the ability to reproduce in an array of associational formats. Relying for conceptual guidance on the recovery of a valuable component in the intellectual contribution of Hedley Bull, a compelling case is made that concertation represents a fundamental institution as a peer competitor to multilateralism. In effect the debate over institutional design is recast away from an emphasis on utilitarian maximization towards a wider set of cardinal and highly contested questions: the nature of rules at the global level, the salience of institutional clubs and the meaning and impact of inequality and cooperation coordination among states across the incumbent West non incumbent Global South divide.

The Continent of International Law Barbara Koremenos, 2016-04-07. This book demonstrates theoretically and empirically how international law's detailed design provisions help states cooperate despite harsh international political realities.

introduction and conclusion written for the volume this book exposes the narrow meaning currently attached to some of the key concepts and ideas in IR and calls for alternative and broader understandings of them The need for recasting the discipline has motivated and undergirded Acharya's own scholarship since his entry into the field over three decades ago This book reflects his own engagement quarrels and compromise and concludes with suggestions for new pathways to a Global IR a forward looking and inclusive enterprise that is reflective of the multiple and global heritage of IR in an changing and interconnected world It is essential reading for anyone who is concerned about the history development and future of international relations and international relations theory
