Survey of Industrial Chemistry Philip J. Chenier, 2012-12-06 Survey of Industrial Chemistry arose from a need for a basic text dealing with industrial chemistry for use in a one semester three credit senior level course taught at the University of Wisconsin Eau Claire This edition covers all important areas of the chemical industry yet it is reasonable that it can be covered in 40 hours of lecture Also an excellent resource and reference for persons working in the chemical and related industries it has sections on all important technologies used by these industries a one step source to answer most questions on practical applied chemistry Young scientists and engineers just entering the workforce will find it especially useful as a readily available handbook to prepare them for a type of chemistry quite different than they have seen in their traditional coursework whether graduate or undergraduate

Industrial Chemical Separation Timothy C. Frank, Bruce S. Holden, 2023-08-07 A fresh new treatment written by industry insiders this work gives readers a remarkably clear view into the world of chemical separation The authors review distillation extraction adsorption crystallization and the use of membranes providing historical perspective explaining key features and offering insights from personal experience The book is for engineers and chemists with current or future responsibility for chemical separation on a commercial scale in its design operation or improvement or for anyone wanting to learn more about chemical separation from an industrial point of view The result is a compelling survey of popular technologies and the profession one that brings the art and craft of chemical separation to life Ever wonder how popular separation technologies came about how a particular process functions or how mass transfer units differ from theoretical stages Or perhaps you want some pointers on how to begin solving a separation problem You will find clear explanations and valuable insights into these and other aspects of industrial practice in this refreshing new survey
