Convent Stuart Kells,2020-03-03 What was behind the wall and the wire The local people knew fine courtyards an old swimming pool dilapidated tennis courts and a remnant garden now wild and sprawling The Abbotsford Convent was this haunted place left to languish for years after the last of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd had gone In its prime it had been a school a refuge a retreat a workhouse and a prison the single largest charitable institution in the southern hemisphere In the late 1990s a proposed high density development threatened the idyllic riverside location sparking outrage in the local community and further afield Years of protesting negotiating and fundraising followed and the convent now on Australia s National Heritage List has started a new life as a vibrant centre for art and culture The Convent A City Finds its Heart tells the story of the site s rich history and the efforts to preserve it It is an uplifting tale of community activism a tangible reminder that the magic of the past can endure and what people power can achieve

European Vision and the South Pacific Third Edition

Bernard Smith, 2022-10-05 Bernard Smith 1916-2011 was arguably Australia's greatest art historian and one of the most important humanist thinkers internationally on ideas concerning cultural contact. His European Vision and the South Pacific first published in 1960 showed how the ideas of the Enlightenment and the empirical structuring of scientific and geographical knowledge during the great eighteenth century voyages of discovery affected notions of identity both for Europeans and the Indigenous peoples with whom they came in contact. Not only did Smith's investigation of art science and imperialism of this period explore the conditions of frontier contact it opened up the dialogue on de colonisation and allowed us to think beyond or after it. He was undoubtedly a pioneer of post colonialism and the book remains a lighthouse in Pacific studies. The republication of European Vision and the South Pacific is an essential part of the discourse reframing the interconnections and crossing of cultural boundaries between Europe and antipodean societies. This new edition of a significant Australian classic also coincides with the 250th anniversary of Cook's landing on the east coast of Australia and complements new scholarship on territorialisation colonialism and the politics of exchange between metropolitan centres and peripheries. A new introduction by Sheridan Palmer situates the book in a contemporary context.
