Abstract

Objective: Early motherhood and its impact on mothers, children, families and communities is a prevalent health challenge in developing countries that needs to be urgently explored. The aim of this study was exploring the challenges encountered by Iranian adolescent mothers during the transition to motherhood.

Materials and methods: Inductive conventional content analysis approach was used in this qualitative study. Face to face in-depth semi-structured interviews were conducted with 16 Iranian teenage mothers in the Kerman province of Iran from March to December 2016. Data collection continued until the point of data saturation and MAXQDA software was utilized in the analysis of the data.

Results: Six main categories increasing burden of responsibility, experiencing physical problems, receiving insufficient support, inefficiency in maternal role, emotional and mental distress; and role conflict and 18 sub-categories were extracted from the data analysis.

Conclusion: The findings of this study showed that adolescent mothers experience many physical, psychological, mental and social challenges. Therefore, it is expedient that special attention and care support is made available to them by health care providers. A comprehensive understanding of the challenges encountered by adolescent mothers, will aid the development of culturally appropriate health promotion guidelines and strategies.

Introduction

Motherhood is a significantly important event in the life of a woman (1). Maternal role attainment is a process that requires acquire necessary abilities, learn appropriate behavior, and establish in maternal identity (2). Preparation to accept the maternal role has important effects on maternal adjustment and transition to adulthood (3). However, increasing number of teenage mothers is one of the important concerns in many countries (4). According to the World Health Organization, every year, approximately 16 million teenage girls give birth worldwide while South Korea has minimum rate and maximum rate is in sub-Saharan Africa (5). Among 1,000 Iranian adolescent girls, 27 become mothers (6).

Early motherhood has significantly affected not only adolescent girls, but also their spouse, family,

Childbearing and the Changing Nature of Parenthood Rosalina Pisco Costa,Sampson Lee Blair,2019-11-25 Around the globe the very conceptualization of family is associated with the relationship between a parent and a child The birth of a child represents both the end of one experience and the beginning of another The Future of Motherhood in Western Societies Gijs Beets, Joop Schippers, Egbert R. te Velde, 2010-12-06 Most people value to have children still highly But what is the optimal moment to have the first The decision on having children or not and if yes on the timing of the first is one of the most difficult ones to make also because it more or less coincides with various other heavy decisions on shaping the life course like on union formation labour market career housing accommodation etc People realise that having children will fundamentally change their life and in order to fit this unknown and irreversible adventure perfectly into their life course postponement of the first birth is an easy way out as long as doubts continue and partners try to make up their mind Modern methods of birth control are of course a very effective help in that period What is the best moment to have the first child And to what moment is postponement justified There are no easy answers to these questions Best solutions vary per person as they depend on personal circumstances and considerations the partner may have conflicting ideas housing accommodation job income free time activities Existing parental leave and child care arrangements are weighted as well Unfortunately the biological clock ticks further And also unfortunately assisted reproductive technology IVF etc is unable to guarantee a successful outcome Several couples end up without children involuntarily and that may lead to sorrow and grief This interdisciplinary book overviews the process of postponement and its backgrounds in modern Western societies holistically both at the personal and the societal level Contributions come from reproductive evolutionary biological and neurological sciences as well as from demography economy sociology and psychology It holds not only at women but also at men becoming first time fathers The discussion boils down to a new policy approach for motherhood and emancipation on how to shape work and family life It is argued that a public window where one can compose a cafeteria like set of supportive arrangements according to personal preferences could lead to a break in the rising age at first motherhood Transitions Theory Afaf Meleis, Afaf I. Meleis, 2010-02-17 It is very exciting to see all of these studies compiled in one book It can be read sequentially or just for certain transitions It also can be used as a template for compilation of other concepts central to nursing and can serve as a resource for further studies in transitions It is an excellent addition to the nursing literature Score 95 4 Stars Doody's Understanding and recognizing transitions are at the heart of health care reform and this current edition with its numerous clinical examples and descriptions of nursing interventions provides important lessons that can and should be incorporated into health policy It is a brilliant book and an important contribution to nursing theory Kathleen Dracup RN DNSc Dean and Professor School of Nursing University of California San Francisco Afaf Meleis the dean of the University of Pennsylvania School of Nursing presents for the first time in a single volume her original transitions theory that integrates middle range theory to assist nurses in facilitating positive transitions for patients families and communities Nurses are consistently relied on to coach and support patients going through major life transitions such as illness recovery pregnancy old age and many more A collection

the best possible care for the mother and her family There was a kind of silence in the relationship a stillness which was very important And we d done all the talking in the build up So the talking was done I felt confident that she the midwife knew where I was coming from and vice versa It was like we d done all our dress rehearsal what if what if And on the day there was nothing left to say really So it just felt very calm and I think that was the most important thing The second edition of this celebrated text explores vividly the various skills and approaches that lead to successful midwifery practice and uses care stories to bring these to life Building on a thorough grounding of theory and research evidence The New Midwifery will enable all midwives to practise with a more effective range of skills and as these real life quotes from mothers bear out provide unique professional support before during and after birth I think we had a really good relationship actually It was more of a friend relationship but a friend you could trust in a professional friend you could rely on Provides a refreshingly new approach to key areas of midwifery practice in a way that brings practice to life Illustrates and supports the fundamental changes currently taking place in midwifery around the world Builds on the most up to date evidence based research to suggest guidelines for best practices Explores the impact of parenthood and offers strategies for effectively supporting individuals during this period of transition Includes care stories case studies that highlight positive midwifery care and successful childbirth experiences Offers contrasting stories from around the world illustrating how maternity care in industrialized society differs from that in a non industrial or third world environment Provides up to date research and reference material

Like Mother, Like Daughter? Jill Armstrong, 2017-10-04 Women are encouraged to believe that they can occupy top jobs in society by the example of other women thriving in their careers Who better to be a role model for career success than your mother Paradoxically this book shows that having a mother as a role model even for graduates of top universities does not predict daughters progressing in their own careers It finds that mothers with careers whilst highly influential in their daughters choice of career path rarely mentor their daughters as they progress This is partly explained by quiet ambition the tendency of women to be modest about their achievements Bigger issues are the twin pressures from contemporary motherhood and workplace culture that ironically lead career women s daughters to believe that being a good mother means working part time This stalls career progress Based on a large cross generational qualitative sample this book offers a timely and original perspective on the debate about gender equality in leadership positions
