New York Philharmonic James H. North, 2006-06-15 The intent of any discography is comprehensiveness aiming to include every recording within its chosen area and to list all the important details of each. The discography New York Philharmonic The Authorized Recordings 1917-2005 is no exception. Author James H. North has compiled more than 1500 commercial recordings made by the New York Philharmonic from 1917 to 2005. A fifteen-page Introduction serves as a general history of New York Philharmonic recordings, discussing issues such as the importance of recordings, the orchestra's relationships with various recording companies, the venues used, recordings of interest which were not made and why they were not, and the record labeling systems used by Columbia, CBS, Sony, the Philharmonic's long-term business partner. The entries are presented in chronological order of recording sessions and contain important details such as music played, performers, session dates, and venues, recording companies, and producers' first release dates, and all issues of the recording, including 78 and 45 rpm discs, Long Playing records, and Compact Discs. Three appendixes catalog the entries by composer, conductor, and soloists, respectively, referring the reader to the appropriate entry in the main listing. Two additional appendixes further illustrate the New York Philharmonic's history, one by describing the 78 rpm records made for class use by Ginn and Company during the mid-1920s, the other listing the twenty-five Young People's Concerts written and conducted by Leonard Bernstein and broadcast worldwide on television from 1958 to 1970, now available on VHS and DVD.

Every New York City tour bus stops at Strawberry Fields; countless movies have been filmed at Bethesda Terrace; and concerts from the Great Lawn are broadcast throughout the nation. These places are all part of Central Park, America's first public park and a paragon of 19th-century landscape design. Marking the park's 150th anniversary, this first definitive history celebrates the splendor and significance of this national treasure. Sara Cedar Miller, the official historian and photographer for the Central Park Conservancy, draws on extensive research to tell the captivating story of the park's creation, placing it in the context of 19th-century American art and social history and illuminating the roles of its designers, Frederick Law Olmsted and Calvert Vaux, and their associate Jacob Wrey Mould. Fascinating period views and original plans and drawings, many previously unpublished, are complemented by Miller's breathtaking new photographs which reveal the restored park in all its glory. New York Magazine, 1980-10-20. Fortissimo William Murray, 2010-04-28 H L Mencken declared that the opera is to music what a bawdy house is to a cathedral It was not meant as a compliment but to William Murray former New Yorker staff writer and aspiring opera singer a bawdy house is an apt metaphor for the opera a place of confusion high and low drama fleshly pleasures and raucous song In Fortissimo Murray follows twelve young singers in the Lyric Opera of Chicago s training program the prestigious Opera Center for American Artists through the 2003 2004 season In the course of the year these singers attend countless coaching sessions inspiring master classes nerve racking auditions and grueling rehearsals and finally perform with some of the most celebrated names and spectacular egos in opera from Samuel Ramey to Jos Cura and Natalie Dessay While chronicling their progress Murray offers an insider s look at the different aspects of the opera world that influence a young singer s success a world filled with temperamental maestros ambitious directors old world tradition and sacred monsters Weaving recollections of his own days training in New York Rome and Milan in the 1950s with the personal and artistic struggles of the young singers in Chicago today Murray lays bare the staggering ambition and relentless will required to achieve a career in the arts As he writes Becoming a successful opera singer stepping out on a huge stage to try to fill the house with your voice to bring an audience of thirty six hundred people to its feet is as risky in its own peculiar way as embarking on a career as a matador You can triumph you can struggle to survive or you can perish from your wounds Fortissimo is a delicious tale of rising talents angst and heartache and small triumphs and the music that inspires it all
