Ramesside Ostraca:

Ramesside Ostraca Robert Johannes Demarée, British Museum, 2002 This volume is the first in the British Museum's Egyptian catalogue series to be devoted to ostraca as opposed to other inscribed media. It publishes in full the hieratic ostraca of the Ramesside Period, a large, rich and varied collection covering the entire range of known text types: documentary, literary and religious. It also includes the contemporary figured ostraca. Each ostrakon is presented with a photograph and where the text is in hieratic, transcriptions are provided. Archaeology and Apprenticeship Willeke Wendrich, 2013-01-01 Archaeologists study a wide array of material remains to propose conclusions about non-material aspects of culture. The intricacies of these findings have increased over recent decades but only limited attention has been paid to what the archaeological record can tell us about the transfer of cultural knowledge through apprenticeship. Apprenticeship is broadly defined as the transmission of culture through a formal or informal teacher-pupil relationship. This collection invites a wide discussion, citing case studies from all over the world and yet focuses the scholarship into a concise set of contributions. The chapters in this volume demonstrate how archaeology can benefit greatly from the understanding of the social dimensions of knowledge transfer. This book also examines apprenticeship in archaeology against a backdrop of sociological and cognitive psychology literature to enrich the understanding of the relationship between material remains and enculturation. Each of the authors in this collection looks specifically at how material remains can reveal several specific aspects of ancient cultures. What is the human potential for learning? How do people learn? Who is teaching? Why are they learning? What are the results of such learning? How do we recognize knowledge transfer in the archaeological record? These fundamental questions are featured in various forms in all chapters of the book. With case studies from the American Southwest, Alaska, Ancient Greece and Mesopotamia, this book will have broad appeal for scholars, particularly those concerned with cultural transmission and traditions of learning and education all over the world. Writing in a Workmen's Village K. Donker van Heel, B. J. J. Haring, 2003 Four studies on the daily practice of the scribes of Deir el Medina. Under the heading 'duplication' the first chapter looks into the use of drafts or mother copies and the second deals with the work of five individual scribes. Under the heading 'classification' the third chapter presents a survey of the words used by the scribes when referring to their products, the documents and the fourth looks at the method of reconstructing ancient classifications by the clustering of texts with identical headings. Together these chapters reconstruct the individual and collective habits of those who have produced the mass of texts found at Deir el Medina, the Valley of the Kings and the Valley of the Queens. The Hidden Language of Graphic Signs John Bodel, John P. Bodel, Stephen Houston, 2021-08-19 This book zeroes in on hidden writing and alternative systems of graphic notation, exploring writings that deflect attention from language. The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology Ian Shaw, Elizabeth Bloxam, 2020-11-10 The Oxford Handbook of Egyptology offers a comprehensive survey of the entire study of ancient Egypt from prehistory through to the end of the Roman period. It seeks to place Egyptology within its theoretical methodological and historical contexts indicating how the subject has evolved and discussing its distinctive contemporary problems issues and potential Transcending conventional boundaries between archaeological and ancient textual analysis the volume brings together 63 chapters that range widely across archaeological philological and cultural sub disciplines highlighting the extent to which Egyptology as a subject has diversified and stressing the need for it to seek multidisciplinary methods and broader collaborations if it is to remain contemporary and relevant Organized into ten parts it offers a comprehensive synthesis of the various sub topics and specializations that make up the field as a whole from the historical and geographical perspectives that have influenced its development and current characteristics to aspects of museology and conservation and from materials and technology as evidenced in domestic architecture and religious and funerary items to textual and iconographic approaches to Egyptian culture Authoritative yet accessible it serves not only as an invaluable reference work for scholars and students working within the discipline but also as a gateway into Egyptology for classicists archaeologists anthropologists sociologists and linguists

The Oxford Handbook of Wisdom and the Bible
Will Kynes, 2021-01-25 This collection of leading scholars presents reflections on both wisdom as a general concept throughout history and cultures as well as the contested nature of the category of Wisdom Literature The first half of the collection explores wisdom more generally with essays on its relationship to skill epistemology virtue theology and order Wisdom is examined in a number of different contexts such as historically in the Hebrew Bible and its related cultures in Egypt and Mesopotamia as well as in Patristic and Rabbinic interpretation Additionally wisdom is examined in its continuing relevance in Islamic Jewish and Christian thought as well as from feminist environmental and other contextual perspectives The second half of the volume considers Wisdom Literature as a category Scholars address its relation to the Solomonic Collection its social setting literary genres chronological development and theology Wisdom Literature's relation to other biblical literature law history prophecy apocalyptic and the broad question of Wisdom influence is then discussed before separate chapters on the texts commonly associated with the category Contributors take a variety of approaches to the current debates surrounding the viability and value of Wisdom Literature as a category and its proper relationship to the concept of wisdom in the Hebrew Bible Though the organization of the volume highlights the independence of wisdom as concept from Wisdom Literature as a category seeking to counter the lack of attention given to this question in the traditional approach the inclusion of both topics together in the same volume reflects their continued interconnection As such this handbook both represents the current state of Wisdom scholarship and sets the stage for future developments

Looking beyond the Text, 2025-02-13 Looking beyond the Text investigates the production transmission and reception of texts and manuscripts in ancient Egypt focusing on the complex practices and culture of the scribes who made them Drawing on theories and methods from other disciplines such as literary studies neuroscience and book history the authors discuss the physical practices of writing social contexts of texts and manuscripts and scribes themselves The papers examine a wide range of manuscripts including letters medical compendia poems religious corpora and other text genres written on varied media in different time periods The resulting collection offers new perspectives on the key role of scribes in ancient Egypt and models more contextualized and materially informed modes of philology The Routledge Companion to Ecstatic Experience in the Ancient World Diana Stein, Sarah Kielt Costello, Karen Polinger Foster, 2021-12-30 For millennia people have universally engaged in ecstatic experience as an essential element in ritual practice spiritual belief and cultural identification This volume offers the first systematic investigation of its myriad roles and manifestations in the ancient Mediterranean and Near East The twenty nine contributors represent a broad range of scholarly disciplines seeking answers to fundamental questions regarding the patterns and commonalities of this vital aspect of the past How was the experience construed and by what means was it achieved Who was involved Where and when were rites carried out How was it reflected in pictorial arts and written records What was its relation to other components of the sociocultural compact In proposing responses the authors draw upon a wealth of original research in many fields generating new perspectives and thought provoking often surprising conclusions With their abundant cross cultural and cross temporal references the chapters mutually enrich each other and collectively deepen our understanding of ecstatic phenomena thousands of years ago Another noteworthy feature of the book is its illustrative content including commissioned reconstructions of ecstatic scenarios and pairings of works of Bronze Age and modern psychedelic art Scholars students and other readers interested in antiquity comparative religion and the social and cognitive sciences will find much to explore in the fascinating realm of ecstatic experience in the ancient world From Single Sign to Pseudo-Script Ben Haring, 2018-01-03 Writing is not the only notation system used in literate societies Some visual communication systems are very similar to writing but work differently Identity marks are typical examples of such systems and this book presents a particularly well documented marking system used in Pharaonic Egypt as an exemplary case From Single Sign to Pseudo Script is the first book to fully discuss the nature and development of an ancient marking system its historical background and the fascinating story of its decipherment Chapters on similar systems in other cultures and on semiotic theory help to distinguish between unique and universal features Written by Egyptologist Ben Haring the book addresses scholars interested in marking systems writing literacy and the semiotics of visual communication With this publication the author exemplified how a close familiarity with a subject enables research in areas of Egyptian society that had not been touched until now and how the resulting insight is presented properly Eva Maria Engel Humboldt Universit t zu Berlin in Bibliotheca Orientalis 76 1 2 2019 This work should certainly become a guidebook to scholars wishing to publish ostraca of this sort who have in the past shied away from the complex task due to the enigmatic nature of the materials The time has arrived for this study of this hitherto neglected facet of Egyptian writing to find its fitting place in the history of literacy and script in Ancient Egypt as well as in the history of workmen s signs in general Orly Goldwasser The Hebrew University of Jerusalem in Journal of Near Eastern Studies 2019 78

2 The technical data and Egyptological scholarship of the book are deliberately made very accessible to be of assistance in the understanding of identity marks in other periods and cultures This is a remarkable work of social history George J Brooke in Journal for the Study of the Old Testament 43 5 2019 Childhood in Ancient Egypt Amandine Marshall, 2022-05-10 A groundbreaking account of how the ancient Egyptians perceived children and childhood from the Predynastic period to the end of the New Kingdom There could be no society no family and no social recognition without children The way in which children were perceived integrated and raised within the family and the community established the very foundations of Egyptian society Childhood in Ancient Egypt is the most comprehensive attempt yet published to reconstruct the everyday life of children from the Predynastic period to the end of the New Kingdom Drawing on a vast wealth of textual iconographic and archaeological sources stretching over a period of 3 500 years Amandine Marshall pieces together the portrait of a society in which children were ever present in a multiplicity of situations The ancient sources are primarily the expressions of male adults who were little inclined to take an interest in the condition of the child and the feelings of young Egyptians and all that touches on their emotional state can never be deduced from the sources Nevertheless by cross referencing and comparing thousands of documents Marshall has been able to explore how ancient Egyptians perceived children and childhood and whether children had a particular status in the eyes of the law society and the Egyptian state She examines the maintenance of the child and the care expended on its being and discusses the kinds of clothing jewelry and hairstyles children wore the activities that punctuated their daily lives the kinds of games and toys they enjoyed and what means were employed to protect them from illness evil spirits or ghosts Illustrated with 160 drawings and photographs this book sheds unprecedented light upon the experience of childhood in ancient Egypt and represents a major contribution to the growing field of ancient world childhood studies Mural Decoration in the Theban Necropolis Betsy M. Bryan, Peter F. Dorman, 2023-04-10 The tombs and mortuary temples of Thebes have proved an enduring topic of interest thanks to a quickly expanding corpus of field materials and a series of conferences devoted to the subject This volume the fourth in a series of occasional proceedings from the ongoing Theban Workshop presents new research on wall decoration in the Theban necropolis Its thirteen essays by an international array of leading scholars attest to the wide and varied scope of the theme Stone Canvas Pawel Lech Polkowski, 2023-03-27 This book presents proceedings of the conference devoted to rock art and graffiti studies in Egypt and Sudan that took place in Cairo from 10th to 12th November 2019 The thematic spectrum of the contributions is very wide in terms of both their geographical and their chronological range encompassing figural and textual sources dating from the Late Palaeolithic through the Predynastic Dynastic and Graeco Roman periods up to Christian and Islamic times Many of the papers combine evidence from various archaeological domains and also attempt to better integrate graffiti and rock art materials in search of a common ground for research Thus the volume provides a good overview of the current state of investigations in these two fields of study in Egypt and Nubia Visions of the End Times
