Lost Treasures of the Mediterranean World Robert Payne, 1962      The Lost Treasure of King Juba Frank Joseph, 2003-03-25 The story of a mysterious southern Illinois treasure cave and its proof of the presence of Africans in North America long before Columbus Includes over 100 photographs of the artifacts discovered Re creates the historic voyage of King Juba and his Mauretanian sailors across the Atlantic to rebuild their society in the New World Explains the mystery of the Washitaws a tribal group of African origin first encountered by the Lewis and Clark Expedition In 1982 Russell E Burrows a treasure hunter in southern Illinois stumbled on a cache of ancient weapons jewels and gold sarcophagi in a remote cave There also were stone tablets inscribed with illustrations of Roman like soldiers Jews early Christians and West African sailors These relics fueled a bitter controversy in the archaeological community regarding their authenticity leading Burrows to destroy the entrance to the cave Researching more than 7 000 artifacts removed from the cave before it was sealed Frank Joseph explains how these objects came to be buried in the middle of the United States It started with Cleopatra whose daughter was made queen of the semi independent realm of Mauretania present day Morocco which she ruled with her husband King Juba II Following the execution of their son Ptolemy by Emperor Caligula the Mauretanians rebelled against their Roman overlords and made their way into what is now Ghana There they constructed a fleet of ships for a transatlantic voyage to a land where they hoped to rebuild their kingdom safe from Roman rule They took with them a great prize unsuccessfully sought by two Roman emperors Cleopatra s golden treasure and King Juba s encyclopedic library of ancient wisdom Fully illustrated with many previously unpublished photographs of artifacts retrieved from the southern Illinois site The Lost Treasure of King Juba is a compelling story that could force us to rethink the early history of our nation and the possibility that Africans arrived on our continent nearly fifteen centuries before Columbus      Re-storying Mediterranean Worlds Angela Biancofiore, Clément Barniaudy, 2021-09-09 This book invites readers to think of Mediterranean cultures as interconnected worlds seen in light of how they evolve disappear are reborn and perpetually transform This perspective intends to build bridges between the Northern and Southern coasts of the sea in order to broaden and deepen our understanding of current evolutions in Mediterranean worlds at the cultural literary artistic and geopolitical levels As Paul Val ry suggested we can consider this plural space from the perspective of the intense cultural economic and human exchanges which have always characterized the Mare Nostrum We can also consider Mediterranean worlds within an open enactive process deeply exploring their evolution between nature and culture examining the natural environment and the transforming relationships between humans and non humans The writers and researchers in Re storying Mediterranean Worlds call for a dialog between the two coasts in order to connect what has been broken In this volume they highlight an intercultural and creolized conscience traversing the Mediterranean worlds including Italian French and Tunisian cultures but also migrations from to and within the region and transcending any idea of communitarian withdrawal These essays express the urgent need to shift from an understanding of migration as suffering to the notion that mobility is an unalienable right building foundations for a new idea of global citizenship Catalog of Copyright Entries.
