

The background of the image is a stylized, painterly illustration of a castle with three towers, each topped with a flag (red, blue, and red). The castle is set against a backdrop of large, billowing clouds in shades of yellow, orange, and pink, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. In the foreground, two characters are seen from behind, looking out over the scene. One character is a small, red, fox-like creature with large ears, and the other is a taller, human-like figure with brown hair, wearing a blue tunic. The overall style is whimsical and atmospheric.

The Twin in the

Transference Vivienne Lewin, 2018-05-16 The universal phantasy of having a twin originates in our earliest relational experiences This book is about twins and twinning processes The existence of an actual twin alive or dead may be experienced as an embodiment of the phantasy of having a twin with developmental consequences Twinning processes in twins lead to the creation of an internal twin relationship that is enduring The twin relationship may be at the narcissistic end of the spectrum leading to an enmeshed twinship or it may be a more mature object relationship All twin relationships will be manifest in the transference relationship with the analyst The twin transference has been largely neglected in the psychoanalytic literature to the detriment of our understanding of dynamic processes in twin patients In this book case material is used to explore the nature of the twin transference relationship and the necessity of analysing the twin transference as well as maternal and paternal transference relationships
