Loving Protection Australian Feminism And Aboriginal Womens Rights 1919 1939:

A Higher Authority: Indigenous Transnationalism and Australia Ravi De Costa, 2012 This important book recovers the long tradition of indigenous transnationalism contact with external people institutions ideas throughout Australia s history from before white settlement to the present Feminism and Protest Camps Catherine Eschle, Alison Bartlett, 2024-05-21 This groundbreaking collection interrogates protest camps as sites of gendered politics and feminist activism Drawing on case studies that range from Cold War women only peace camps to more recent mixed gender examples from around the world diverse contributors reflect on the recurrence of gendered racialised and heteronormative structures in protest camps and their potency and politics as feminist spaces While developing an intersectional analysis of the possibilities and limitations of protest camps this book also tells new and inspiring stories of feminist organising and agency It will appeal to feminist theorists and activists as well as to social movement scholars Documenting First Wave Feminisms Nancy Forestell, Maureen Moynagh, 2013-12-31 This book is the second of a two volume anthology of primary source documents on feminism in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Unique in its extensive treatment of the first wave feminist movement in Canada it highlights distinct elements of its origins and evolution The book is organized into thematic rubrics that address key issues debates and struggles within the first wave in Canada as well as international influences and Canadian engagement in transnational networks and initiatives Documents by Indigenous Anglophone Francophone and immigrant female activists demonstrate the richness and complexity of Canadian feminism during this period Together with its first volume Documenting First Wave Feminisms reveals a more nuanced picture attentive to nationalism and transnationalism of the first wave than has previously been understood Compelled to Act Sarah Carter, Nanci Langford, 2020-10-02 Compelled to Act showcases fresh historical perspectives on the diversity of women s contributions to social and political change in prairie Canada in the twentieth century including but looking beyond the era of suffrage activism In our current time of revitalized activism against racism colonialism violence and misogyny this volume reminds us of the myriad ways women have challenged and confronted injustices and inequalities The women and their activities shared in Compelled to Act are diverse in time place and purpose but there are some common threads In their attempts to correct wrongs achieve just solutions and create change women experienced multiple sites of resistance both formal and informal The acts of speaking out of organizing of picketing and protesting were characterized as unnatural for women as violations of gender and societal norms and as dangerous to the state and to family stability Still as these accounts demonstrate prairie women felt compelled to respond to women s needs to challenges to family security both health and economic and to the need for community They reacted with the resources at hand and beyond to support effective action joining the ranks of women all over the world seeking political and social agency to create a society more responsive to the needs of women and their children Cosmopolitan Lives on the Cusp of Empire Jane Haggis, Clare Midgley, Margaret

Allen, Fiona Paisley, 2017-05-23 This book looks back to the period 1860 to 1950 in order to grasp how alternative visions of amity and co existence were forged between people of faith both within and resistant to imperial contact zones It argues that networks of faith and friendship played a vital role in forging new vocabularies of cosmopolitanism that presaged the post imperial world of the 1950s In focussing on the diverse cosmopolitanisms articulated within liberal transnational networks of faith it is not intended to reduce or ignore the centrality of racisms and especially hegemonic whiteness in underpinning the spaces and subjectivities that these networks formed within and through Rather the book explores how new forms of cosmopolitanism could be articulated despite the awkward complicities and liminalities inhabited by individuals and characteristic of cosmopolitan thought zones

Skin Deep Liz Conor, 2016 Skin Deep looks at the preoccupations of European Australians in their encounters with Aboriginal women and the tropes types and perceptions that seeped into everyday settler colonial thinking Early erroneous and uninformed accounts of Aboriginal women and culture were repeated throughout various print forms and imagery both in Australia and in Europe with names dates and locations erased so that individual women came to be anonymized as gins and lubras The book identifies and traces the various tropes used to typecast Aboriginal women contributing to their lasting hold on the colonial imagination even after conflicting records emerged The colonial archive itself consisting largely of accounts by white men is critiqued in the book Construction of Aboriginal women's gender and sexuality was a form of colonial control and Skin Deep shows how the industrialization of print was critical to this control emerging as it did alongside colonial expansion For nearly all settlers typecasting Aboriginal women through name calling and repetition of tropes sufficed to evoke an understanding that was surface based and half knowing only skin deep Impressively researched written organized and presented highly recommended for community and academic library Aboriginal Studies Women's Studies Australian Studies and Colonial History reference collections Midwest Book Review MBR Bookwatch October 2016 Helen's Bookshelf Subject Cultural History Aboriginal Studies Women's Studies Australian Studies Colonial Studies

Harlem Nights Deirdre O'Connell, 2021-11-02 The 1920s were a time of wonder and flux when Australians sensed a world growing smaller turning faster and for some skittering off balance American movies music and dance brought together what racial lines kept apart A spirit of youthful rebellion collided with the promise of racial perfectibility stirring deep anxieties in white nationalists and moral reformers African American jazz represented the type of modernism that cosmopolitan Australians craved and the champions of White Australia feared Enter Sonny Clay's Colored Idea Snuck in under the wire by an astute promoter the Harlem style revue broke from the usual blackface minstrel fare delivering sophisticated liberating rhythms The story of their Australian tour is a tale of conspiracy a secret plan to kick out and keep out undesirable expressions of modernism music and race From the wild jazz clubs of Prohibition era LA to Indigenous women discovering a new world of black resistance this anatomy of a scandal fuelled frame up brings into focus a vibrant cast of characters from Australia's Jazz Age

Documenting First Wave Feminisms Maureen Moynagh, Nancy

Forestell,2012-01-14 Contemporary feminists are used to juggling many different identities at once balancing affiliations based on race nation class and sexuality First wave feminists also negotiated or failed to negotiate similar tensions in their international organizing Using primary documents dating from the abolitionist movement to the Second World War Maureen Moynagh and Nancy Forestell investigate the tensions inherent in organizing early transnational feminist movements Documenting First Wave Feminisms Volume 1 provides a historical framework to bring together voices of women both canonical and less well known from Mary Wollstonecraft to Mabel Dove who were active in feminist movements in all corners of the world Suffrage imperialism citizenship sexuality and moral reform are shown to be key issues in a variety of exchanges across North America Europe the global south and the Pan Pacific region This source book is as nuanced as first wave feminism itself and will prove a valuable resource for studying women s rights in an increasingly globalized world

Demanding Equality Joan Sangster,2021-06-15 For one hundred years women fashioned different dreams of social transformation in their search for equality autonomy and dignity yet what is Canadian feminism Demanding Equality offers illustrations of feminist thought and organizing from mid nineteenth century Enlightenment inspired writing to the multi issue movement of the 1980s

Broadening our definition of feminism and recognizing that its political cultural and social dimensions are entangled Joan Sangster explores the different pathways pursued to gain equality She challenges the popular wave theory concluding that feminist activism was continuous despite changing significantly across decades Demanding Equality presents a picture of a heterogeneous movement characterized by both alliances and fierce internal debates This comprehensive rear view look at feminism in all its political guises encourages a wider public conversation about what Canadian feminism has been is and should be

Writing Transnational History Fiona Paisley, Pamela Scully, 2019-09-19 Over the past two decades transnational history has become an established term describing approaches to the writing of world or global history that emphasise movement dynamism and diversity This book investigates the emergence of the transnational as an approach its limits and parameters It focuses particular attention on the contributions of postcolonial and feminist studies in reformulating transnational historiography as a move beyond the national to one focusing on oceans the movement of people and the contributions of the margins It ends with a consideration of developing approaches such as translocalism The book considers the new kinds of history that need to be written now that the transnational perspective has become widespread Providing an accessible and engaging chronology of the field it will be key reading for students of historiography and world history

Critical Perspectives on Colonialism Fiona Paisley, Kirsty Reid, 2013-11-20 This collection brings much needed focus to the vibrancy and vitality of minority and marginal writing about empire and to their implications as expressions of embodied contact between imperial power and those negotiating its consequences from below The chapters explore how less powerful and less privileged actors in metropolitan and colonial societies within the British Empire have made use of the written word and of the power of speech public performance and street politics This book breaks new ground by combining work about marginalized figures from within Britain as well as counterparts in the colonies ranging from published sources such as indigenous newspapers to ordinary and everyday writings including diaries letters petitions ballads suicide notes and more Each chapter engages with the methodological implications of working with everyday scribbles and asks what these alternate modernities and histories mean for the larger critique of the imperial archive that has shaped much of the most interesting writing on empire in the past decade
