Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce,1962 The Unctad Liner Code Lawrence Juda,2019-07-11 The UNCTAD Liner Code United States Maritime Policy at the Crossroads Lawrence Juda World shipping vital to international trade is now going through a period of radical change The UNCTAD Code of Conduct for Liner Conferences is an important manifestation of that change reflecting the pressures exerted by developing countries for a New International Economic Order and for modifications in the system of international trade The code best known for its provisions on liner cargo allocations includes a number of other very significant stipulations important for U S policy For several years the United States has opposed the convention and acted on the assumption that the EEC countries Japan and other developed states would not ratify it Now that ratification appears imminent the United States may find itself isolated and exposed to a number of problems whose impacts may be felt not only in maritime affairs but also in trade diplomacy and security This study examines the nature provisions and possible effects of the UNCTAD Liner Code Dr Juda evaluates how the regime of the code compares with the present U S framework for liner regulations and promotion then outlines and assesses the major policy options available to the United States given the positions taken by the developing states and the EEC The book is based on interviews with key officials and on U N and U S government documents Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries United States. to aid in development of nuclear powered merchant ships to promote expansion of merchant and fishing fleets to enter into five year experimental operating subsidies for U S ships in foreign commerce and to establish a Commission on American Shipbuilding Discriminatory Ocean Freight Rates and the Balance of Payments United States. Congress. Joint Economic Committee. Subcommittee on Federal Procurement and Regulation, 1965 Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Liner Shipping Economics Jan Jansson, Dan Shneerson, 1987 The importance of international liner shipping needs little emphasizing A large majority of international trade moves by sea and the liner shipping share in total freight revenue exceeds one half Notwithstanding people in general know surprisingly little about the basic facts of the liner shipping industry and in particular about the economics of liner shipping Perhaps because it is an international industry where shipping lines flying many different flags participate it has tended to fall in between national accounts of domestic industries Even transport economists have generally speaking treated liner shipping rather stepmotherly besides the work of Bennathan and Walters 1969 a relatively small group of specialized maritime economists including A Stromme Svendsen T Thorburn S Sturme R Goss and B M Deakin have in the post war period made important contributions to the subject but so far no coherent and reasonably comprehensive treatise of liner shipping economics has appeared The first purpose of the present volume is therefore obvious to provide just that The book is divided in three parts Part I The liner shipping industry Part II Liner service optimization Part III Economic evaluation of the conference system Needless to say all three parts concur to fulfill the first purpose of providing a complete book of liner shipping economics In Part II a more or less separate second purpose has been to develop analytical tools for liner service optimization Thereby we use different approaches
