Meditation and Kabbalah Aryeh Kaplan, 1995-01-01 The Kabbalah is divided into three branches the theoretical the meditative and the practical While many books both in Hebrew and English have explored the theoretical Kabbalah virtually nothing has been published regarding the meditative methods of these schools This is the first book published in any language that reveals the methodology of the Kabbalists and stresses the meditative techniques that were essential to their discipline Kaplan offers a lucid presentation of the mantras mandalas and other devices used by these schools as well as a penetrating interpretation of their significance in light of contemporary meditative research In addition Meditation and Kabbalah presents relevant portions of such meditative texts as the Greater Hekhalot textbook of the Merkava School the writings of Abraham Abulafia Joseph Gikatilia's Gates of Holiness Gate of the Holy Spirit textbook of the Lurianic School and the important meditative hasidic classics Also investigated is the intriguing possibility suggested by the Zohar that the meditative methods of the East might have been derived from the mystical techniques of the prophets

Religious Regimes and State Formation Eric R. Wolf,1991-01-01 This book intends to systematically overcome the received practice of treating religion and politics as wholly separate and independent domains It studies power and meaning in their antagonistic interdependencies rather than approaching religion purely as a realm of meaning without reference to issues of power or dealing with politics as the province of power without raising questions of meaning Religion and politics are thus seen in relation to one another and attention is focused on the disputes about how political and religious regimes should be formed Religious Regimes and State Formation will convince the reader that god and politics have much in common and offers surprising new perspectives on old problems
