Stephen King's Contemporary Classics Philip L. Simpson, Patrick McAleer, 2014-11-13 Many readers know Stephen King for his early works of horror from his fiction debut Carrie to his blockbuster novels The Shining, The Stand and Misery among others. While he continues to be a best selling author, King's more recent fiction has not received the kind of critical attention that his books from the 1970s and 1980s enjoyed. Recent novels like Duma Key and 11/22/63 have been marginalized and arguably cast aside as anomalies within the author's extensive canon. In Stephen King's Contemporary Classics: Reflections on the Modern Master of Horror, Philip L. Simpson and Patrick McAleer present a collection of essays that analyze, assess, and critique King's post-1995 compositions. Purposefully side-stepping studies of earlier work, these essays are arranged into three main parts: the first section examines five King novels published between 2009 and 2013, offering genuinely fresh scholarship on King; the second part looks at the development of King's distinct brand of horror; the third section departs from probing the content of King's writing and instead focuses on King's process. By concentrating on King's most recent writings, this collection offers provocative insights into the author's work, featuring essays on Dr. Sleep, Duma Key, The Girl Who Loved Tom Gordon, Joyland, Under the Dome, and others. As such, Stephen King's Contemporary Classics will appeal to general fans of the author's work as well as scholars of Stephen King and modern literature.

Anthology of Contemporary Clinical Classics in Analytical Psychology Stefano Carpani, 2022-04-06 2022 Grady Award nominee for Best Edited Book. This anthology of contemporary classics in analytical psychology brings together academic, scholarly, and clinical writings by contributors who constitute the post-Jungian generation. Carpani brings together important contributions from the Jungian world to establish the new ancestors in this field in order to serve future generations of Jungian analysts, scholars, historians, and students. This generation of clinicians and scholars has shaped the contemporary Jungian landscape, and their work continues to inspire discussions on key topics including archetypes, race, gender, trauma, and complexes. Each contributor has selected a piece of their work which they feel best represents their research and clinical interests, each aiding the expansion of current discussions on Jung and contemporary analytical psychology studies. Spanning two volumes, which are also accessible as standalone books, this essential collection will be of interest to Jungian analysts and therapists as well as to academics and students of Jungian and post-Jungian studies.

Renaissance of Classical Allusions in Contemporary Russian Media Svtlana Malykhina,2014-02-27 Renaissance of Classical Allusions in Contemporary Russian Media builds on a growing body of work concerning post Soviet media culture during the last transformative decade Making sense of the literary allusions in media discourse Svtlana Malykhina reminds us that allusions can serve as a primary marker of identity national and cultural and may also be a way of negotiating the gap between what has to be reported and what can be banned by censorship Malykhina presents the changes and continuities between rhetoric strategies of Soviet style media and postcommunist Russian media identifying the key literary and historical references in public discourse which are then picked up by the media The book analyzes the political cultural and social factors at play in the development and expansion of these allusions in both official and alternative discourses Examining the rise of the Internet which has remained wholly uncensored in Russia Malykhina reveals that the Russian Internet media began to function as alternative mass media Yet the success of the Internet media has also brought complex and unintended consequences Malykhina offers an empirically rich examination of conventional classical allusions in media discourse focusing mainly on the rhetorical techniques by which subversive meanings of these references were generated

Modern Hungarian Culture and the Classics Péter Hajdu,2024-06-13 P ter Hajdu examines the cultivation of the Classics as an intellectual framework and crucial ingredient of the western aspect of Hungarian national identity This book approaches the relationship of modern Hungarian culture to classical heritage from the various viewpoints of identity politics education translation history scholarship and its impact on literature When the Hungarian nation building project developed ideas of national identity it necessarily incorporated the historical narrative according to which the Hungarians arrived at their current homeland in the Middle Ages and only later did it adopt European culture The duplicity of a mostly imagined Asian pagan barbaric or nomadic culture and a Western Christian civilized identity deeply rooted in European culture has played and continues to play a role in the Hungarian discourse Hajdu also studies the gradual disappearance of classics from the Hungarian school education since the 19th century which has been accompanied by fervid political debates However over this period translations of classical texts paradoxically became more frequent and popular with the decline of a classical education even though fewer readers had access to the original texts Despite this change the translation strategies tended to remain school bound The knowledge of classical literature still leaves traces on Hungarian literature which Hajdu explores using examples from nineteenth century novels and contemporary poetry This book sheds light on a topic of classical reception that has remained largely unexplored in this part of Europe but one which has an incredibly rich history culture and literary tradition

Contemporary Sino-French Cinemas Michelle E. Bloom, 2017-11-30 Transnational cinemas are eclipsing national cinemas in the contemporary world and Sino French films exemplify this phenomenon through the cinematic coupling of the Sinophone and the Francophone linking France not just with the Chinese mainland but also with the rest of the Chinese speaking world Sinophone directors most often reach out to French cinema by referencing and adapting it They set their films in Paris and metropolitan France cast French actors and sometimes use French dialogue even when the directors themselves don't understand it They tend to view France as mysterious sexy and sophisticated just as the French see China and Taiwan as exotic As Michelle E Bloom makes clear many films move past a simplistic opposition between East and West and beyond Orientalist and Occidentalist cross cultural interplay Bloom focuses on films that have appeared since 2000 such as Tsai Ming liang's What Time Is It There Hou Hsiao hsien's Flight of the Red Balloon and Dai Sijie's Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress She views the work of these well known directors through a Sino French optic applying the tropes of métissage or biraciality intertextuality adaptation and remake translation and imitation to shed new light on their work She also calls attention to important lesser studied films Taiwanese director Cheng Yu chieh's Yang Yang which depicts the up and coming Taiwanese star Sandrine Pinna as a mixed race beauty and Emily Tang Xiaobai's debut film Conjugation which contrasts Paris and post Tiananmen Square Beijing the one an incarnation of liberty the other a place of entrapment Bloom's insightful analysis also probes what such films reveal about their Taiwanese and Chinese creators Scholars have long studied Sino French literature but this inaugural full length work on Sino French cinema maps uncharted territory offering a paradigm for understanding other cross cultural interminglings and tools to study transnational cinema and world cinema The Sino French rich and multifaceted linguistically culturally and ethnically constitutes an important part of film studies Francophone studies Sinophone studies and myriad other fields This is a must read for students scholars and lovers of film

Japanese Classical Theater in Films

Keiko I. McDonald, 1994 Noh Kabuki and Bunraku are the three distinct genres of classical theater that have made Japan's dramatic art unique. The audience steeped in these traditional theatrical forms sees many aspects of stage conventions in Japanese cinema. This intimacy makes the aesthetic intellectual experience of films more enriching. Japanese Classical Theater in Films aims at heightening such awareness in the West: the awareness of the influence that these three major dramatic genres have had on Japan's cinematic tradition. Using an eclectic critical framework, a solid combination of historical and cultural approaches reinforced with formalist and auteurist perspectives, Keiko I. McDonald undertakes this much-needed ambitious task. A History of Classical Scholarship from the Sixth Century B.C. to the End of the Middle Ages John Edwin Sandys, 1921 A History of Classical Scholarship. Vol. 1. from the Sixth Century B.c. to the End of the Middle Ages. Third Edition. , MARTIN EDEN (Modern Classics Series) Jack London, 2024-01-16 In Martin Eden Jack London crafts a semi-autobiographical narrative centered around the titular character, a struggling writer and sailor who grapples with the complexities of individualism, class struggle, and the quest for personal identity. Through a naturalistic style, London immerses readers in the early 20th-century socio-economic landscape of America, where Eden's ambition clashes with societal expectations and romantic idealism. The novel unfolds as a poignant exploration of self-education, artistic aspiration, and the often-painful journey toward self-actualization, reflected in London's rich prose and vivid characterizations. Jack London, a prominent figure in American literature, was no stranger to hardship. Born into poverty, he experienced the stark realities of life on the fringes of society, fueling his passionate advocacy for social reform and the working class. His own struggles as a writer and personal experiences resonated deeply in the character of Martin Eden, embodying London's own aspirations and frustrations as an artist in a rapidly changing world. This autobiographical element lends a raw authenticity to the narrative, revealing the author's profound beliefs in the importance of individual will and the fight against societal constraints. Martin Eden is a compelling read for anyone interested in the tumultuous intersection of art and life. Its exploration of existential themes and the price of ambition is as relevant today as it was over a century ago. Readers will find themselves reflected in Eden's journey, making this modern classic an essential addition to any literary collection, offering timeless insights into the human condition and the relentless pursuit of one's dreams. Routledge Handbook of Post Classical and Contemporary Persian Literature Kamran Talattof, 2023-06-05 Routledge Handbook of Post Classical and Contemporary Persian Literature contains scholarly essays and sample texts related to Persian literature from the 17th century to the present day.
