Lucy Bettesworth:

Lucy Bettesworth George Sturt, 1913      Lucy Bettesworth George Sturt, 1978 George Sturt 1863 1927 was a British wheelwright and writer who usually wrote under the pen name George Bourne A native of Surrey he inherited his father's workshop in the rural village of Bourne near Farnborough in 1894 and began to record the daily lives and recollections of his rural family and acquaintances which he published towards the end of his life This volume first published in 1913 contains Sturt's descriptions of characters and traditions of the village in which he lived Through conversations with his gardener and labourer Fred Bettesworth and his own experiences Sturt vividly and sensitively describes the community hardships daily lives and experiences of a variety of characters from his rural agricultural village including Fred's wife Lucy Bettesworth Written with a keen sense of the fragile nature of this community this volume provides a valuable record of a now vanished way of life      The Living Age, 1906      Women of the Fields Karen Sayer, 1995 Item describes the work that women did in agriculture as seen in the parliamentary reports of 1843 1967 sic 1867 and the 1890s and the meanings given to that work in the local and national press farming advice books autobiographies and the art and literature of the period back cover

Littell's Living Age, 1906      Blackwood's Magazine, 1906      The Rural Tradition William J. Keith, 1974-12-15 There is probably no single quality or characteristic besides love of the countryside that must inevitably distinguish a rural writer notes W J Keith However what distinguishes rural writing that belongs to literature from that belonging to natural history agricultural history etc is as Richard E Haymaker has observed the writer's means of revealing Nature as well as describing her In the final analysis the rural essayist paints neither landscapes nor self portraits instead he communicates the subtle relationship between himself and his environment offering for our inspection his own attitudes and his own vision We may be asked to look or to agree but more than anything else we are invited to share Ultimately then the best rural writing may be said to provide us in a phrase adapted from Robert Langbaum with a prose of experience Keith argues that non-fiction rural prose should be recognized as a distinct literary tradition that merits serious critical attention In this book he tests the cogency of thinking in terms of a rural tradition examines the critical problems inherent in such writing and traces significant continuities between rural writers Eleven of the more important and influential writers from the seventeenth century to modern times come under individual scrutiny Izaak Walton Gilbert White William Cobbett Mary Russell Mitford George Borrow Richard Jefferies George Sturt George Bourne W H Hudson Edward Thomas Williamson and H J Massingham In examining these writers within the context of the rural tradition Keith rescues their works from the literary attic where they have too often been relegated as awkward misfits When studied together each throws fascinating light on the others and is seen to fit into a loose but nonetheless discernible line      The Wheelwright's Shop George Sturt, 1963 George Sturt's account of his trade as a wheelwright offers a unique glimpse into the working lives of late nineteenth century craftsmen Copyright Libri GmbH All rights reserved      Who's who Henry Robert Addison, Charles Henry Oakes, William John
