James R. Briscoe

Second Silence:

Twice Removed Ralph Angel, 2001 A brilliant new collection by the winner of the James Laughlin Award Psycurity Rachel Jane Liebert, 2018-10-26 Across the world the rhetoric and violence of white supremacy is rising up Yet explanations for white supremacist attacks typically direct attention toward an unreasonable paranoid state of mind and away from the neocolonial security state that made them Offering a response to US expressions of white supremacy Liebert reads paranoia as a disease of coloniality by following its circulation within the ultimate place of reason indeed a key arbitrator of it Psychology Through reflexivity interviews participant observation scientific artefacts and public art this unique work seeks to argue for and experiment with unsettling the entwined coloniality of Psychology and the current political moment joining with struggles for a world where it is not only white lives that matter Tracing the spinning cogs and affective coils of the prodromal movement a program of research that capturing potential psychosis illustrates the serpentine workings of a control society Liebert argues that within a context of psycurity paranoia hides as reasonable suspicion predicts the future brands threatening bodies and grows through fear thereby seeping into the cracks of white supremacy stabilizing it Catching this argument as itself enacting psycurity she then engages the more than human to search for paranoia's decolonizing otherworldly potential one that may revive the psyche's breath of psychologies too Calling for psychologies to leave Psychology's comfort zone and make space for imagination this performative interdisciplinary work will engage students researchers and activists from an array of disciplines who wish to examine a critical and creative response to present day racism and fascism

Becker, 2022-02-23 Evil and Givenness The Thanatonic Phenomenon provides a phenomenological study of evil in its conceptual integrity Describing a phenomenological situation exclusive to evil in its distinct mode of givenness and manners of manifestation the account of evil in this book centers on the thanatonic as that phenomenality proper to evil Although situated within a phenomenology of givenness via Jean Luc Marion the thanatonic is distinguished from saturated phenomena

by giving itself in a parasitic mode Brian W Becker identifies four figures as displaying characteristics of this parasitic givenness trauma evil eye foreign body and abject each expressing a dimension of the thanatonic and paralleling the four figures of the saturated phenomenon Like the four horsemen who serve as heralds for the destruction of the world these figures beckon the destruction of our lifeworld diminishing the self who encounters them Upon losing the will to bear the excess of saturated phenomena the receding of horizons and the loss of singularity this impoverished self misrecognizes itself in a manner that begins to resemble the metaphysical ego and in doing so becomes a vector for retransmitting the thanatonic s suffering unto others On Diseases of the Chest, Including Diseases of the Heart and Great Vessels: Their Pathology, Physical Diagnosis, Symptoms, and Treatment Henry William Fuller (M.D.),1862

Music Performance Encounters John Koslovsky,Michiel Schuijjer,2023-11-29 Why do most musical performers and musical researchers continue to inhabit divergent epistemic spaces To what extent is the act of musical performance coextensive with the act of doing musical research and vice versa At what point in the research process can a performative act transform into a scholarly one and a scholarly act into a performative one These and other related questions form the central focus of this book with each chapter offering a fresh perspective on a particular topic in music performance studies improvisational traditions historical performance practices analysis and performance sports psychology cross cultural musical interactions and institutional challenges This book is aimed at music researchers teachers students and practising musicians interested in the intersection of academic and performance research as such it seeks to bridge the divide between the research of university trained musicologists scholars from other fields who focus on music and the growing community of musical artist researchers Material in this book is supported by performance outcomes offered by the contributors on a separate YouTube channel and on the Routledge online portal

Courtroom Talk and Neocolonial

Control Diana Eades,2008-09-25 The book uses critical sociolinguistic analysis to examine the social consequences of courtroom talk The focus of the study is the cross examination of three Australian Aboriginal boys who were prosecution witnesses in the case of six police officers charged with their abduction The analysis reveals how the language mechanisms allowed by courtroom rules of evidence serve to legitimize neocolonial control over Indigenous people In the propositions and assertions made in cross examination and their adoption by judicial decision makers the three boys were constructed not as victims of police abuse but rather in terms of difference deviance and delinquency This identity work addresses fundamental issues concerning what it means to be an Aboriginal young person as well as constraints about how to perform or live this identity and the rights to which Aboriginal people can lay claim while legitimizing police control over their freedom of movement Understanding this courtroom talk requires analysis of the sociopolitical and historical actions and structures within which the courtroom hearing was embedded Through this analysis the interrelatedness of structure agency constraint and change which is central to critical sociolinguistics becomes apparent In its investigation of language ideologies that underpin courtroom talk as well as the details of how language is used and the social consequences of this talk the book highlights the need for far reaching changes to courtroom rules of evidence We Are Having This Conversation Now

Alexandra Juhasz,Theodore Kerr,2022-08-08 We Are Having This Conversation Now offers a history present and future of AIDS through thirteen short conversations between Alexandra Juhasz and Theodore Kerr scholars deeply embedded in HIV responses They establish multiple timelines of the epidemic offering six foundational periodizations of AIDS culture tracing how attention to the crisis has waxed and waned from the 1980s to the present They begin the book with a 1990 educational video produced by a Black health collective using it to consider organizing intersectionally theories of videotape empowerment movements and memorialization This video is one of many powerful yet overlooked objects that the pair focus on through conversation to understand HIV across time Along the way they share their own artwork activism and stories of the epidemic Their conversations illuminate the vital role personal experience community cultural production and connection play in the creation of AIDS related knowledge archives and social change Throughout Juhasz and Kerr invite readers to reflect and find ways to engage in their own AIDS related culture and conversation The Drama ,1924 Drama

Yvonne Rainer Yvonne Rainer,1989-12-22 To read Rainer s screenplays is to rediscover even reinvent the films all over again but more importantly to realize that images and mise en sc ne are as key to how Rainer s films work as is language The Independent The scripts record the unique structure of Rainer s films the stresses strains and crackling of voices layering over and into one another Their publication is an important moment for feminist film Cineaste Rainer s films are not highly accessible but are important to the critical imagination as an example of the sustained exploration of political and feminist theory Choice Rainer s important work in the area of avant garde filmmaking in the seventies and eighties is amply recorded in this book Cantrills Filmnotes The scripts of Rainer s five films presented here along with essays an interview and bibliography demonstrate the evolution of her political consciousness as well as her creative engagement with the contemporary film and cultural scene These texts challenge the illusionist and ideological presumptions of mainstream culture and cinema
