Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature , 1907      Casting off the Veil Sania Sharawi Lanfranchi, 2012-11-06 In 1923 when the pioneer of feminist activism Huda Shaarawi removed her veil in Cairo s train station she created what became a landmark and much copied gesture for feminists throughout Egypt and the Middle East and cemented her status as one of the most important feminists in twentieth century Egypt In Casting off the Veil her granddaughter Sania Sharawi Lanfranchi uses never before seen letters and photographs to explore the life and thought of Egypt s first feminist as she campaigned against British occupation as well as striving to improve conditions for women throughout the country From her birth into a wealthy and powerful family her early years spent in a harem to her iconic status as one of the most influential feminists in Middle Eastern history this is a fascinating portrait of a determined and ground breaking woman a rich and important story which will captivate everyone with an interest in Egyptian feminist or colonial history      The Revolution in International Relations E.F. Penrose, 2019-06-04 Published in 1965 The study examines the changing structure and pattern of international relations in a world wide context Defining balance of power in a dynamic sense akin to that of a moving equilibrium      A Bookman's Catalogue Vol. 1 A-L T. Bose, Paul Tiessen, 2011-11-01 The Colbeck collection was formed over half a century ago by the Bournemouth bookseller Norman Colbeck Focusing primarily on British essayists and poets of the nineteenth century from the Romantic Movement through the Edwardian era the collection features nearly 500 authors and lists over 13 000 works Entries are alphabetically arranged by author with copious notes on the condition and binding of each copy Nine appendices provide listings of selected periodicals series publications anthologies yearbooks and topical works      The Accidental Tourist, Wilfrid Scawen Blunt, and the British Invasion of Egypt in 1882 Michael D. Berdine, 2020-11-25 This fascinating account highlights the extent the world's major powers will go to as they seek to insure their own interests and agendas despite the wishes of those whose countries they invade and occupy The Accidental Tourist profiles Wilfrid Scawen Blunt's involvement in the so-called Arabi Revolt in 1882 It addresses Blunt's tireless efforts on behalf of the Egyptian Nationalists to mediate the differences between Britain and Egypt and prevent a British invasion of Egypt It highlights what amounted to a government cover up of the actions of certain governmental officials to precipitate the invasion by falsifying intelligence information and manipulating the press It also takes to task the scholarly tradition of maligning Blunt and questioning the accuracy of his version of the events of 1882 Blunt was branded a traitor in the House of Commons This book was written to set the record straight It is ideal reading for those interested in the field of Middle Eastern Imperial or Colonial history and will provide readers with a better understanding of the real story of imperialism that went on at the time and is still going on in the Middle East today      The life of Henry Labouchere Algar Thorold, 2025-03-02 Some forty miles south of Bayonne on the right bank of the Gave lies the little town of Orthez the ancient capital of Bearn Famous for the obstinacy of its resistance to the apostolic spirit of Louis XIV and the excellence of its manufactured cloth Orthez was further distinguished during the Wars of Religion by the possession of a Protestant university founded by Jeanne d'Albret in which Theodore Beza was professor In 1664 the most Christian King sent his intendant Foucault to deal with the nest of heretics Foucault did not waste time in theological subtleties but gave the inhabitants twenty days in which to conform under penalty of a dragoonade They did so unanimously but there still remain more Protestants in Orthez than in any other town of Bearn      Bookseller's catalogues Thornton J. and son, 1883      Palmers' Index to the Times Newspaper, 1907      The Annual Index to the Times, 1907      Echoes of Success: Identity and the Highland Regiments Ian Stuart Kelly, 2015-03-31 In Echoes of Success Ian Stuart Kelly uses new information about late Victorian Scottish Highland battalions to provide new insights into how groups identify themselves and pass that sense on to successive generations of soldiers Kelly applies concepts from organisational theory the study of how organisations function to demonstrate how soldiers' experiences create a blueprint of expected behaviours and thought patterns that contribute to their battalion's continued success This model manages the interplay between public perception and actual life experiences more effectively than current approaches to understanding identity Also Kelly's primary research offers a more certain description of soldiers' life faith education and discipline than has previously been available      Egypt James Whidden, 2017-06-26 This book is a comprehensive portrait of the British colony in Egypt which also takes a fresh look at the examples of colonial cultures memorably enshrined in Edward W Said's classic Orientalism Arguing that Said's analysis offered only the dominant discourse in imperial and colonial narratives it uses private papers letters memoirs as well as the official texts histories and government reports to reveal both dominant and muted discourses While imperial sentiment certainly set the standards and sealed the image of a ruling caste culture the investigation of colonial sentiment reveals a more diverse colony in temperament and lifestyles often intimately rooted in the Egyptian setting The method involves providing biographical treatments of a wide range of colonials and the sometimes contradictory responses to specific colonial locations historical junctures and seminal events like invasion and war or grand imperial projects including the Alexandria municipality

From Empire to Orient Geoffrey Nash, 2005-07-27

From Empire to Orient offers an alternative perspective on Britain's late imperial period by looking at the lives and the writings of the men who chose to defy the conventional social and political attitudes of the British ruling classes towards the Near East Between the Greek revolt in 1830 and the fall of the Caliphate in 1924 a different kind of voice was heard that was both anti Imperialist and pro Islamic Geoffrey Nash places David Urquhart's passionate belief in the ideal of municipal government in Turkey W S Blunt's enthusiasm for the Egyptian reformers of the Azhar E G Browne's zeal for the Persian revolution and Marmaduke Pickthall's pained advocacy of the cause of the Young Turks into their political and historical context and into the context of their writings The author argues that the actions of these men represented a distinctive identification with the Islamic world and of the involvement of the West in its politics By condemning Britain's manoeuvres and choice of allies in the Near East each of these writers embellished a narrative of betrayal and a breach with the British educated classes view of the Islamic East Through the lives and writings of these men who identified so passionately with the Islamic world Nash offers a fascinating perspective on Britain's late imperial period
