The Bad Secret Judith Harris, 2006-04-01 The Bad Secret takes readers on a dark yet sometimes comic sojourn through the undercurrents of a life suddenly unmoored by grief and then to the subsequent rise of the spirit to recovery Tough minded and intellectual Judith Harris's poems are also distinguished by brilliant images close to metaphysical They reflect on childhood nature mental and physical illness the loss of a mother and the levity of being simply human In a voice entirely her own Harris confronts life's secrets with their hidden meanings inspired by guilt and redemption offering a music of tenderness and hope I watch it gutter down over the pine's edge over the pink and orange sunset diving into the abyss with its wings perpendicular to the ravine By now I have broken off from the rest pretending I'm an orphan my eyes fixed on the unseeable destruction of my ghost in that suicidal machine Hush I say as if hatred was a sound as if I could make the negative positive but nature itself has given up on the picture of my happy family and pretends not to look at the box with the rolled up Kodak film tumbling over the ledge gathering more weight and velocity My Father Throws His Camera Down the Grand Canyon 1968
