Lost Arrow And Other True Stories:

Lost Arrow Scott C. Davis, 1995 Lost Arrow and Other True Stories contains eleven nonfiction tales based on the author's life. He is a rock climber, foreign traveler, and carpenter. Also, he spent 14 years tracing the obscure roots of a small African American community where he lived and worked after graduating from Stanford in 1970. Rather than examining his subjects from the outside, Scott C. Davis reports from within. He is engaged in a position which yields special insight and gives the reader an opportunity to delve into distinctly different worlds.

Protest or Propaganda Aarnoud R van der Deijl, 2008-08-31 In this study the war stories from the Old Testament book of Kings are compared to ten extrabiblical texts Narratological analysis is applied to deconstruct the ideology of the respective literary compositions The Old Testament ideology of war seems to be neither typically Israelite as Gerhardt von Rad put it nor commonly Ancient Near Eastern as Manfred Weippert thought it to be This poses the question whether the reading experience of biblical war stories is so very different from for instance Assyrian royal inscriptions both in terms of its literary value and its ideological bias Narratological analysis turns out to be a strong tool for explaining the similarities and distinctive features of the respective texts
