The Princeton Anthology of Writing John McPhee, Carol Rigolot, 2021-09-14 In 1957 long before colleges awarded degrees in creative nonfiction and back when newspaper writing's reputation was tainted by the fish it wrapped Princeton began honoring talented literary journalists Since then fifty nine of the finest most dedicated and most decorated nonfiction writers have held the Ferris and McGraw professorships This monumental volume harbors their favorite and often most influential works Each contribution is rewarding reading and collectively the selections validate journalism's ascent into the esteem of the academy and the reading public Necessarily eclectic and delightfully idiosyncratic the fifty nine pieces are long and short political and personal comic and deadly serious Students will be provoked by William Greider's pointed critique of the democracy industry eerily entertained by Leslie Cockburn's fraternization with the Cali cartel inspired by David K Shipler's thoughts on race unsettled by Haynes Johnson's account of Bay of Pigs survivors and moved by Lucinda Frank's essay on a mother fighting to save a child born with birth defects Many of the essays are finely crafted portraits Charlotte Grimes's biography of her grandmother Blair Clark's obituary for Robert Lowell and Jane Kramer's affecting story of a woman hero of the French Resistance Other contributions to savor include Harrison Salisbury on the siege of Leningrad Landon Jones on the 1950s Christopher Wren on Soviet mountaineering James Gleick on technology Gloria Emerson on Vietnam Gina Kolata on Fermat's last theorem and Roger Mudd on the media Whether approached chronologically thematically randomly or as the editors order them more intuitively each suggests a perfect evening reading Designed for students as well as general readers The Princeton Anthology of Writing splendidly attests to the elegance eloquence and endurance of fine nonfiction

Psychoanalytic Patterns in the Work of Graham Greene Roland A. Pierloot, 2023-12-14

In Greene's writings we notice a genuine concern with social and political conflicts at different places in the world. But at the same time they bear witness to a distinct involvement in problems of human nature and behaviour. In this respect we can formulate some dominating preoccupations such as the stressing of antitheses and antagonisms which he calls himself cleavage, the questioning of loyalty and the claiming of the right to disloyalty, the repercussion of childhood experiences in particular the father-son relationship on adult life and the transcendental dimension in human experience. From a psychoanalytic viewpoint we analyse the various elaborations of these general themes in the work of Greene as symbolizations of specific unconscious phantasies defined in the writings of Freud, Klein, Fairbairn, Kernberg, Kohut and Winnicott. This analysis of the imaginary world of an author is conceived as analogous to a clinical psychoanalysis. It is a hermeneutical activity based on the countertransference experience evoked by the reading of the text while taking into account the manifold strategies of symbolizing in a literary work: the choice of the genre, themes, text construction, tropes, word plays, figurative language, repetition, discontinuity, parallelism, plot and characters.

WLA, 2006 The Message of the City Patricia E. Palermo, 2016-05-27 Dawn Powell was a gifted satirist who moved in the same circles as Dorothy Parker, Ernest Hemingway, renowned editor Maxwell Perkins and other midcentury New York luminaries. Her many novels are typically divided into two groups: those dealing with her native Ohio and those set in New York. From the moment she left behind her harsh upbringing in Mount Gilead, Ohio, and arrived in Manhattan in 1918, she dove into city life with an outlander's anthropological zeal. Reads a recent New Yorker piece about Powell and it is those New York novels that built her reputation for scouring wit and social observation. In this critical biography and study of the New York novels, Patricia Palermo reminds us how Powell earned a place in the national literary establishment and East Coast social scene. Though Powell's prolific output has been out of print for most of the past few decades, a revival is under way: the Library of America, touting her as a rediscovered American comic genius, released her collected novels and in 2015 she was posthumously inducted into the New York State Writers Hall of Fame. Engaging and erudite, The Message of the City fills a major gap in the story of a long overlooked literary great. Palermo places Powell in cultural and historical context and drawing on her diaries reveals the real-life inspirations for some of her most delicious satire.

War Torn Tad Bartimus, 2004 For the first time the women who are legends in the world of journalism talk about professional and personal experiences as young reporters who lived, worked and loved surrounded by war. These stories not only introduce a remarkable group, they give an entirely new perspective on the most controversial war in our history.

The Rhetoric of Fiction Wayne C. Booth, 2010-05-15 The first edition of The Rhetoric of Fiction transformed the criticism of fiction and soon became a classic in the field. One of the most widely used texts in fiction courses, it is a standard reference point in advanced discussions of how fictional form works, how authors make novels accessible and how readers recreate texts and its concepts and terms such as the implied author, the postulated reader and the unreliable narrator have become part of the standard critical lexicon. For this new edition, Wayne C. Booth has written an extensive Afterword in which he clarifies misunderstandings corrects what he now views as errors and sets forth his own recent thinking about the rhetoric of fiction The other new feature is a Supplementary Bibliography prepared by James Phelan in consultation with the author which lists the important critical works of the past twenty years two decades that Booth describes as the richest in the history of the subject Makers of Modern Culture Justin Wintle,2002 This volume provides lively and clearly written expositions of those figures who have done most to shape our views in the period since 1914 Music cinema drama art fiction poetry and philosophy are just some of the fields covered British Fiction After Modernism M. MacKay,L. Stonebridge,2007-01-08 This collection of essays offers a wide ranging and provocative reassessment of the British novel s achievements after modernism The book identifies continuities of preoccupation with national identity historiography and the challenge to literary form presented by public and private violence that span the entire century
