Lowland Iron Age Communities in Europe Barry W. Cunliffe, T. Rowley, 1978      Lowland Iron Age Communities in Europe Barry W. Cunliffe, 1978      Iron Age Communities in Britain Barry Cunliffe, 2004-08-02 This fully revised fourth edition maintains the qualities of the earlier editions whilst taking into account the significant developments that have moulded the discipline in recent years      The Iron Age in Northern Britain Dennis W. Harding, 2004-08-26 The Iron Age in Northern Britain examines the impact of the Roman expansion northwards and the native response to the Roman occupation on both sides of the frontiers It traces the emergence of historically recorded communities in the post Roman period and looks at the clash of cultures between Celts and Romans Picts and Scots Northern Britain has too often been seen as peripheral to a core located in south eastern England Unlike the Iron Age in southern Britain the story of which can be conveniently terminated with the Roman conquest the Iron Age in northern Britain has no such horizon to mark its end The Roman presence in southern and eastern Scotland was militarily intermittent and left untouched large tracts of Atlantic Scotland for which there is a rich legacy of Iron Age settlement continuing from the mid first millennium BC to the period of Norse settlement in the late first millennium AD Here D W Harding shows that northern Britain was not peripheral in the Iron Age it simply belonged to an Atlantic European mainstream different from southern England and its immediate continental neighbours      The Oxford Handbook of the European Iron Age Colin Haselgrove, Katharina Rebay-Salisbury, Peter S. Wells, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the European Iron Age presents to students scholars and interested general readers a broad overview of current understanding of the archaeology of Europe from 1000 BC through to the early historic periods      Archaeological Theory in Europe Ian Hodder, 2014-10-30 The 1980s witnessed exciting developments in theoretical writing in Western archaeology Where previous decades were dominated by the Anglo American perspective or New Archaeology the recent years showed the European debate grow in confidence and vitality This book published in 1991 captures this spirit of debate as contributors from a wide cross section of countries evaluate the development of the distinctly national and European characteristics of archaeology and assess future directions Contributors consider an extensive range of ideologies and viewpoints stressing the fundamentally historical emphasis and social construction of European archaeology The development of archaeological theory is traced with specific emphasis on factors which differ from country to country Ultimately it argues that the most active response to archaeology is to celebrate theory within a constantly critical mode A great insight into the development of theory      Communities and Connections Chris Gosden, 2007-11-08 A collection of essays by many of the leading specialists in the archaeology of the Iron Age and early Roman periods in Britain and western Europe paying tribute to Professor Sir Barry Cunliffe The subjects covered range over more than a thousand years and from the Atlantic coasts to the eastern Mediterranean      Prehistoric Europe Timothy Champion, 2016-06-16 The study of European prehistory has been revolutionized in recent years by the rapid growth rate of archeological discovery advances in dating methods and the application of scientific techniques to archaeological material and new archaeological aims and frameworks of interpretation Whereas previous work concentrated on the recovery and description of material remains the main focus is now on the reconstruction of prehistoric societies and the explanation of their development This volume provides that elementary and comprehensive synthesis of the new discoveries and the new interpretations of European prehistory After an introductory chapter on the geographical setting and the development of prehistoric studies in Europe the text is divided chronologically into nine chapters Each one describes with numerous maps plans and drawings the relevant archaeological data and proceeds to a discussion of the societies they represent Particular attention is paid to the major themes of recent prehistoric research especially subsistence economy trade settlement technology and social organization

The Iron Age Round-House D. W. Coins and Power in Late Iron Age Britain John Creighton, 2000-07-06 Cunobelin Shakespeare's Cymbeline ruled much of south east Britain in the years before Claudius' legions arrived creating the Roman province of Britannia But what do we know of him and his rule and that of competing dynasties in south east Britain This book examines the background to these the first individuals in British history It explores the way in which rulers bolstered their power through the use of imagery on coins myths language and material culture After the visit of Caesar in 55 and 54 BC the shadow of Rome played a fundamental role in this process Combining the archaeological literary and numismatic evidence John Creighton paints a vivid picture of how people in late Iron Age Britain reacted to the changing world around them

Prehistoric Farming in Europe Graeme Barker, 1985-07-11 Drawing upon his own extensive knowledge of European archaeology Graeme Barker has impressively integrated the full range of archaeological data to produce in this book a masterly account of prehistoric farming in Europe on a unique scale He makes use of modern archaeological techniques to reconstruct the lives of prehistoric farmers in remarkable detail Not only do we now have a vivid picture of the prehistoric farmyard but we know what animals were kept how they were fed and why they were bred Evidence for crops grown and techniques of cultivation and husbandry helps recreate the prehistoric landscape Even the social organisation that determined the use of resources and provided the crucial stimulus for agricultural change can be relived Graeme Barker develops his argument through analogies with the agricultural history of classical and medieval Europe and concludes that today s industrial farmers can learn much from the successes and failures of early European farming      Three Eleventh-century Anglo-Latin Saints' Lives Rosalind C. Love,1996 This volume contains comprehensive and scholarly editions of three Anglo Saxon saints lives Birinus of Dorchester on Thames Kenelm of Winchcombe and Rumwold of Buckingham Rosalind Love provides the Latin texts based on all known manuscript versions with a facing page English translation together with full annotation and a historical introduction which sets these works in the context of the development of hagiographical literature Dr Love traces the growth and changes in hagiographical writing one of the most important genres of medieval literature and essential to the understanding of the religious mentality of the Middle Ages and shows how the eleventh century saw significant new directions emerge in the cult of the saints and the writing of saints lives      British and Irish Archaeology ,1994      The Farming of Prehistoric Britain P.
