Lud Heat And Suicide Bridge:

Lud Heat Iain Sinclair, 1998 This edition of Lud Heat also includes Sinclair's series of texts on the mythology of place called Suicide Bridge

Lud Heat Iain Sinclair, 1995 Iain Sinclair's classic early text Lud Heat explores mysterious cartographic connections between the six Hawksmoor churches in London In a unique fusion of prose and poetry Sinclair invokes the mythic realm of King Lud who according to legend was one of the founders of London as well as the notion of psychic heat as an enigmatic energy contained in many of its places The book's many different voices including the incantatory whispers of Blake and Pound combine in an amalgamated shamanic sense that somehow works to transcend time The transmogrifying intonations and rhythms slowly incorporate new signs symbols and sigils into the poem that further work on the senses This was the work that set the psychogeographical tone for much of Sinclair's mature work as well as inspiring novels like Hawksmoor and Gloriana from his peers Peter Ackroyd and Michael Moorcock and Alan Moore's From Hell

Iain Sinclair Brian Baker, 2013-01-18 A clearly written comprehensive critical introduction to one of the most original contemporary British writers providing an overview of all of Sinclair's major works and an analysis of his vision of modern London This book places Sinclair in a range of contexts including the late 1960s counter culture and the British Poetry Revival London's underground histories the rise and fall of Thatcherism and Sinclair's writing about Britain under New Labour Sinclair's connection to other writers and artists such as J G Ballard Michael Moorcock and Marc Atkins This book makes a significant contribution to the growing scholarship surrounding Sinclair's work offering the first critical text that covers in detail all of Sinclair's work his poetry fiction non fiction including his book on John Clare Edge of the Orison and his film work

On Murder Thomas De Quincey, 2006-01-12 For if once a man indulges himself in murder very soon he comes to think little of robbing and from robbing he comes next to drinking and Sabbath breaking and from that to incivility and procrastination Thomas De Quincey's three essays On Murder Considered as One of the Fine Arts centre on the notorious career of the murderer John Williams who in 1811 brutally killed seven people in London's East End De Quincey's response to Williams's attacks turns morality on its head celebrating and coolly dissecting the art of murder and its perfections Ranging from gruesomely vivid reportage and brilliantly funny satiric high jinks to penetrating literary and aesthetic criticism the essays had a remarkable impact on crime terror and detective fiction as well as on the rise of nineteenth century decadence The volume also contains De Quincey's best known piece of literary criticism On the Knocking at the Gate in Macbeth and his finest tale of terror The Avenger a disturbing exploration of violence vigilantism and religious persecution

ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more

Race and Religion in the Postcolonial British Detective Story Julie H. Kim, 2005-07-15 In 1929 Ronald Knox a prominent member of the English Detection Club included in his tongue in cheek Ten Commandments for Detective Novelists the rule that No Chinaman must figure in the story In 1983 Ruth Rendell published Speaker of Mandarin reflecting not only a change in British detective fiction but also a dramatic change in the British cultural landscape Like much of the rest of British popular culture the detective novel became more and more ethnically diverse and populated by characters with increasingly varied religious backgrounds Ten essays examine the changing nature of British detective fiction focusing on the shifting view of otherness of such authors as Ruth Rendell Elizabeth George Peter Ackroyd Caroline Graham Christopher Brookmyer Denise Mina and John Mortimer Unlike their American counterparts British detective writers have been until recently overwhelmingly white and the essays here explore how these authors delve into ethnic diversity within a historically homogeneous culture Religion has also played an important role in the genre ranging from the moral certainty of the early part of the 20th century to the skepticism and hostility that is part of contemporary fiction How this transition was made and how it reflects the changing nature of British culture are detailed here Crossroads in Literature and Culture Jacek

Fabiszak, Ewa Urbaniak-Rybicka, Bartosz Wolski, 2012-11-05 The book contains a selection of papers focusing on the idea of crossing boundaries in literary and cultural texts composed in English The authors come from different methodological schools and analyse texts coming from different periods and cultures trying to find common ground the theme of the volume between the apparently generically and temporarily varied works and phenomena In this way a plethora of perspectives is offered perspectives which represent a high standard both in terms of theoretical reflection and in depth analysis of selected texts Consequently the volume is addressed to a wide scope of both scholars and students working in the field of English and American literary and cultural studies furthermore it will be of interest also to students interested in theoretical issues linked with investigations into literature and culture The Place of Poetics within Documentary Filmmaking Keith

Marley, 2023-07-21 This collection aims to give insight to the reader as to how poetic approaches to documentary filmmaking have helped to develop the documentary form into a rich and diverse way of representing the real world in film As such it is the aesthetics of documentary filmmaking that becomes the primary focus of discussion within this collection The majority of the chapters are written by documentary filmmakers who give insight into how poetics have influenced their own approach to documentary filmmaking while other chapters are written by film scholars who analyse the work of others in order to uncover how poetics are manifested in existing documentary films This book will be of interest to those who produce documentary films as well as those who have an interest in the work of other documentary filmmakers The Oxford Handbook of Contemporary British and Irish Poetry Peter Robinson, 2013-09-26 This Handbook offers an authoritative and up to date collection of original essays bringing together ground breaking research into the development of contemporary poetry in Britain and Ireland Haunting and Spectrality in Neo-Victorian Fiction R. Arias, P. Pulham, 2009-11-27 Exploring the pervasive presence of the Victorian past in contemporary culture these essays use the trope of haunting and spectrality as a critical tool with which to consider neo Victorian works as well as our ongoing fascination with the Victorians combining original readings of well known novels with engaging analyses of lesser known works City Visions Jenny Bavidge, Robert Bond, 2021-03-04 City Visions The Work of Iain Sinclair collects fourteen pathbreaking essays treating the panoramic oeuvre of novelist poet filmmaker and essayist Iain Sinclair This book aims to reflect and develop the current strong interest in the work of Sinclair who is widely recognized as one of the most significant figures in contemporary British literature and culture The essays herein cover the key genres and periods of Sinclair's output discussing his poetry prose and filmmaking and are developed from the proceedings of the first academic conference on Sinclair which was held at the University of Greenwich in 2004 Following the introductory chapter which includes a brief survey of Sinclair's career up until now the collection is arranged thematically in four sections The first part Contexts features essays which comment on the critical categorization and definition of Sinclair's work The second part Culture and Critique includes essays which explore the political import and contexts of Sinclair's oeuvre The articles in the third part Connections look at the links between Sinclair and other writers addressing the often noted intertextuality of his writing and the final section Spaces contains three considerations of Sinclair's treatment of London's urban spaces This collection provides access to the latest research by the leading scholars working in this area and will be a key point of reference for anyone interested in Sinclair's production To some the field of London writing may increasingly look like an indifferent over populated wasteland Iain Sinclair however remains pre eminent by virtue not only of the amplitude of his knowledge of the city but of the intensity and complexity of his thought about it He is the redemptive memorialist of a host of disregarded London cultures that lie quite beyond the reach of contemporary pieties In that respect he is less our Blake as he sometimes seems to believe than our Pepys or our Defoe At the same time he is an audacious experimenter with prose forms in the modernist tradition from Joyce to Burroughs and beyond Like the Sinclair phenomenon itself this valuable collection of essays is multifaceted illuminating its subject from a variety of different angles whilst very well aware that it is part of a work in progress It offers important testimony to the scope and power of a writer engaged in an original serious and necessary project Andrew Gibson Research Professor of Modern Literature and Theory Royal Holloway University of London This is an important and timely collection about arguably the most significant living London writer who is increasingly being recognised as an important contemporary English author in every sense Lawrence Phillips Principal Lecturer in English University of Northampton At last Iain Sinclair has the readers he deserves at least on the ample often provocative and always fascinating evidence of City Visions a collection of essays marked equally by panache and verve awareness of alternative cultural history and theoretical sophistication Over fourteen chapters critics with wide ranging interests gather their restless energies and obsessions in response to the scatter gun agitprop and guerilla intellectualism of Sinclair to produce a necessary and necessarily edgy volume In this admirably relentless collection Jenny Bavidge and Robert Bond offer an unnerving and inventive critical topography that uncovers the dark heart of a writer who is simultaneously the enfant terrible and minence grise of English letters Belles lettrists and other dilettantes be warned this is not a volume for the faint hearted these essays manifest an evangelical zeal equal to their subject's own in doing so they take us on an exhilarating intellectual adventure so refreshing in the world of lit crit where the polite formulas of sensible reading make one want to faint from ennui Professor Julian Wolfreys Loughborough University
