The Western Allies and Soviet Potential in World War II Martin Kahn, 2017-03-27 World War II was the largest and most devastating war in modern history with far reaching consequences The single most important campaign was the Soviet German war which consumed the lion share of Germany's military resources In contrast to the tone in German and Anglo American precampaign assessments the USSR was able to repulse the invasion after huge losses and turn the table on Germany and her minor Axis allies This book examines how the two most important Western Allies in World War II the United States and the United Kingdom assessed the economic and military potential of the Soviet Union in 1939-1945 Since the USSR was the single most important military contributor to the Allied victory in Europe and the main target of Germany's military strength these assessments are of paramount importance in order to understand how the Anglo Americans perceived the overall war situation and adjusted their own war effort in accordance with it Utilising a wide range of documents produced by the Anglo Americans during and
