The Television Entrepreneurs Raymond Boyle,Lisa W. Kelly,2016-03-03 With business seemingly everywhere on television from the risks of the retail and restaurant trade to pitching for investment or competing to become the next apprentice The Television Entrepreneurs draws upon popular business oriented shows such as The Apprentice and Dragons Den to explore the relationship between television and business Based on extensive interviews with key industry and business figures and drawing on new empirical research into audience perceptions of business this book examines our changing relationship with entrepreneurship and the role played by television in shaping our understanding of the world of business The book identifies the key structural shifts in both the television industry and the wider economy that account for these changing representations whilst examining the extent to which television s developing interest in business and entrepreneurial issues is simply a response to wider social and economic change in society Does a more commercial and competitive television marketplace for instance mean that the medium itself through a particular focus on drama entertainment and performance now plays a key role in re defining how society frames its engagements with business finance entrepreneurship risk and wealth creation Mapping the narratives of entrepreneurship constructed by television and analysing the context that produces them The Television Entrepreneurs investigates how the television audience engages with such programmes and the possible impact these may have on public understanding of the nature of business

Frontiers of Entrepreneurship Research ,1992 The Postmodern Short Story Farhat Iftekharudin,Joseph Boyden,Mary Rohrberger,Jaie Claudet,2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada

Handbook of Restoration Literature Matthew C. Augustine,Steven N. Zwicker,2024-11-06 The Oxford Handbook of Restoration Literature begins by asking if there was a distinctive literature of the Restoration For a long time the answer seemed obvious heroic drama libertine comedy scandalous lyrics and the short but brilliant career of John Wilmot earl of Rochester Could there be an age when the coincidence of literary culture and political rule were any more obvious But as this Handbook will remind us some of the most wonderful literature of this Restoration came from writers who had lived across the decades of turbulence and into an age when the Stuart kings returned when the Church and House of Lords were restored a world made safe for bishops and for the memory of divine right rule Of course these returns and restorations did not meet with uniform celebration John Milton wrote his great epic poems not in quiet submission but in a kind of resistance to the dominant culture of the 1660s and Andrew Marvell produced his most brilliant satiric verse by holding up a looking glass to court corruption and Anglican intolerance So we begin with the most obvious conclusion Restoration literature does and does not fit to the categories that so long defined the late Stuart age This book explores and contests challenges and reimagines the experience embodied by the writing of the late Stuart world and invites readers new to this world and those who have often read its literatures to the pleasures but as well to the challenges and discomforts of its texts Wealth Starts at Home: and 15 Other Financial Secrets That Could Make You a Fortune David D'Arcangelo,1997 Although saving and investing are the cornerstones of personal prosperity millions of Americans find themselves living from paycheck to paycheck with little or no money left over to save much less to invest David D Arcangelo explains that anyone can open a home based business and immediately expand their income while generating all important tax breaks Relocating Britishness Stephen Caunce,2004-11-27 Offering a range of original perspectives on how Britishness might be constructed at the turn of the millennium and where it might be going this volume pulls together various disciplines and a variety of geographical perspectives to offer a distinctive set of views for the understanding of Britishness and how it is expressed

The Scientific Life Steven Shapin,2009-08-01 Who are scientists What kind of people are they What capacities and virtues are thought to stand behind their considerable authority They are experts indeed highly respected experts authorized to describe and interpret the natural world and widely trusted to help transform knowledge into power and profit But are they morally different from other people The Scientific Life is historian Steven Shapin s story about who scientists are who we think they are and why our sensibilities about such things matter Conventional wisdom has long held that scientists are neither better nor worse than anyone else that personal virtue does not necessarily accompany technical expertise and that scientific practice is profoundly impersonal Shapin however here shows how the uncertainties attending scientific research make the virtues of individual researchers intrinsic to scientific work From the early twentieth century origins of corporate research laboratories to the high flying scientific entrepreneurship of the present Shapin argues that the radical uncertainties of much contemporary science have made personal virtues more central to its practice than ever before and he also reveals how radically novel aspects of late modern science have unexpectedly deep historical roots His elegantly conceived history of the scientific career and character ultimately encourages us to reconsider the very nature of the technical and moral worlds in which we now live Building on the insights of Shapin s last three influential books featuring an utterly fascinating cast of characters and brimming with bold and original claims The Scientific Life is essential reading for anyone wanting to reflect on late modern American culture and how it has been shaped Histories of the Future Susan Harding, Daniel Rosenberg, 2005-07-21 An anthropologically based interdisciplinary collection on sites and projections of imagined futures from conspiracy theorists to technological dystopias Start-Ups and SMEs: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources, 2020-01-03 Smaller companies are abundant in the business realm and outnumber large companies by a wide margin To maintain a competitive edge against other businesses companies must ensure the most effective strategies and procedures are in place This is particularly critical in smaller business environments that have fewer resources Start Ups and SMEs Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications is a vital reference source that examines the strategies and concepts that will assist small and medium sized enterprises to achieve competitiveness It also explores the latest advances and developments for creating a system of shared values and beliefs in small business environments Highlighting a range of topics such as entrepreneurship innovative behavior and organizational sustainability this multi volume book is ideally designed for entrepreneurs business managers executives managing directors academicians business professionals researchers and graduate level students TDR. , 1999
