China in the Mix Ying Xiao, 2017-08-09 Scarce attention has been paid to the dimension of sound and its essential role in constructing image culture and identity in Chinese film and media China in the Mix fills a critical void with the first book on the sound languages scenery media and culture in post Socialist China In this study Ying Xiao explores fascinating topics including appropriations of popular folklore in the Chinese new wave of the 1980s Chinese rock n roll and youth cinema in fin de si cle China the political economic impact of free market imperatives and Hollywood pictures on Chinese film industry and filmmaking in the late twentieth century the reception and adaptation of hip hop and the emerging role of Internet popular culture and social media in the early twenty first century Xiao examines the articulations and representations of mass culture and everyday life concentrating on their aural oral manifestations in contemporary Chinese cinema and in a wide spectrum of media and cultural productions China in the Mix offers the first comprehensive investigation of Chinese film expressions and culture from a unique cohesive acoustic angle and through the prism of global media cultural exchange It shows how the complex evolving uses of sound popular music voice over silence noise and audio mixing in film and media reflect and engage the important cultural and socio historical shifts in contemporary China and in the increasingly networked world Xiao offers an innovative new conception of Chinese film and media and their audiovisual registers in the historiographical frame of China amid the global landscape Echo and Narcissus Amy Lawrence,1991-07-23 Do women in classical Hollywood cinema ever truly speak for themselves In Echo and Narcissus Amy Lawrence examines eight classic films to show how women s speech is repeatedly constructed as a problem an affront to male authority This book expands feminist studies of the representation of women in film enabling us to see individual films in new ways and to ask new questions of other films Using Sadie Thompson 1928 Blackmail 1929 Rain 1932 The Spiral Staircase Sorry Wrong Number Notorious Sunset Boulevard 1950 and To Kill a Mockingbird 1962 Lawrence illustrates how women s voices are positioned within narratives that require their submission to patriarchal roles and how their attempts to speak provoke increasingly severe repression She also shows how women s natural ability to speak is interrupted made difficult or conditioned to a suffocating degree by sound technology itself Telephones phonographs voice overs and dubbing are foregrounded called upon to silence women and to restore the primacy of the image Unlike the usage of voice by feminist and literary critics to discuss broad issues of authorship and point of view in film studies the physical voice itself is a primary focus Echo and Narcissus shows how assumptions about the deficiencies of women s voices and speech are embedded in sound s history technology uses and marketing Moreover the construction of the woman s voice is inserted into the ideologically loaded cinematic and narrative conventions governing the representation of women in Hollywood film The Elements of Cinema Stefan Sharff,1982

Beginning with the proposition that there exist uniquely cinematic elements of meaning and structure Stefan Sharff clearly and systematically lays the foundation for literacy in cinema a sensitivity to the aesthetic elements intrinsic only to film Sharff presents the basic elements of structure modes of expression and rules which he argues create a specific language and syntax of cinema Contemporary French Cinema Alan J. Singerman,Michèle Bissière,2018-09-15 Like its French language companion volume Le Cin ma fran ais contemporain Manuel de classe Alan Singerman and Mich le Bissi re s Contemporary French Cinema A Student s Book offers a detailed look at recent French cinema through its analyses of twenty notable and representative French films that have appeared since 1980 Sure to delight Anglophone fans of French film it can be used with equal success in English language courses and when paired with its companion volume dual language ones Acclaim for Le Cin ma fran ais contemporain Manuel de classe From Le Dernier M tro to Intouchables Bissi re and Singerman cover the latest trends of French cinema emphasizing context and analytical method as Singerman did in Apprentissage du cin ma fran ais Focus 2004 The authors offer a selection of films most French cinephiles will applaud and they incorporate insights from some of the best critical work on French cinema Students of French film will also find all the bibliographical pointers they need to dig deeper and instructors will appreciate the pedagogical components included in the chapters Jonathan Walsh Department of French Studies Wheaton College Massachusetts This remarkable book comes to us from two seasoned teachers and critics and beautifully complements an earlier work Alan Singerman's Apprentissage du cinéma français. The time period covered more targeted here than in the preceding text is admirably well chosen and the breakdown by broad category each offering multiple options guides the teacher while offering a choice among an abundance of interesting films. The preliminary chapters both succinct and informative give students an excellent overview of French cinema as a whole and of the technical knowledge needed for film analysis. Each of the subsequent chapters offers an indispensable introduction discussing the plot, director, production, actors, reception and context of the film in question and also provides a very useful filmography and bibliography. An exemplary work. Brigitte E. Humbert, Department of French and Francophone Studies, Middlebury College.

"Right Makes Might" Wolfgang Mieder, 2019-04-04. A powerful and timely addition to the literature of rhetoric and folklore. Choice. In 1860 Abraham Lincoln employed the proverb Right makes might, opposite of the more aggressive Might makes right in his famed Cooper Union address. While Lincoln did not originate the proverb, his use of it in this critical speech indicates that the fourteenth-century phrase had taken on new ethical and democratic connotations in the nineteenth century. In this collection, famed scholar of proverbs Wolfgang Mieder explores the multifaceted use and function of proverbs through the history of the United States from their early beginnings up through their use by such modern-day politicians as Barack Obama, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and Bernie Sanders. Building on previous publications and unpublished research, Mieder explores sociopolitical aspects of the American worldview as expressed through the use of proverbs in politics, women's rights, and the civil rights movement, and by looking at the use of proverbial phrases, Mieder demonstrates how one traditional phrase can take on numerous expressive roles over time and how they continue to play a key role in our contemporary moment.

Decolonizing the Lens of Power Kerstin Knopf, 2008. This is the first book that comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers: two films that contextualize the oral tradition, three short films, and four dramatic films. The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse. The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism, Indigenous studies, and film studies. As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video, they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self-controlled images of Indigenous cultures. The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film, touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process, including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue. It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking, adapt to it, or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation. This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction.
