Racial Conflict Bertram J. Levine, 2005 In 1964 when the Civil Rights Act was passed Congress wisely created an agency based in the U S Department of Justice to help forestall or resolve racial or ethnic disputes evolving from the act Mandated by law and by its own methodology to shun publicity the Community Relations Service developed self effacement to a fine art Thus the accomplishments as well as the shortcomings of this federal venture into conflict resolution are barely known in official Washington and even less so by the American public This first written history of the Community Relations Service uses the experiences of the men and women who sought to resolve the most volatile issues of the day to tell the fascinating story of this unfamiliar agency This multiracial cadre of conciliation and mediation specialists worked behind the scenes in more than 20 000 confrontations involving racial and ethnic minorities From Selma to Montgomery at the encampment of the Poor Peoples Campaign in Resurrection City to the urban riots of the sixties seventies and eighties from the school desegregation battles north and south at the siege of Wounded Knee and during the Texas Gulf Coast fishing wars between Southeast Asian refugees and Anglos these federal peacemakers lessened the atmosphere of racial violence in every major U S city and thousands of small towns These confrontations ranged from disputes that attracted worldwide attention to the everyday affronts assaults and upheavals that marked the nation s adjustment to wider power sharing within an increasingly diverse population While Resolving Racial Conflict examines some of the celebrated breakthroughs that made change possible it also delves deeply into the countless behind the scenes local efforts that converted possibility to reality Among the many themes in this book that provide new perspective for understanding racial conflict in America are the effects of protest and conflict in engineering social change the variety of civil rights views and experiences of African Americans Native Americans Asians and Hispanics the role of police in minority relations and the development and refinement of techniques for community conflict resolution from seat of the pants intervention to sophisticated professional practice Resolving Racial Conflict will appeal to students of civil rights and American history in both the general and academic communities as well as students of alternative dispute resolution and peace and conflict studies Racial Negotiations, Potentials & Limitations William Ellison Chalmers, 1974 Cooperation in Racial Conflict United States. Stevenson,2014-01-03 Based on extensive research this provocative volume explores how schools are places where racial conflicts often remain hidden at the expense of a healthy school climate and the well being of other students of colour Most schools fail to act on racial microaggressions because the stress of negotiating such conflicts is extremely high due to fears of incompetence public exposure and accusation Instead of facing these conflicts head on schools perpetuate a set of avoidance or coping strategies The author of this much needed book uncovers how racial stress undermines student achievement Students educators and social service support staff will find workable strategies to improve their racial literacy skills to read recast and resolve racially stressful encounters when they happen This book features a model that applies culturally relevant behavioural stress management strategies to problem solve racial stress in schools examples demonstrating workable solutions relevant within predominantly White schools for students parents teachers and administrators measurable outcomes and strategies for developing racial literacy skills that can be integrated into the K 12 curriculum and teacher professional development and teaching and leadership skills that will create a more tolerant and supportive school environment for all students

Negotiating National Identities Dr Christian Karner,2013-01-28 Negotiating National Identities presents an empirically detailed and theoretically wide ranging analysis of the complex political and cultural struggles taking place in contemporary Europe Taking contemporary Austria and her controversial identity politics as its central case study in a discussion of developments across a variety of national and pan European contexts this book demonstrates that neo nationalism has been one among several competing reactions to the processes and challenges of globalization whilst inclusive notions of identity and belonging are shown to have emerged from the realms of civil society and cultural production Shifting the study of national identities from the party political to the social cultural and economic realms this book raises important questions of human rights social exclusion and ideological struggle in a globalizing era drawing attention to the contested nature of European politics and civil societies in which existing configurations of power and exclusion are both reproduced and challenged As such it will be of interest to anyone working in the fields of race and ethnicity national identity and media and cultural studies Policy Speech Kwazulu (South Africa). Chief Minister,1986

Negotiating Boundaries in the City Joanna Herbert,2016-04-22 Using in depth life story interviews and oral history archives this book explores the impact of South Asian migration from the 1950s onwards on both the local white British born population and the migrants themselves Taking Leicester as a main case study identified as a European model of multicultural success Negotiating Boundaries in the City offers a historically grounded analysis of the human experiences of migration Joanna Herbert shows how migration created challenges for both existing residents and newcomers for both male and female migrants and explores how they perceived and negotiated boundaries within the local contexts of their everyday lives She explores the personal and collective narratives of individuals who might not otherwise appear in the historical records highlighting the importance of subjective everyday experiences The stories provide valuable insights into the nature of white ethnicity inter ethnic relations and the gendered nature of experiences and offer rich data lacking in existing theoretical accounts This book provides a radically different story about multicultural Britain and reveals the nuances of modern urban experiences which are lost in prevailing discourses of multiculturalism
