Race and Identity in Hispanic America Patricia Reid-Merritt, Michael S. Rodriguez, 2023 This book offers a historical and comparative overview of the evolution of racial classifications in the United States Latin America and the Caribbean The Hispanicization of America is precipitating a paradigm shift in racial thinking in which race is no longer defined by distinct characteristics but rather is becoming synonymous with ethnic cultural identity Traditionally assimilation has been conceived of as a unidirectional and racialized phenomenon Newly arrived immigrant groups or longstanding minority indigenous populations were Americanized in confining their racial and ethnic natures to the private sphere and adopting in the public sphere the cultural mores norms and values of the dominant cultural racial group In contrast the Hispanicization of America entails the horizontal assimilation of various groups from Spanish speaking countries throughout the Western Hemisphere and Caribbean into a pan ethnic Hispanic Latino identity that also challenges the privileged position of whiteness as the primary and exclusive referent for American identity Instead of focusing on one Hispanic group ethnic identity or region this book chronicles the development of racial identity across the largest Hispanic groups throughout the United States

People Paul R. Spickard, W. Jeffrey Burroughs, 2000 As the twentieth century closes ethnicity stands out as a powerful force for binding people together in a sense of shared origins and worldview But this emphasis on a people's uniqueness can also develop into a distorted rationale for insularity inter ethnic animosity or as we have seen in this century armed conflict Ethnic identity clearly holds very real consequences for individuals and peoples yet there is not much agreement on what exactly it is or how it is formed The growing recognition that ethnicity is not fixed and inherent but elastic and constructed fuels the essays in this collection Regarding identity as a dynamic on going formative and transformative process We Are a People considers narrative the creation and maintenance of a common story as the keystone in building a sense of peoplehood Myths of origin triumph over adversity migration and so forth chart a group's history while continual additions to the larger narrative stress moving into the future as a people Still there is more to our stories as individuals and groups Most of us are aware that we take on different roles and project different aspects of ourselves depending on the situation Some individuals who have inherited multiple group affiliations from their families view themselves not as this or that but all at once So too with ethnic groups The so called hyphenated Americans are not the only people in the world to recognize or embrace their plurality This relatively recent acknowledgment of multiplicity has potentially wide implications destabilizing the limited and limiting categories inscribed in for example public policy and discourse on race relations We Are a People is a path breaking volume boldly illustrating how ethnic identity works in the real world Author note Paul Spickard is Professor and Chair of Asian American Studies at UC Santa Barbara and is author of Mixed Blood W Jeffrey Burroughs is Professor of Psychology at Brigham Young University Hawaii
