The Water of Life Nathalie Baratoff ,2020-12-01 C G Jung s psychology provides a unique understanding of the seven tales in this volume The archetypal images therein are many layered We can see them from the mythological viewpoint as dragons demons and witches we find them in rivers of fire in kingdoms at the bottom of the sea in talking animals and in endless transformations that defy human experience The same images mirror situations of everyday life the joys of love success in one s endeavors but also abandonment yearning for offspring loss of a sheltered existence as well as the many insurmountable tasks which confront us in life But the most significant of Jung s insights into the psyche is the realization that all such experiences rest upon an inner reality which needs to be understood symbolically This is where the archetypal nature of fairy tales is most relevant for it explains why people of all ages and all levels of society have been fascinated by them people often without much formal education gathered around a fire at the end of a hard day and gazing into the flames followed the images arising from the storyteller s words Today many have by and large lost the capacity for such experiences Children still do adults are often distracted by the demands of outer life And yet fairy tales retell fundamental experiences of life which are timeless

Lectures or Tractates on the Gospel According to Saint John Saint Augustine of Hippo, Aeterna Press, When I give heed to what we have just read from the apostolic lesson that the natural man perceiveth not the things which are of the Spirit of God and consider that in the present assembly my beloved there must of necessity be among you many natural men who know only according to the flesh and cannot yet raise themselves to spiritual understanding I am in great difficulty how as the Lord shall grant I may be able to express or in my small measure to explain what has been read from the Gospel In the beginning was the Word and the Word was with God and the Word was God for this the natural man does not perceive
