Ray Parkin On A Pows Survival:

On A Pow's Survival Ray Parkin,2016-03-22 At risk of death prisoner of war Ray Parkin secretly kept a journal of the months in 1943 44 he spent working on the Thai Burma Railway His account first published as Into the Smother received international acclaim for its restrained but realistic depiction of POWs living working and dying in a Japanese camp deep in the Thai jungle It was hailed by the legendary literary critic Max Harris as probably the finest POW writing in English

Hellships Down Michael Sturma,2021-03-18 On 12 September 1944 a wolfpack of U S submarines attacked the Japanese convoy HI 72 in the South China Sea Among the ships sunk were two carrying Allied prisoners of war Men who had already endured the trials of Japanese captivity faced a renewed struggle for survival at sea This book tells the broader story of the HI 72 convoy through the stories of two survivors Arthur Bancroft who was rescued by an American submarine and Charles Rowley Richards who was rescued by the Japanese The story of these men represents the thousands of Allied POWs who suffered not only the atrocious conditions of these Japanese hellships but also the terror of friendly fire from their own side s submarines For the first time the personal political and legal aftermath of these men s experiences is fully detailed At its heart this is a story of survival Charting the survivors fates from rescue to their attempts at retribution this book reveals the trauma that continued long after the war was over On How I Came To Write 'the Lucky Country' Donald

Horne,2016-03-22 Donald Horne 1921 2005 was perhaps the best known Australian intellectual of his era after Manning Clark He made his name as editor of The Bulletin magazine and confirmed his reputation with his book The Lucky Country an ironic and influential critique of the Australian way of life first published in 1964 In his memoir Into the Open 2000 Horne recalled experiences people books and ideas that shaped his career as a journalist writer and thinker The extract published here focuses on the formative years leading up to the writing of The Lucky Country On The Cultural Cringe A.A.

Phillips,2016-03-22 The Australian writer critic and teacher A A Phillips coined the term the cultural cringe in 1950 to describe an Australian tendency to identify our literature and art as inferior to work produced overseas particularly in Britain and the United States The term has resonated in debates about Australian culture society and identity ever since Although Phillips famous essay on the cringe was first published more than fifty years ago it remains a powerful reference point in discussions of the national culture It is reprinted here with two of his other essays on Australian culture and with additional biographical and critical material including an essay by Ivor Indyk On The World Of The Sixty-Nine Tram Janet

McCalman,2016-03-22 Janet McCalman writes about people and the environments events and forces that shape them This extract from her award winning book Journeyings The Biography of a Middle Class Generation 1920 1990 is a vivid account of the school years of Australians who were young in the 1930s and are grandparents and great grandparents now

Histories of Post-Mortem Contagion Christos Lynteris,Nicholas H A Evans,2017-12-13 This edited volume draws historians and anthropologists together to explore the contested worlds of epidemic corpses and their disposal Why are burials so frequently at the center of disagreement recrimination and protest during epidemics Why are the human corpses produced in the course of infectious disease outbreaks seen as dangerous not just to the living but also to the continued existence of society and civilization Examining cases from the Black Death to Ebola contributors challenge the predominant idea that a single universal framework of contagion can explain the political social and cultural importance and impact of the epidemic corpse Australian Book Review, 2005 On The War-path Peter Pierce, Robin Gerster, 2016-10-18 This important anthology reveals the many ways in which going to war has formed a cultural bridge between Australia and the world From the Sudan in 1885 to Afghanistan in 2001 the connection of war to travel is illustrated in the observations of writers as varied as Banjo Paterson George Johnston Nancy Wake John Pilger Lily Brett and Peter Weir Selecting writings from combatants abroad as well as the reflections of sightseers who travel to foreign battlefields and war sites Robin Gerster and Peter Pierce reveal how the experience of war has both broadened and refined and sometimes distorted Australian views of the world Their lively collection crosses the boundaries between literature literary criticism travel writing war writing and cultural commentary P.O.W. Prisoner of War Hank Nelson, 1985 The experiences of Australian prisoners of war in Japanese prison camps Changi prison Ian Watt Marina MacKay, 2018-11-22 Before his masterpiece The Rise of the Novel made him one of the most influential post war British literary critics Ian Watt was a soldier a prisoner of war of the Japanese and a forced labourer on the notorious Burma Thailand Railway Both an intellectual biography and an intellectual history of the mid century this book reconstructs Watt's wartime world these were harrowing years of mass death deprivation and terror but also ones in which communities and institutions were improvised under the starkest of emergency conditions Ian Watt The Novel and the Wartime Critic argues that many of our foundational stories about the novel about the novel's origins and development and about the social moral and psychological work that the novel accomplishes can be traced to the crises of the Second World War and its aftermath
