On Rereading Patricia Meyer Spacks, 2013-11-18 After retiring from teaching literature, Patricia Meyer Spacks embarked on a year-long project of rereading dozens of novels, childhood favorites, young adult fiction, canonical works she didn't like, guilty pleasures. Reading in the Wild Donalyn Miller, 2013-10-21 In Reading in the Wild, reading expert Donalyn Miller continues the conversation that began in her bestselling book The Book Whisperer. While The Book Whisperer revealed the secrets of getting students to love reading, Reading in the Wild, written with reading teacher Susan Kelley, describes how to truly instill lifelong wild reading habits in our students. Based in part on survey responses from adult readers as well as students, Reading in the Wild offers solid advice and strategies on how to develop, encourage, and assess five key reading habits that cultivate a lifelong love of reading. Also included are strategies, lesson plans, management tools, and comprehensive lists of recommended books. Copublished with Editorial Projects in Education, publisher of Education Week and Teacher magazine, Reading in the Wild is packed with ideas for helping students build capacity for a lifetime of wild reading. When the thrill of choice reading starts to fade, it's time to grab Reading in the Wild. This treasure trove of resources and management techniques will enhance and improve existing classroom systems and structures.

Cris Tovani, secondary teacher, Cherry Creek School District, Colorado, consultant and author of Do I Really Have to Teach Reading With Reading in the Wild. Donalyn Miller gives educators another important book. She reminds us that creating lifelong readers goes far beyond the first step of putting good books into kids' hands.

Franki Sibberson, third grade teacher, Dublin City Schools, Dublin, Ohio, and author of Beyond Leveled Books. Reading in the Wild, along with the now legendary The Book Whisperer, constitutes the complete guide to creating a stimulating literature program that also gets students excited about pleasure reading, the kind of reading that best prepares students for understanding demanding academic texts. In other words, Donalyn Miller has solved one of the central problems in language education.

ReCreatable Kevin Scott, 2014-01-24 ReCreatable begins with the story of a glass baking dish the delectable aroma of tantalizing brownies and an unseen defect that turns the promise of something delicious into a minor disaster leaving glass fragments and brownies irretrievably intermingled Both the dish and brownies are irrevocably lost The implications for us are inescapable created by God to reflect his glory and for his pleasure we have been broken by sin to the point that we are completely useless to accomplish the purpose for which we were made But unlike the shattered brownie dish that gets discarded as worthless God takes the shards of our lives and does the miraculous He does not simply fit us back together He takes those splinters of our destruction and uses them to re-create us complete restored redeemed and fitted to do and be all that he ever intended for us ReCreatable leads us progressively through the impact of the creative genius of God in our lives It points us to the reality of restored relationships the resurrection of our role as true reflectors of God's glory and the revolutionary life that can be ours when we learn to be true disciples re-created to live well for God

Retelling/rereading Karl Kroeber, 1992 In this passionate erudite and far ranging book Kroeber renews for our multi cultural age a fundamental argument the stories we tell hear read and see

make a difference to the lives we read Jonathan Arac University of Pittsburgh In this highly readable and thoroughly original book Karl Kroeber questions the assumptions about storytelling we have inherited from the exponents of modernism and postmodernism These assumptions have led to overly formalistic and universalizing conceptions of narrative that mystify the social functions of storytelling Even politically correct critics have Eurocentrically defined story as too primitive to be taken seriously as art Kroeber reminds us that the fundamental value of storytelling lies in retelling this paradoxical remaking anew that constitutes story's role as one of the essential modes of discourse His work develops some recent anthropological and feminist criticism to delineate the participative function of audience in narrative performances In depicting how audiences contribute to storytelling transactions Kroeber carries us into a surprising array of examples ranging from a Mesopotamian sculpture to Derek Walcott's Omeros startling juxtapositions such as Cervantes to Vermeer and innovative readings of familiar novels and paintings Tom Wolfe's comparison of his Bonfire of the Vanities to Vanity Fair is critically analyzed as are the differences between Thackeray's novel and Joyce's Ulysses and Flaubert's Madame Bovary Other discussions focus on traditional Native American stories Henry James's The Ambassadors Calvino's If on a winter's night a traveler and narrative paintings of Giotto Holman Hunt and Roy Lichtenstein Kroeber deploys the ideas of Ricoeur and Bakhtin to reassess dramatically the field of narrative theory demonstrating why contemporary narratologists overrate plot and undervalue story's capacity to give meaning to the contingencies of real experience Retelling Rereading provides solid theoretical grounding for a new understanding of storytelling's strange role in twentieth century art and of our need to develop a truly multicultural narrative criticism
