

A black and white photograph of a person in traditional African attire, possibly a woman, walking across a checkered floor. In the background, there are several desks or tables, some with papers on them, suggesting an office or administrative setting. The person is wearing a light-colored, draped garment and has a bag or bundle slung over their shoulder.

Reaction And Renewal In South Africa:

Reaction and Renewal in South Africa Paul B. Rich, 2016-07-27 This volume is a timely survey of the changes that have been occurring in South African politics and society since the unbanning of the exile liberation movements in 1990. It brings together a collection of seasoned scholars who examine the debates over changes in such areas as the economy, the state, the legal system, the position of women and foreign relations. The volume explores the forces pushing for radical change in South African society as well as those resisting it and is particularly notable for bringing a political science perspective to bear on such issues as the restructuring of government and the constitution.

Tourism Strategies and Local Responses in Southern Africa Petri Hottola, 2009-01-01 Tourism growth is one of the primary drivers of economic development and is a core strategy at local and national levels to improve the lives of local communities. However, tourism can bring both advantages and disadvantages to communities, and not all national strategies in tourism management are applicable or suitable in private community-based and public sectors. Tourism is used as a main instrument of nation building in many postcolonial countries such as Namibia, South Africa, Botswana, and Madagascar. Using case studies from these areas, this book examines the strategic objectives for tourism growth and how nationally set objectives such as economic growth, increased employment, poverty reduction, black economic empowerment, environmental sustainability, and reduction of regional inequalities work at the grassroots level. Challenging ongoing practices and providing new innovations for tourism development applicable to other developing countries, this study will be useful for both researchers and decision makers in tourism.

Christian Responses to Spiritual Incursions into the 21st Century Church and Society Nikolaos Asproulis, Stuart Devenish, 2020-10-30 This volume provides an account of the surprising in-breaking of spiritual life that persists in our culture despite the best efforts of atheist spokespersons and secular theorists. Spirituality in its varying forms is irrepressible, resisting our attempts to exclude it by continuing to seep through the cracks and leak through the gaps. When it is allowed to manifest itself through the Christian faith tradition, it has the power to surprise, transform, and renew everything it touches. This volume contains a series of case studies, each of which describes the inner functionings and outworkings of the spiritual life as a transformative point of contact between God, world, society, and self. Each chapter contains high-level inquiry drawing on best practice scholarship that is deeply aware of the needs and opportunities that confront 21st-century society.

Nuclear Reactions Mark S. Bell, 2021-04-15 Nuclear Reactions analyzes how nuclear weapons change the calculations states make in their foreign policies, why they do so, and why nuclear weapons have such different effects on the foreign policies of different countries. Mark S. Bell argues that nuclear weapons are useful for more than deterrence. They are leveraged to pursue a wide range of goals in international politics, and the nations that acquire them significantly change their foreign policies as a result. Closely examining how these effects vary and what those variations have meant in the United States, the United Kingdom, and South Africa, Bell shows that countries are not generically emboldened; they change their foreign policies in different ways based on their priorities This has huge policy implications What would Iran do if it were to acquire nuclear weapons Would Japanese policy toward the United States change if Japan were to obtain nuclear weapons And what does the looming threat of nuclear weapons mean for the future of foreign policy Far from being a relic of the Cold War Bell argues nuclear weapons are as important in international politics today as they ever were Thanks to generous funding from the University of Minnesota and its participation in TOME the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes available from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories

Global Challenges and Local Reactions: Czech Republic and South Africa Hana Horáková, Stephanie Rudwick, 2014 This book presents an interdisciplinary perspective on the large scale processes of socio economic and political change of two young democracies post apartheid South Africa and the post socialist Czech Republic As the political transition in both countries coincides with the intensified effects of globalization especially with the advent of neoliberal economic ideologies and policies the two countries exhibit a number of common features and parallels in their respective transitions and post developments The book's chapters describe the particular place s South Africa and the Czech Republic occupy in the dual processes of internationalization and globalization Series International Politics Internationale Politik Vol 19 Subject Politics Economics European Studies African Studies

American Foreign Policy Current Documents, 1990 Monthly Bibliography United Nations Library (Geneva, Switzerland), 1997 The International Journal of African Historical Studies, 1997 HIV/AIDS and human development in sub-Saharan Africa Tanja R. Müller, 2023-08-28 This third part of the AWLAE series on HIV AIDS and agriculture in sub Saharan Africa focuses on the epidemic as a challenge to human development in general and rural development in particular In the face of the impact of the epidemic as described in parts one and two of the series the agricultural sector can play an important role in mitigating some of its effects Strategies for agricultural intervention are of particular importance in sub Saharan Africa given the fact that most of the countries hardest hit by the epidemic are heavily reliant on agriculture Different agricultural sector based mitigation strategies are discussed It is further argued however that such interventions need to be complemented by interventions from the health and other sectors in particular by treatment regimes including access to anti retroviral drugs The text is followed by an annotated bibliography Entrepreneurial Responses to Covid-19 in Africa

Maud van Merriënboer, Neema Komba, Chanyoung Park, Lotte-Marie Brouwer, Magnus Godvik Ekland, Hanaâ Benchrif, Steven Kator Iorfa, 2022-12-15 Globally small and medium enterprises SME entrepreneurs were hit hard by the Covid 19 pandemic and subsequent measures such as lockdowns and market closures Africa was no exception Entrepreneurial intentions and activities were expected to have a broad downturn with established entrepreneurs being forced to downsize or quit their businesses while fewer novel entrepreneurs entered the market and started their own companies At the same time entrepreneurship is considered one of the few viable options to ensure an income during uncertain economic times Furthermore the Covid 19 crisis was said to drive innovation and technological advancements globally and perhaps even more so in Africa due to its young demographic This edited volume includes insights gathered during the 2021 NVAS Africa Day which had the theme entrepreneurial responses to Covid 19 in Africa This volume shines a light on two broader themes entrepreneurial intentions and entrepreneurial resilience in Africa in times of Covid 19 The conference was organized by NVAS Nederlandse Vereniging voor Afrikastudies and the African Studies Centre of Leiden University The first two chapters consider whether the pandemic and its broader consequences increase entrepreneurial intentions Is entrepreneurship a pathway out of the crisis for individuals providing an income and financial stability in a stressed labour market Or have individuals turned away from entrepreneurship due to the risk and a lack of start up funds and subsequent investments The final two chapters consider how the Covid 19 pandemic spurred entrepreneurial resilience and innovation in terms of new products markets and strategies Together these studies provide a cross sectional and cross methodological anthology of entrepreneurial responses to Covid 19 in Africa With contributions from Neema Komba Chanyoung Park Lotte Marie Brouwer Magnus Godvik Ekeland Hana Benchrifia Steven Kator Iorfa and Maud van Merri nboer
