Semiotics Of Fortune Telling:

The Semiotics of Fortune-telling Edna Aphek, Yishai Tobin, 1990-01-01 This book presents a semiotic analysis of the linguistic and extralinguistic elements of fortune telling as part of a larger pragmatic oriented theory of human communication The material was collected in Israel in Hebrew and parallels are made with other languages and cultures The analysis is based on dynamic relativism of the multidimensional transcendental holistic process of human communication

Body, Language and Meaning in Conflict Situations Orit Sônia Waisman, 2010 This original research applies semiotics to linguistic and non linguistic segments in a text in search of potential correlations between them The resultant mapping is applied to cases of gesture word mismatches that are evident in conflict situations The current study adopts the word systems approach a sign based theory that is naturally designed for the analysis of linguistic signs and extends it to non linguistic units borrowing analytical tools from the field of dance movement therapy The variety of interdisciplinary metaphorical and literal interpretations of the analyzed signs enriches the theoretical framework and facilitates examination of the instances of mismatches Hence this study makes a meaningful contribution to the understanding of linguistic non linguistic mismatches in situations of conflict Further it makes more general claims the semiotic system underlying this study paves the way for further research of correlations or lack thereof between a range of phenomena cutting across sociology sociolinguistics psycholinguistics and political science

Semiotics Roland Posner, Klaus Robering, Thomas Albert Sebeok, 1997 This series of HANDBOOKS OF LINGUISTICS AND COMMUNICATION SCIENCE is designed to illuminate a field which not only includes general linguistics and the study of linguistics as applied to specific languages but also covers those more recent areas which have developed from the increasing body of research into the manifold forms of communicative action and interaction For classic linguistics there appears to be a need for a review of the state of the art which will provide a reference base for the rapid advances in research undertaken from a variety of theoretical standpoints while in the more recent branches of communication science the handbooks will give researchers both an overview and orientation To attain these objectives the series will aim for a standard comparable to that of the leading handbooks in other disciplines and to this end will strive for comprehensiveness theoretical explicitness reliable documentation of data and findings and up to date methodology The editors both of the series and of the individual volumes and the individual contributors are committed to this aim The languages of publication are English German and French The main aim of the series is to provide an appropriate account of the state of the art in the various areas of linguistics and communication science covered by each of the various handbooks however no inflexible pre set limits will be imposed on the scope of each volume The series is open ended and can thus take account of further developments in the field This conception coupled with the necessity of allowing adequate time for each volume to be prepared with the necessary care means that there is no set time table for the publication of the whole series Each volume will be a self contained work complete in itself The order in which the handbooks are published does not imply any rank ordering but is determined by the way in which the series is organized the editor of the whole series enlist a competent editor for each individual volume Once the principal editor for a volume has been found he or she then has a completely free hand in the choice of co editors and contributors The editors plan each volume independently of the others being governed only by general formal principles The series editor only intervene where questions of delineation between individual volumes are concerned It is felt that this modus operandi is best suited to achieving the objectives of the series namely to give a competent account of the present state of knowledge and of the perception of the problems in the area covered by each volume

Semiotics 1981 John N. Deely, 2012-12-06 This volume differs from the volume Semiotics 1980 in that it is no longer an experimental product but the result of a permanent commitment of the Semiotic Society of America to publish each year henceforward those papers presented at its Annual Meeting which are submitted to the Secretariat in timely and proper form Thus Semiotics 1981 marks the beginning following upon the experimental Semiotics 1980 volume of an indefinite series of volumes presenting the cross fertilization of styles topics methodologies and traditions in which new ideas vie for survival and experiment is at a premium It is this cross fertilization which is at the heart of the vitality and integration and redistribution of the world of knowledge The historical value of such a record is obvious But the more immediate objective of these volumes of annual proceedings is to promote participation in the work of semiotizing traditional perspectives and disciplines by providing a forum in which young scholars can meet regularly and find an outlet for their efforts at interdisciplinary thinking which are not always welcome in the journals and proceedings devoted to the promotion only of traditionally specialized perspectives

The Empire of Signs Yoshihiko Ikegami, 1991 Like Roland Barthes well known book L'Empire des signes from which the title of the present collection is taken this volume contains essays dealing with certain aspects of Japanese culture

On the Medieval Theory of Signs Umberto Eco, Costantino Marmo, 1989-01-01 In the course of the long debate on the nature and the classification of signs from Boethius to Ockham there are at least three lines of thought the Stoic heritage that influences Augustine Abelard Francis Bacon the Aristotelian tradition stemming from the commentaries on De Interpretatione the discussion of the grammarians from Priscian to the Modistae Modern interpreters are frequently misled by the fact that the various authors regularly used the same terms Such a homogeneous terminology however covers profound theoretical differences The aim of these essays is to show that the medieval theory of signs does not represent a unique body of semiotic notions there are diverse and frequently alternative semiotic theories This book thus represents an attempt to encourage further research on the still unrecognized variety of the semiotic approaches offered by the medieval philosophies of language
