Lowe, M.L. Dockril, 2013-10-08 First Published in 2001 The Mirage of Power Part II looks at British Foreign Policy from 1914 to 22 and is Volume IV of the Foreign Policies of Great Powers collection It includes the Anglo French Entente a look at Britain France and Germany between 1908 and 12 Anglo Russian relations and the Middle East British and American relations between 1895 and 1914 and ends with the Balkan Wars and the coming of the First World War in 1914 Hitler's War in the East, 1941-1945

Rolf-Dieter Müller, Gerd R. Ueberschär, 2002 Provides a guide to the extensive literature on the war in the East including largely unknown Soviet writing on the subject Sections on policy and strategy the military campaign the ideologically motivated war of annihilation in the East the occupation and coming to terms with the results of the war offer a wealth of bibliographic citations and include introductions detailing history of the period and related issues For military historians and for scholars who approach this period in history from a socio economic or cultural perspective No index Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The City Club Bulletin City Club of Chicago, 1916 Nils Petter Gleditsch: Pioneer in the Analysis of War and Peace Nils Petter Gleditsch, 2015-07-18 This book presents Nils Petter Gleditsch a staff member of the Peace Research Institute of Oslo PRIO since 1964 a former editor of the Journal for Peace Research 1983 2010 a former president of the International Studies Association 2008 2009 and the recipient of several academic awards as a pioneer in the scientific analysis of war and peace This unique anthology covers major themes in his distinguished career as a peace researcher An autobiographical critical retrospective puts his work on conflict and peace into a broader context while a comprehensive bibliography documents his publications over a period of nearly 50 years Part II documents his wide ranging contributions on globalization democratization and liberal peace on international espionage environmental security climate change and conflict and on the decline of war and more generally of violence as a tool in conflict The Mourning After John Ibson, 2018-11-01 On the battlefields of World War II with their fellow soldiers as the only shield between life and death a generation of American men found themselves connecting with each other in new and profound ways Back home after the war however these intimacies faced both scorn and vicious homophobia The Mourning After makes sense of this cruel irony telling the story of the unmeasured toll exacted upon generations of male friendships John Ibson draws evidence from the contrasting views of male closeness depicted in WWII era fiction by Gore Vidal and John Horne Burns as well as from such wide ranging sources as psychiatry texts child development books the memoirs of veterans children and a slew of vernacular snapshots of happy male couples In this sweeping reinterpretation of the postwar years Ibson argues that a prolonged mourning for tenderness lost lay at the core of midcentury American masculinity leaving far too many men with an unspoken ache that continued long after the fighting stopped forever damaging their relationships with their wives their children and each other Documents on German Foreign Policy, 1918-1945, from the Archives of the German Foreign Ministry Germany. Auswärtiges Amt, 1956 Britain and the Origins of the New Europe 1914-1918 Kenneth J. Calder, 1976-01-29 This book attempts to explain this evolution in British policy in the case of the Poles Czechoslovaks and Yugoslavs the three most important subject nationalities in eastern Europe The book is based primarily on the official records of the British government which have been supplemented with material from private collections Censored Books Nicholas J. Karolides, Lee Burrell, John M. Kean, 2001 A collection of essays confronting the censorship issue including six authors views and defenses of individual books The Decision to Disarm Germany Lorna S. Jaffe, 2020-01-08 Originally published in 1985 The Decision to Disarm Germany offers a fresh approach to Britain's First World War and Paris Peace Conference policy on the question of German military disarmament. It offers interpretations based on extensive research into unpublished records and private papers and provides important new conclusions about British policy. The book shows the interaction of domestic concerns and strategic considerations in the wartime development of British thinking on the issue of post-war German disarmament and in the post-Armistice formulation and implementation of Britain's German disarmament policy. It establishes the crucial interrelationship in British thinking and policy between German disarmament and general disarmament. It also shows the interwar consequences of wartime attitudes and peace conference policy. The Great War in Post-Memory Literature and Film Martin Löschnigg, Marzena Sokolowska-Paryz, 2014-10-14 The twenty-seven original contributions to this volume investigate the ways in which the First World War has been commemorated and represented internationally in prose fiction, drama, film, docudrama, and comics from the 1960s until the present. The volume thus provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural memory of the war as reflected in various media across national cultures, addressing the complex connections between the cultural post-memory of the war and its mediation. In four sections, the essays investigate: 1. the cultural legacy of the Great War, including its mythology and iconography; 2. the implications of different forms and media for representing the war; 3. national memories foregrounding the differences in post-memory representations and interpretations of the Great War; and 4. representations of the Great War within larger temporal or spatial frameworks, focusing specifically on the ideological dimensions of its remembrance in historical, socio-political, gender-oriented, and post-colonial contexts. The Painter and Decorator, 1918 The British Way in Warfare: Power and the International System, 1856-1956 Keith Neilson, 2016-03-16

In his groundbreaking book The British Way in Warfare (Routledge, 1990), David French outlined the skillful combination of maritime, economic, and diplomatic power employed by Britain to achieve its international goals. Almost two decades later, this collection offers a reassessment of French's thesis, using it as a lens through which to explore Britain's relationship with various kinds of power, military and civil, and how this was employed across the globe. In particular, each essay addresses the ways in which the use of power manifested itself in the maintenance of Britain's place within the international system between 1856 and 1956. Adopting twin methodologies, the collection firstly addresses the broad question of Britain's relationship with other Great Powers and how these influenced the strategies used; before then testing these with specific case studies. By taking this approach, it is possible to discern which policies were successful and which failed, and whether these remained constant across time and space. Measuring Britain's strategy against her commercial, imperial, and military competitors, including France, the USA, Italy, Germany, and Russia, allows intriguing conclusions to be drawn about just how an essentially maritime power could compete with much larger and potentially more powerful continental rivals. With contributions from an outstanding selection of military scholars, this collection addresses fundamental questions about the intersection of military, economic, and diplomatic history that are as relevant today as they were during the height of Britain's imperial power. It will prove essential reading not only for those with an interest in British military history but for anyone wishing to understand how power in all its multifaceted guises can be employed for national advantage on the international stage.
