Shadowed Ground Americas Landscapes Of Violence And Tragedy:

Shadowed Ground Kenneth E. Foote, 2013-12-06 Winner John Brinckerhoff Jackson Prize Association of American Geographers 1997 Shadowed Ground explores how and why Americans have memorialized or not the sites of tragic and violent events spanning three centuries of history and every region of the country For this revised edition Kenneth Foote has written a new concluding chapter that looks at the evolving responses to recent acts of violence and terror including the destruction of the Branch Davidian compound at Waco Texas the Oklahoma City bombing the Columbine High School massacre and the terrorist attacks of 9 11

Shadowed Ground Kenneth E. Foote, 1997 From the battlefield at Gettysburg to the Oklahoma City block where the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building once stood sites of violence and tragedy have left indelible marks on the American landscape Some have become places of pilgrimage where visitors mourn losses learn lessons from the tragedy and experience renewal Others became empty places where nothing remains to commemorate or even to mark the occurrence In this pioneering book Kenneth E Foote explores how and why Americans have memorialized or not the sites of tragic and violent events Drawing on years of travel and reflection he traces the history of sites spanning three centuries and every region of the United States Foote deduces that Americans usually react to the scenes of tragedy in one of four ways Many places undergo public sanctification such as Memphis Lorraine Motel where Martin Luther King Jr was assassinated Some are simply designated with a marker while others are rectified and returned to normal use Those that produce shame and revulsion are often obliterated and left empty These differing reactions to sites of violence offer an important new perspective to the debate over violence in American society

Controversial Monuments and Memorials David B. Allison, 2023-09-02 The impetus for the first edition was violent actions the white supremacist rally in Charlottesville Virginia in 2017 which was touched off by discussions about removing a statue to Robert E Lee and resulted in the death of Heather Heyer Since the publication of the first edition both history and democracy are being threatened in ways that we were only seeing small glimpses of in 2018 Today attempts to elevate new or more complex history has been met with vilification States across the country have passed legislation to ban critical race theory from being taught in public schools and are seeking ways to limit what teachers are allowed to teach about slavery and race in the United States These threats are unlikely to abate As such our responsibility as historians community leaders museum professionals and citizens is to redouble our efforts to share human stories in relatable ways and to exercise our rights and wield our power whenever and however we can The revised edition tackles the great issues of our time against the backdrop of monument culture and historical truth

Low, Dana Taplin, Suzanne Scheld, 2009-05-21 A study of public recreation space and how urban developers can encourage ethnic diversity through planning that supports multiculturalism Urban parks such as New York City's Central Park provide vital public spaces where city dwellers of all races and classes can mingle safely while enjoying a variety of recreations By coming together in these relaxed settings different groups become comfortable with each other thereby strengthening their communities and the democratic fabric of society But just the opposite happens when by design or in ignorance parks are made inhospitable to certain groups of people This pathfinding book argues that cultural diversity should be a key goal in designing and maintaining urban parks Using case studies of New York City's Prospect Park Orchard Beach in Pelham Bay Park and Jacob Riis Park in the Gateway National Recreation Area as well as New York's Ellis Island Bridge Proposal and Philadelphia's Independence National Historical Park the authors identify specific ways to promote maintain and manage cultural diversity in urban parks They also uncover the factors that can limit park use including historical interpretive materials that ignore the contributions of different ethnic groups high entrance or access fees park usage rules that restrict ethnic activities and park restorations that focus only on historical or aesthetic values With the wealth of data in this book urban planners park professionals and all concerned citizens will have the tools to create and maintain public parks that serve the needs and interests of all the public

Contested Places, Contested Pasts Kenneth E. Foote, Anett Árvay, 2025-02-21 Contested Places Contested Pasts focuses on how the First and Second World Wars Holocaust Cold War communist period and 1956 Uprising have been memorialized and marked in the Hungarian landscape The book explores the difficult debates surrounding the remembrance and commemoration of these events This is the first comprehensive book length study of Hungary's commemorative landscapes from the First World War to the present By stressing the spatiality and materiality of memory practice it offers new insights into why some events are celebrated widely while other controversial events are marked modestly or not at all Using a comparative case study methodology the book crisscrosses the country using archival sources and extensive fieldwork to document the stories behind dozens of major and minor memorials Examples from Budapest are important but key contributions of this book are the examples drawn from cities towns and villages outside the capital A wealth of photographs maps and diagrams are included to illustrate important ideas especially the range of responses that have emerged to commemorate major historical events In the end the book highlights the value of studies like this one that explore the varied ways in which the World Wars Holocaust and Cold War have been represented in the commemorative landscapes of Europe and beyond This book is for readers interested in Hungarian and European history public art and architecture landscape studies and commemorative practices Weaving theory and examples in an engaging storyline the book will appeal to broader audiences interested in the challenges of confronting Europe's legacies of twentieth century war violence and political upheaval

Seeking Meaning, Seeking Justice in a Post-Cold War World Judith Keene, Elizabeth Rezniewski, 2018-03-27 The challenge for historians as for individuals and nations has been to make sense of the Cold War past without recourse to the obsolete frameworks of a dichotomous world The editors of Seeking Meaning Seeking Justice in the Post Cold War World Judith Keene and Elizabeth Rezniewski have brought together contributions that address the diverse modes by which the Cold War is being assessed with a major focus on countries on the periphery of the Cold War confrontation These approaches include developments in historiography as new intellectual and cultural frame are applied to old debates Authors also consider the universal principles and moral discourses including that of human rights on which judgements have been based and judicial processes instigated and the forms of memorialisation that have sought to come to terms and perhaps achieve reconciliation with a Cold War past Contributors are Ann Curthoys Philip Deery Katherine Hite Michael Humphrey Su kyong Hwang Perry Johansson Judith Keene Betty O'Neill Peter Read Elizabeth Rezniewski Estela Valverde Adrian Vickers and Marivic Wyndham
