Long Walk In Wintertime:

A Long Walk in Wintertime Libby Purves, 2002-12-05 Alice McDonald has escaped all the obvious traps that lie in wait for women. She loves her job but enjoys her clever spirited children too. Her husband Dan the New Man does his share at home and their London house is always full of friends. At her thirty seventh birthday party Alice reflects that their life has been a pretty successful production so far. But love can be treacherous and children are never quite what they seem. Two months later far from home and alone on a desperate quest through the bleak lanes of Norfolk Alice wonders how it fell apart so quickly. Were things ever as good as they seemed? Had the McDonalds really been happy or was it no more than a stage illusion.

Taleworlds and Storyrealms K. Young, 2012-12-06 Beginning is the hardest. It's not because openers are all that scarce but because you're blowing into cracking a universe. Maurice Natanson's openings are already directed toward closings. The first question in presenting a body of work is where to cut in. This is an especially difficult question since the cut in provides a perspective on what follows. A cut is an angle of entry. Wherever I enter from there a realm unfolds itself. In that sense my angle of entry is my point of view. A realm cut into has an orientation. It evidences a hierarchy of importance, relevance, accessibility, value or logic. Its content is no longer neutral and equivalent. From my perspective the realm is not only differentiated in substance but differential in significance. There is a relation between angles and attitudes. Where I look from is tied up with how I see. The first cut opens out into a frame of reference. What count as lines of evidence in that realm materialize along with its background, expectancies, its assumptions, concentrations and confusions, its cosmology, quirks and enchantments. Hence once I am committed to a perspective I am implicated in a methodology, one possessed of puzzles of a certain shape, leading toward solutions within its orthodoxy. Openings are directed toward closings. Another cut would open onto another realm. The realm of events I cut into is a Taleworld inhabited by characters acting in their own space and time.

A Long Walk in the Wintertime Libby Purves, 1999-12 Home Leave Libby Purves, 2003-01-20 A perceptive novel from our favourite chronicler of the dilemmas of modern family life. Catherine and Caroline, Toby and Mark were globetrotting siblings, British diplobrats whose childhood homes lay in Italy or Israel, France or Washington DC wherever their father was posted at the time. But all that was years ago. Now Catherine is approaching middle age, married to a life of cheese-paring, selflessness, looking after young offenders on a chilly organic farm. Mark is a prim supermarket executive. Caroline a wealthy Kensington wife and Toby well, Toby is a problem. The joker in the pack. He always was. Amid growing tensions, marriage fatigue and unspoken resentments, the apparent tragedy of Toby's disappearance jolts his sisters and brother into making angry, anxious journeys from California to Flanders, back in time and into their own hearts.

Gender and Rural Geography Jo Little, 2017-09-29 Gender and Rural Geography explores the relationship between gender and rurality. Feminist theory, gender relations and sexuality have all become central concerns of geographical research and significant progress has been made in terms of our understanding of both the broad relationship between gender and geography and the more detailed differences in the lives of men and women over space The development of feminist perspectives and the study of gender relations in geography has however been fairly uneven over the discipline Both theoretical and empirical work on gender has tended to be concentrated within social and cultural geography Moreover it has been directed largely towards the urban sphere

How Not to be A Perfect Family Libby Purves, 2011-04-14 Perfect Families Tick off museums in the guidebook Tidy everything away neatly Work hard and play fair Show respect for one another Real Families Start fights in the Louvre Keep all their worldly goods on the stairs and in the kitchen Do their homework on the school bus and cheat at Monopoly Tie the shoelaces of sleeping uncles together after Christmas dinner With her customary humour and reliably robust commonsense Libby Purves celebrates family life in all its aspects Her accounts of sibling rivalry and the pitfalls of family Christmas will provoke rueful laughter and strike chords of recognition her practical tips on dealing with everything from marriage maintenance to money matters testing times to trips and treats provide essential help for the hard pressed parent Best of all is her reassuring reminder that no one else has a perfect family either

New Stories from the Midwest Jason L. Brown, Shanie Latham, 2013-03-22 New Stories from the Midwest presents a collection of stories that celebrate an American region too often ignored in discussions about distinctive regional literature The editors solicited nominations from more than 300 magazines literary journals and small presses and narrowed the selection to 19 authors The stories written by Midwestern writers or focusing on the Midwest demonstrate that the quality of fiction from and about the heart of the country rivals that of any other region Guest editor John McNally introduces the anthology which features short fiction by Charles Baxter Dan Chaon Christopher Mohar Rebecca Makkai Lee Martin and others

Crossing the Threshold Harlene Walker, 2014-06-27 In Crossing the Threshold Metaphors of an Evolving Faith Harlene Walker invites us to accompany her on a metaphorical hike through her cathedral forest while she explores her Christian faith and spirituality In the land of don't know the landscape changes radically until we finally come to an open garden of compassion Her faith life evolves realistically she recognizes that our society has evolved from post Christian to post theistic In this new paradigm as she laughs cries and feels frustrated or surprised she sees both her spirituality and her faith strengthen She has prepared herself and us to grow deeper into the wisdom of the heart and soul As we accompany her through many personal conversions Walker shows us that crossing thresholds is the work of body mind and spirit and that there is more than one threshold to cross

The Weavers of Trautenau Janine Holc, 2023-10-16 A sympathetic history that focuses on the experiences of women and girls during the Holocaust and draws on new archival sources Beginning in late 1940 over three thousand Jewish girls and young women were forced from their family homes in Sosnowiec Poland and its surrounding towns to worksites in Germany Believing that they were helping their families to survive these young people were thrust into a world where they labored at textile work for twelve hours a day lived in barracks with little food and received only periodic news of events back home By late 1943 their barracks had been transformed into concentration camps where they were held until liberation in 1945 Using a fresh approach to testimony collections Janine P Holc reconstructs the forced labor experiences of young Jewish females as told by the women who survived and shared their testimony Incorporating new source material the book carefully constructs survivors stories while also taking a theoretical approach one alert to socially constructed intersectional systems of exploitation and harm The Weavers of Trautenau elucidates the limits and possibilities of social relations inside camps and the challenges of moral and emotional repair in the face of indescribable loss during the Holocaust
