STAGE PLAY SUBMITTED FOR LICENCE
Title :	THE WIZARD
No. of Scenes or Acts :	Three Acts
Place of Production :	Widdowson Theatre, London
Date of Production :	19-6-55
Author :	Widdowson Theatre
Submitted by :

This is a revised version, for the best part, of a play discussed in October of last year (Vol. 11/2/50). There have been no major alterations from the original script that is in difficulty, and in some cases impossible, to read. From the correspondence that reached the Lord Chamberlain has not - I am, for instance, surprised that he allowed himself to be included in the many bad reviews. In spite of the friendly critics, I adhere to my original opinion that this is a failing play with nothing to recommend it. The present version has, of course, the same plot and has definitely been toned down. It is almost running at the present moment and its prevailing impression at the moment is the first disappointment has provided no reason for the public.

I want to tell the little children of the world of the true meaning of the word "peace".
 It is not the absence of war, but the presence of love.
 It is not the absence of conflict, but the presence of understanding.
 It is not the absence of pain, but the presence of compassion.
 It is not the absence of death, but the presence of life.

London Opera Observed 1711-1844, Volume I Michael Burden, 2024-08-23 The thrust of these five volumes is contained in their title London Opera Observed It takes its cue from the numerous texts and volumes which during the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries used the concept of spying or observing by a narrator or rambler as a means of establishing a discourse on aspects of London life The material in this five volume reset edition examines opera not simply as a genre of performance but as a wider topic of comment and debate The stories that surrounded the Italian opera singers illuminate contemporary British attitudes towards performance sexuality and national identity The collection includes only complete published material organised chronologically so as to accurately retain the contexts in which the original readers encountered them placing an emphasis on rare texts that have not been reproduced in modern editions The aim of this collection is not to provide a history of opera in England but to facilitate the writing of them or to assist those wishing to study topics within the field Headnotes and footnotes establish the publication information and provide an introduction to the piece its author and the events surrounding it or which caused its publication The notes concentrate on attempting to identify those figures mentioned within the texts The approach is one of presentation not interpretation ensuring that the collection occupies a position that is neutral rather than polemical
