Marines and Helicopters, 1962-1973 William R. Fails, 1995-07 Traces the development of helicopters in the Marine Corps from 1962 to 1973 Portrays accurately the difficulties faced and the obstacles conquered by the men who developed helicopters in the Marine Corps Over 100 figures maps photos and tables Westland and the British Helicopter Industry, 1945-1960 Matthew Uttley, 2001 This study explains how Westland dominated British helicopter production and why government funding and support failed to generate competitive all British alternatives In doing so the book evaluates broader historiographic assumptions about the purported failure of british aircraft procurement during the early post war period and considers the scope and limitations of licensed production as a government mandated procurement strategy The Marines' Fight for Survival Rod Andrew Jr., 2025-10-20 Only five years after Marines raised the American flag on Iwo Jima the United States Marine Corps was close to becoming a hollow force A parsimonious Truman administration and a hostile defense secretary Louis Johnson had reduced the Corps to a handful of understrength infantry battalions assorted supporting artillery and tank units and twelve aircraft squadrons Its future hung in the balance In The Marines Fight for Survival historian and retired Marine Corps Colonel Rod Andrew Jr guides readers through the dramatic twists and turns of the campaign waged by a handful of senior Marines citizens legislators and journalists to defend the Corps and prevent its elimination or forced irrelevance Through politicking intrigue deception and extreme moral courage the Corps defenders waged a bitter battle of policy and publicity in the halls of power and the national media But while this campaign of persuasion moved the needle in some important ways the final victory for the Marines future was ultimately won on the battlefields of Korea Andrew argues that it was the gritty performance of the frontline Marines and their supporting airmen in Korea that ultimately saved the Corps The elite reputation that they created for themselves and the affection they had garnered from the public throughout the twentieth century would not have been possible without the valor and the victories of frontline Marines The Corps place in the national defense structure was sealed with the Douglas Mansfield Act of 1952 in which Congress granted a legal voice to the USMC Commandant on the Joint Chiefs of Staff and made the Corps the only service branch to have a permanent minimal strength protected by law A Bibliography of Military Geography Eugene J. Palka, 1988 This four volume document is designed to enhance scholarly research in the area of military geography and to serve as a reference tool It is anticipated that this will meet the research needs of professors and students of military science geography and history along with members of the Armed Forces government officials and planners This bibliography is organized following the accepted scheme for military geography utilizing three main categories systematic topical and regional Volume I is a complete alphabetized list Volume II is organized systematically Volume III is organized topically and Volume IV collects regional sources U.S. Military Aircraft Designations and Serials Since 1909, 1979 Lister over amerikanske fly serienummer tilh rsforhold m v i perioden 1909 til 1979 Treasury Department Appropriation Bill for 1948
