Peter J. Geib, Lucie Pfaff, 2000 This informative book explores several business topics that are directly related to transition economies with a focus on issues relating to macroeconomics and the cultural environment of international business Written for international business professionals Strategic Management in Central and Eastern Europe examines finance strategies human resources entrepreneurship marketing and how business ethics differ between nations Containing thorough and extensive research this valuable book will help you understand transition economies conduct better business with them and assist these countries in establishing profitable businesses Expansion or Exodus Kari Liuhto, 2019-01-22 Evaluate the impact of Russia's global business expansion Since the collapse of the former Soviet Union tremendous changes have taken place in the Russian Federation's trade relationship with other countries especially with former allies Expansion or Exodus examines how and why Russian corporations invest outside the country and why most of that money remains abroad as the growth and performance of these companies increases at an accelerated rate As the Federation moves closer to joining the World Trade Organization this timely book provides a global view of Russia's outward expansion exploring the operations of Russian firms in old new and forthcoming European Union member states Russian corporations have invested 50 70 billion USD abroad in the last five years with global energy giant Gazprom leading the way Although some of the Russian money has returned home most of it remains abroad largely in the EU and the United States Many ex socialist countries fear the Russian government is using its energy companies as foreign policy tools and in some cases those fears have been grounded But the outward expansion of Russian firms has become less motivated by politics as non energy related companies have begun their internationalization Expansion or Exodus examines the vital issues surrounding Russia's outward foreign direct investments including how a lower middle income country has become a net capital exporter how larger export oriented Russian companies have used Germany as entry to Europe how Russian direct investments in Poland led to corruption and political involvement why foreign direct investments in the Baltic States have been met with suspicion why natural resource based companies have been main drivers of international growth of Russian economy and how manufacturing and telecommunication industries are catching up the development of a Lithuanian oil refinery from state ownership to privatization by an American corporation to acquisition with Russian capital the international activities of the leading Russian companies in several industrial sectors the major factors that form contemporary Russian business culture the negative features of receiving Russian investments the outward internationalization of Russia's telecommunication company Mobile TeleSystems MTS and much more Expansion or Exodus is an invaluable resource for the international business community policymakers and academics

Global Employment Trends Claire Harasty, Dorothea Schmidt, International Labour Office, 2003 Incorporating the most recent data available for 2002 this report analyses current labour market trends and examines the impact of the global economic downturn and post 11 September developments upon different world regions Covering Latin America and the Caribbean East Asia South East Asia the Middle East and North Africa and sub Saharan Africa the transition economies and industrial countries it focuses on the distinct labour market characteristics and challenges faced by each region and economic group It also traces factors contributing to the global employment decline such as the increase in informal sector employment the decrease in employment in information and communication technology as well as extensive job losses in the travel and tourism industries and the export and labour intensive manufacturing sectors American Book Publishing Record, 2000

The Mortality Crisis in Transitional Economies Giovanni Andrea Cornia, Renato Panicià, 2000-08-03 In spite of widespread expectations of improvements in living standards and health conditions in most of the countries of the former Soviet bloc the transition to the market economy was accompanied by a sharp increase in already high death rates Such an increase provoked an excess mortality of some three million people over the period 1989-96 alone an unprecedented phenomenon in peacetime Such a crisis remains poorly explained has generated a limited policy response in the countries concerned and international organizations and is bound to generate important political and economic repercussions This book is the first comprehensive assessment of the mortality crisis in transitional economies of its causes and of its remedies on the basis among others of micro data sets and quasi panels on health trends which have never been used before Contributions by demographers economists sociologists epidemiologists and health experts provide a rigorous analysis of the upsurge in mortality rates with the aim of contributing to the launch of vigorous policies to tackle the crisis Market Entry and Operational Decision Making in East-West Business Relationships Jorma Larimo, 2013-04-03 Understand the dynamics of East West relationships in business to make better decisions The Eastern expansion of the European Union has increased interest in this geographic region Market Entry and Operational Decision Making in East West Business Relationships presents 10 case studies that focus on firms in Central and Eastern Europe and the strategies used for success Academics researchers and practitioners examine a variety of topics including entry and marketing strategies of Western multinational companies choices of locations for foreign direct investments first mover advantages entry behavior of retailing companies dynamics in subsidiary operations industry clusters decision making autonomy and internationalization Market Entry and Operational Decision Making in East West Business Relationships provides information that is uniquely timely and practical to those in business in this region The chapters bring the academic and the practical perspectives together by analyzing various research studies from different companies in several Central and Eastern European countries This resource discusses companies and the decisions about where they begin and maintain operations and why these strategies were chosen The book provides a clear spotlight on the business decisions currently taking place in the East West interaction Topics in Market Entry and Operational Decision Making in East West Business Relationships include studies of four Estonian companies on their emergence and success factors a comparative study of performance measures of companies in Central and Eastern Europe a detailed look at the strategies of Finnish and Swedish companies in the Baltic states and Russia the location decisions of Italian firms a comparative study of in store shopping behavior in Italy France and Poland the regionalization of multinational company strategies studies of Estonian companies including the wood and forest industries and more Market Entry and Operational Decision Making in East West Business Relationships is an essential resource that examines issues of critical importance to business researchers practitioners and policymakers Enhancing Financial Sector Surveillance in Low-Income Countries - Case Studies

International Monetary Fund,2012-04-16 This supplement presents ten case studies which highlight the roles of targeted policies to facilitate sustainable financial deepening in a variety of country circumstances reflecting historical experiences that parallel a range of markets in LICs The case studies were selected to broadly capture efforts by countries to increase reach e g financial inclusion depth e g financial intermediation and breadth of financial systems e g capital market cross border development The analysis in the case studies highlights the importance of a balanced approach to financial deepening A stable macroeconomic environment is vital to instill consumer institutional and investor confidence necessary to encourage financial market activity Targeted public policy initiatives e g collateral payment systems development can be helpful in removing impediments and creating infrastructure for improved market operations while ensuring appropriate oversight and regulation of financial markets to address potential sources of instability and market failures Applied Economics for Development: Empirical Approaches to Selected Social and Economic Issues in Transition Economies Mahmut Zortuk,2018-01-15 Transition economies experience transformation of their economic system Following the disintegration of the Soviet Union a number of former socialist countries underwent transitions from central planning to a market economy

More generally many rapidly growing economies undergo no less profound transformations of their economic systems. Contrary to common misconception the transition process cannot be simply reduced to eliminating state intervention and liberalizing the economy. Economies under transition exhibit a unique set of policy challenges. Unlike developed market economies missing markets or market failures abound. Economic transformation takes the form of rapidly evolving patterns of international trade and investment, industrial structure and consumption. These changes call for appropriate public policies. A continuing flow of investment hinges on suitable institutions, the provision of public infrastructure and other public goods. Adequate regulation can be central in ensuring that environmental resources are sustainably managed. And sophisticated production systems call for corresponding social institutions in terms of education, health and welfare provisions. In all these cases accurate empirical assessments are central to the design of effective policy. This book presents a selection of pressing economic and social issues in transition economies. Selected issues include the development of particular industrial sectors, the drivers and consequences of foreign direct investment, public finances, urbanization, social indicators, environmental policy and energy diversification. In each case an original empirical analysis is performed using a variety of advanced quantitative methods applied to recent data. The book will be of interest to economists studying transition economies, economic development or having a general interest in applied economics. It will be of particular interest to applied economists, policy analysts and policy makers in transition economies concerned with the shape and direction of appropriate economic reforms.
