Race And Social Revolution:

Race, Racisms, and Social Revolution Atlantis Books, Hollywood, Race and Revolution Gary B. Nash, 1990-12 Race and Revolution is a trenchant study of the revolutionary generation's early efforts to right the apparent contradiction of slavery and of their ultimate compromises that not only left the institution intact but provided it with the protection of a vastly strengthened government after 1788 Race and Revolution describes the free black community's response to this failure of the revolution's promise its vigorous and articulate pleas for justice and the community's successes in building its own African American institutions within the hostile environment of early nineteenth century America Race and Revolution Max Shachtman, 2003-05-17 Astonishingly advance for its time the document was originally drafted in 1933 as Communism and the Negro and was the most comprehensive statement on race produced by the Left Opposition the dissenting Communist tendency led by Leon Trotsky Race and Revolution places the black struggle for freedom and equality at the heart of American history Racial oppression Shachtman argues can be comprehended only within the totality of social and class relations The document culminates in a devastating polemic against the Communist Party's call for a Black Belt state in the American South Jacket Revolutionizing Romance Nadine T Fernandez, 2010-02-18 Scholars have long heralded mestizaje or race mixing as the essence of the Cuban nation Revolutionizing Romance is an account of the continuing significance of race in Cuba as it is experienced in interracial relationships This ethnography tracks young couples as they move in a world fraught with shifting connections of class race and culture that are reflected in space racialized language and media representations of blackness whiteness and mixedness As one of the few scholars to conduct long term anthropological fieldwork in the island nation Nadine T Fernandez offers a rare insider's view of the country's transformations during the post Soviet era Following a comprehensive history of racial formations up through Castro's rule the book then delves into more intimate and contemporary spaces Language space and place foreign tourism and the realm of the family each reveal through the author's deft analysis the paradox of living a racialized life in a nation that celebrates a policy of colorblind equality Race and Social Revolution Byram Campbell, 1958 Race, Class, and Power Leo Kuper, 2017-07-05 Examining in detail the apparently inexorable polarization of society in such countries as Rwanda Algeria and South Africa the author questions whether current theories correctly explain the past or offer adequate guides for the future In their place he puts forward an alternative neo Durkheimian view of the possibility of non violent revolutionary change based on the development of such social and cultural continuities as already exist within each plural society But he warns that this is an age of passionate commitment to violence in which vicarious killers abound in search of a Vietnam of their own The aim of this groundbreaking and challenging book is to create theoretical perspectives in which to view the racial conflict of plural societies Written in the turbulent early 1970s the book demonstrates the inadequacy of then prevailing views such as Marxist interpretations of racial conflict as class struggle and the Fanon a priori rejection of non violent techniques of change which Kuper holds responsible for the acceptance of what he calls the platitudes of violence The book concludes with more personal sections focusing on the author's struggles with the then prevailing South African society critiques of that and censorship of his attempts to make these public In the light of subsequent changes in South Africa many decades later this book serves not only as an important work of political sociology but as a personal testament to the fight against racism in South Africa Leo Kuper was professor of sociology and director of the African Studies Center at the University of California Los Angeles A South African by birth he was one of the first writers on genocide as well as other aspects of African studies and urban sociology His major book Genocide Penguin 1981 remains in print The Leo Kuper Foundation is a non governmental organization dedicated to the eradication of genocide through research advice and education It was created in Washington DC in 1994 following the death of Leo Kuper with the aim of improving measures to prevent genocide The main area of work for the past five years has been in support of the creation of an International Criminal Court Troy Duster is director at the Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge New York University

Global Multiculturalism Grant H. Cornwell, Eve Walsh Stoddard, 2001 Global Multiculturalism offers a rich collection of case studies on ethnic racial and cultural diversity drawn from thirteen countries each unique in the way it understands negotiates and represents its diversity A multi disciplinary group of authors shows how in different nations identity groups are included or made invisible by forced assimilation or reviled even to the point of genocide Framed within a theoretical discussion of national identity transnationalism hybridity and diaspora each chapter surveys the demographics and history of its country and then analyzes the dynamics of diversity With cases ranging from Bosnia to Chiapas Cuba to China and Zimbabwe to France this volume offers a truly global perspective and scope Its genuinely comparative methodology and range of disciplinary perspectives make it a unique resource for all those seeking to understand ethnic conflict and diversity

Afro-Cuban Identity in Post-Revolutionary Novel and Film Andrea E. Morris, 2012 Afro Cuban Identity in Post Revolutionary Novel and Film examines the changing discourse on race as portrayed in Cuban novels and films produced after 1959 Andrea Easley Morris analyzes the artists participation in and questioning of the revolutionary government's revision of national identity to include the unique experience and contributions of Cuban men and women of African descent While the Cuban revolution brought sweeping changes that vastly improved the material condition of many Afro Cubans at the time overrepresented among Cuba's poor and marginalized the government's official position was that racial inequities had been resolved as early as 1962 Although a more open dialogue on race was cut short the work of several novelists and film directors from the late 1960s and 70s expresses the need to explore what was gained and lost by Afro Cubans in the early years of the revolution among them Manuel Granados Miguel Barnet Nivaria Tejera Sara Gomez Cesar Leante Tomas Gutierrez Alea Sergio Giral and Manuel Cofi o Their works participate in the process of redefining Cuban national identity that took place after the revolution and more specifically they explore the place of Afro Cuban identity within a broader notion of revolutionary Cubanness This occurs through an emphasis on Afro Cuban cultural practices that have constituted forms of resistance to colonial and neo colonial oppression This book examines the identity conflicts portrayed in these works and takes into account the artists negotiation of their own status within the revolutionary context by looking at the narrative strategies used to address racial issues within the constraints placed on cultural production in Cuba after 1962 Race and Ethnicity in Latin American History Vincent Peloso,2014-03-21 The Spanish and Portuguese empires that existed in the Americas for over three hundred years resulted in the creation of a New World population in which a complex array of racial and ethnic distinctions were embedded in the discourse of power During the colonial era racial and ethnic identities were publicly acknowledged by the state and the Church and subject to stringent codes that shaped both individual lives and the structures of society The legacy of these distinctions continued after independence as race and ethnicity continued to form culturally defined categories of social life In Race and Ethnicity in Latin American History Vincent Peloso traces the story of ethnicity and race in Latin America from the sixteenth century to the contemporary period In a short synthetic narrative he lays the groundwork for students to understand how the history of colonial racism is connected to the problems of racism in today s Latin American societies With features including timelines plentiful maps and illustrations and boxes highlighting important historical figures the text provides a clear and accessible introduction to the complex subject of race and ethnicity in the history of Latin America Social Theory: Continuity and Confrontation Roberta Garner,Black Hawk Suffrage Daniel De Leon,1911 The Price of Defiance Charles W. Eagles,2009-11-15 When James Meredith enrolled as the first African American student at the University of Mississippi in 1962 the resulting riots produced more casualties than any other clash of the civil rights era Eagles shows that the violence resulted from the university s and the state s long defiance of the civil rights movement and federal law Ultimately the price of such behavior the price of defiance was not only the murderous riot that rocked the nation and almost closed the university but also the nation s enduring scorn for Ole Miss and Mississippi Eagles paints a remarkable portrait of Meredith himself by describing his unusual family background his personal values and his service in the U S Air Force all of which prepared him for his experience at Ole Miss Radicals,
