Race Self Employment And Upward Mobility An Illusive American Dream:

Race, Self-Employment, and Upward Mobility Timothy Mason Bates, 1997 Refuting traditional notions about entrepreneurship and opportunity scholar Timothy Bates finds that across all racial and ethnic lines self employment and upward mobility mainly are open to those who are educated skilled and with significant financial resources Bates's analysis is based largely on the massive Characteristics of Business Owners survey compiled by the U S Census Bureau Toward the Meeting of the Waters Winfred B. Moore, Jr., Orville Vernon Burton, 2009 Choice Outstanding Academic Title A provocative look into civil rights progress in the Palmetto State from activists statesmen and historians Toward the Meeting of the Waters represents a watershed moment in civil rights history bringing together voices of leading historians alongside recollections from central participants to provide the first comprehensive history of the civil rights movement as experienced by black and white South Carolinians Edited by Winfred B Moore Jr and Orville Vernon Burton this work originated with a highly publicized landmark conference on civil rights held at the Citadel in Charleston The volume opens with an assessment of the transition of South Carolina leaders from defiance to moderate enforcement of federally mandated integration and includes commentary by former governor and U S senator Ernest F Hollings and former governor John C West Subsequent chapters recall defining moments of white on black violence and aggression to set the context for understanding the efforts of reformers such as Levi G Byrd and Septima Poinsette Clark and for interpreting key episodes of white resistance Emerging from these essays is arresting evidence that although South Carolina did not experience as much violence as many other southern states the civil rights movement here was more fiercely embattled than previously acknowledged The section of retrospectives serves as an oral history of the era as it was experienced by a mixture of locally and nationally recognized participants including historians such as John Hope Franklin and Tony Badger as well as civil rights activists Joseph A De Laine Jr Beatrice Brown Rivers Charles McDew Constance Curry Matthew J Perry Jr Harvey B Gantt and Cleveland Sellers Jr The volume concludes with essays by historians Gavin Wright Dan Carter and Charles Joyner who bring this story to the present day and examine the legacy of the civil rights movement in South Carolina from a modern perspective Toward the Meeting of the Waters also includes thirty seven photographs from the period most of them by Cecil Williams and many published here for the first time The Economics of Self-Employment and Entrepreneurship Simon C.

Can the Poor Save? Michael Sherraden, 2017-09-08 Many policymakers argue that the best poverty policy not only provides cash to the poor for subsistence but also incentives and structures that encourage long term social and economic improvement As part of this they make the case for Individual Development Accounts IDAs a new policy proposal designed to help the poor save and to build assets This book explores IDAs to determine their effectiveness IDAs are matched savings accounts targeted on low income low wealth individuals Savings in IDAs are used for home ownership post secondary education small business development and other purposes Do IDAs work If they do for whom And does how an IDA is designed determine savings outcomes This volume is the first analysis of matched savings by the poor to use data from monthly bank statements It comes at a critical time as debate rages over the merits of individual social security accounts IDAs also respond to policy that is becoming more asset based and less inclusive of the poor The authors argue for the efficacy of IDAs to counter this tendency They find that while savings outcomes vary among participants no characteristics such as low income or public assistance preclude saving They examine effects of IDA design the match rate savings targets and the use of automatic transfer on savings results and analyze factors that influence varying rates of saving and spending over time They conclude that financial education and other support services though costly improve savings performance To address the issue of cost they suggest a two tier system of IDA design one with broad access and simple services and the other with targeted access and intensive services Can the Poor Save offers a wealth of lessons to those interested in saving and asset accumulation among the poor It not only breaks new ground in the scientific study of savings behavior but also offers concrete evidence based recommendations to improve policies designed to encourage the poor to save and how to make such policies more inclusive

The Hidden Cost of Being African American Thomas M. Shapiro, 2004 Over the past three decades racial prejudice in America has declined significantly and many African American families have seen a steady rise in employment and annual income But alongside these encouraging signs Thomas Shapiro argues in The Hidden Cost of Being African American fundamental levels of racial inequality persist particularly in the area of asset accumulation inheritance savings accounts stocks bonds home equity and other investments Shapiro reveals how the lack of these family assets along with continuing racial discrimination in crucial areas like homeownership dramatically impact the everyday lives of many black families reversing gains earned in schools and on jobs and perpetuating the cycle of poverty in which far too many find themselves trapped Shapiro uses a combination of in depth interviews with almost 200 families from Los Angeles Boston and St Louis and national survey data with 10 000 families to show how racial inequality is transmitted across generations We see how those families with private wealth are able to move up from generation to generation relocating to safer communities with better schools and passing along the accompanying advantages to their children At the same time those without significant wealth remain trapped in communities that don't allow them to move up no matter how hard they work Shapiro challenges white middle class families to consider how the privileges that wealth brings not only improve their own chances but also hold back people who don't have them This wealthfare is a legacy of inequality that if unchanged will project social injustice far into the future Showing that over half of black families fall below the asset poverty line at the beginning of the new century The Hidden Cost of Being African American will challenge all Americans to reconsider what must be done to end racial inequality The New Oxford Handbook of Economic Geography Dariusz Wójcik, 2018-01-04 The first fifteen years of the 21st century have thrown into sharp relief the challenges of growth equity stability and sustainability facing the world economy In addition they have exposed the inadequacies of mainstream economics in providing answers to these challenges This volume gathers over 50 leading scholars from around the world to offer a forward looking perspective of economic geography to understanding the various building blocks relationships and trajectories in the world economy The perspective is at the same time grounded in theory and in the experiences of particular places Reviewing state of the art of economic geography setting agendas and with illustrations and empirical evidence from all over the world the book should be an essential reference for students researchers as well as strategists and policy makers Building on the success of the first edition this volume offers a radically revised updated and broader approach to economic geography With the backdrop of the global financial crisis finance is investigated in chapters on financial stability financial innovation global financial networks the global map of savings and investments and financialization Environmental challenges are addressed in chapters on resource economies vulnerability of regions to climate change carbon markets and energy transitions Distribution and consumption feature alongside more established topics on the firm innovation and work The handbook also captures the theoretical and conceptual innovations of the last fifteen years including evolutionary economic geography and the global production networks approach Addressing the dangers of inequality instability and environmental crisis head on the volume concludes with strategies for growth and new ways of envisioning the spatiality of economy for the future

Neighborhood Poverty and Segregation in the (Re-)Production of Disadvantage Dolores Trevizo, Mary Lopez, 2018-05-31 Focusing on shopkeepers in Latino neighborhoods in Los Angeles Dolores Trevizo and Mary Lopez reveal how neighborhood poverty affects the business performance of Mexican immigrant entrepreneurs Their survey of shopkeepers in twenty immigrant neighborhoods demonstrates that even slightly less impoverished multiethnic communities offer better business opportunities than do the highly impoverished racially segregated Mexican neighborhoods of Los Angeles Their findings reveal previously overlooked aspects of microclass as well as legal capital advantages The authors argue that even poor Mexican immigrants whose class backgrounds in Mexico imparted an entrepreneurial disposition can achieve a modicum of business success in the right U S neighborhood context and the more quickly they build legal capital the better their outcomes While the authors show that the local place characteristics of neighborhoods both reflect and reproduce class and racial inequalities they also demonstrate that the diversity of experience among Mexican immigrants living within the spatial boundaries of these communities can contribute to economic mobility The Store in the Hood Steven J.
