Nobility and the Making of Race in Eighteenth-Century Britain Tim Mc Inerney,2023-09-07 Nobility and the Making of Race in Eighteenth Century Britain focuses on 18th century Britain and Ireland at a time when race theory as we know it today was steadily emerging in the realm of natural philosophy to examine the structural relationship between nobility and race This ground breaking book examines texts from the fields of naturalism political philosophy medicine and colonial venture as well as interrogating works of drama and literature in order to track how climate based understandings of human variety at this time became increasingly imbued with noble traditions of genealogical purity and hierarchies of descent This process the book argues allowed British naturalists and wider society to understand global populations according to an already familiar pattern of genealogical inequality and offered the proponents of race theory a ready made model of natural supremacy In this highly original and meticulously researched book Tim McInerney explains why nobility and race developed in the way they did and how the premise of each promoted a certain idea of superiority The result is a necessary in depth understanding of how genealogical exclusivity works as a power strategy vital to students and scholars alike My Vision Muhammad ibn Rashid Al Maktum,Muhammad ibn Rāshid Āl Maktūm,2012-08

Race and Liberty in America Jonathan Bean,2025-02-04 In this long awaited updated edition of Race How classical liberals led the fights against slavery and racism against seemingly insurmountable odds and long before such positions became popular What classical liberals defense of a natural right to migration implies for today s immigration controversies How capitalism undermines racism by penalizing those who act on their taste for discrimination Why America s obtuse preoccupation with left versus right politics overshadows solutions to racial division How we can improve race relations in the United States today And much much more From the Declaration of Independence the antislavery movement post Civil War reconstruction the Progressive Era the Great Depression and World War II the civil rights era George Floyd and Black

Lives Matter all the way up to the present day each chapter in this new and improved updated edition illuminates how specific time periods in American history grappled with the demands of equality Citing such influential Americans as Thomas Jefferson Louis Marshall Frederick Douglass Booker T Washington and Zora Neale Hurston plus those missing from other books and heretofore lost to history Bean shows how classical liberal thought on race relations has helped shape both law and public opinion and how it will need to do so again if America as we know it is to prosper and thrive If you re ready to trade the tired and failed left versus right politics for timeless principles that actually work and uplift societies read Race Liberty in America Routledge Handbook of Sport, Race and Ethnicity John Nauright, David K Wiggins, 2016-09-13

Race at the Top Natasha Warikoo, 2024-05-20 Introduction good parenting in an age of migration Chasing excellence in the suburbs Tensions over the right way to achieve academic excellence The racial divides of extracurricular excellence emotional well being happiness and status The right way to parent Conclusion the anxieties of parenting and the American Dream Race among Friends Marianne Modica, 2015-11-10 Many saw the 2008 election of Barack Obama as a sign that America had moved past the issue of race that a colorblind society was finally within reach But as Marianne Modica reveals in Race Among Friends attempts to be colorblind do not end racism in fact ignoring race increases the likelihood that racism will occur in our schools and in society This intriguing volume focuses on a racially friendly suburban charter school called Excellence Academy highlighting the ways that students and teachers think about race and act out racial identity Modica finds that even in an environment where students of all racial backgrounds work and play together harmoniously race affects the daily experiences of students and teachers in profound but unexamined ways Some teachers she notes feared that talking about race in the classroom would open them to charges of racism so they avoided the topic And rather than generate honest and constructive conversations about race student friendships opened the door for insensitive racial comments by whites resentment and silence by blacks and racially biased administrative practices In the end the school s friendly environment did not promote and may have hindered serious discussion of race and racial inequity The desire to ignore race in favor of a colorblind society Modica writes has become an entrenched part of American culture But as Race Among Friends shows when race becomes a taboo subject it has serious ramifications for students and teachers of all ethnic origins

The Race Controversy in American Education Lillian Dowdell Drakeford Ph.D.,2015-07-28 In this unique two volume work expert scholars and practitioners examine race and racism in public education tackling controversial educational issues such as the school to prison pipeline charter schools school funding affirmative action and racialized curricula This work is built on the premise that recent efforts to advance color blind race neutral educational policies and reforms have not only proven ineffective in achieving racial equity and equality of educational opportunities and outcomes in America s public schools but also exacerbated existing inequalities That point is made through a collection of essays that examine the consequences of racial inequality on the school experience and success of students of color and other historically marginalized populations Addressing K 12 education and higher education in historically black as well as predominantly white institutions the work probes the impact of race and racism on education policies and reforms to determine the role schools school processes and school structures play in the perpetuation of racial inequality in American education Each volume validates the impact of race on teaching and learning and exposes the ways in which racism manifests itself in U S schools In addition practical recommendations are presented that may be used to confront and eradicate racism in education By exposing what happens when issues of race and racism are marginalized or ignored this collection will prepare readers to resist and perhaps finally overcome the racial inequality that plagues America's schools

R.A.C.E. Mentoring Through Social Media Donna Y. Ford, Michelle Trotman Scott, Ramon B. Goings, Tuwana T. Wingfield, Malik S. Henfield, 2016-12-01 The Ivory Tower is and can often be a lonely place for faculty of color. Social injustices run deep and are entrenched within academia. Faculty of color, more specifically Black and Hispanic, often lament about the Black Brown tax that frequently takes its toll both personally and professionally and pushes them out of the academy. Similar to trends in P-12 settings, educators of color in postsecondary contexts represent less than 10% of the profession. In essence, we are an anomaly, and the implications of this are clear and dire as evidenced by persistent achievement access and expectation gaps within the academy. Scholars of color, SOC, at all stages but particularly during doctoral training frequently struggle to not just survive but to thrive in the academy. Too many fail to earn their doctoral degree, with many wearing the All But Dissertation (ABD) as a badge of honor. Although ABD is not a degree, many scholars of color receive inadequate mentoring, often substandard in comparison to the handholding White students receive, which leaves far too many doctoral students of color lost, bewildered, angry, indignant, and defeated. This righteous indignation is justified but excused away using the myth of meritocracy and colorblind notions of success followed by a myriad of problems steeped with victim blaming as noted in the classic Presumed Incompetent: The Intersections of Race and Class for Women in Academia by Gutierrez y Muhs, Niemann, Gonzalez Harris, 2012. The aforementioned work was not the first treatise on higher education and how the non status quo along with those grappling with oppression and double standards experience the profession called higher education. Moreover, The Chilly Climate Sandler Silverberg Hall 1996 report, which focused on females, was also telling but not enough was addressed and disclosed about females of color until version two. But these issues do not stop with females of color but instead extend to all faculty of color. R.A.C.E. Mentoring, a social media Facebook group with several subgroups (see Figures 1 and 2), was created by Donna Y. Ford, Michelle Trotman Scott, and Malik S. Henfield in 2013 to tackle the numerous thorny and contentious issues and challenges in higher education. We began by intentionally attending to the needs of students enrolled at mostly White universities as well as those who attended historically Black colleges and universities while keeping the unique nuances and challenges of each setting in mind. We wanted scholars of color to thrive in both. Fondly and affectionately called RM, our charge and challenge is to affirm the dignity and worth of scholars of color. Additionally, we recognize that there are scholars outside of academe and their contributions as well to impact and affect change for Black and Brown people inside and outside of academe need to be acknowledged. These scholars are community organizers, activists, P-12 teachers, and families. It truly takes a village.

Critical Race Counterstories along the Chicana/Chicano Educational Pipeline Tara J. Yosso, 2013-02-01 Chicanas/os are part of the youngest, largest, and fastest growing racial/ethnic minority population in the United States; yet at every schooling level they suffer the lowest educational outcomes of any racial ethnic group Using a counterstorytelling methodology Tara Yosso debunks racialized myths that blame the victims for these unequal educational outcomes and redirects our focus toward historical patterns of institutional neglect She artfully interweaves empirical data and theoretical arguments with engaging narratives that expose and analyse racism as it functions to limit access and opportunity for Chicana o students By humanising the need to transform our educational system Yosso offers an accessible tool for teaching and learning about the problems and possibilities present along the Chicano a educational pipeline
