Race Writing And Difference:

"Race", Writing, and Difference, 1985 "Race," Writing, and Difference Henry Louis Gates, 1986 A classic of cultural criticism Race Writing and Difference provides a broad introduction to the idea of race as a meaningful category in the study of literature and the shaping of critical theory This collection demonstrates the variety of critical approaches through which one may discuss the complexities of racial otherness in various modes of discourse Now fifteen years after their first publication these essays have managed to escape the clichés associated with the race class gender trinity of 80s criticism and remain a provocative overview of the complex interplay between race writing and difference The Post-colonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft, Gareth Griffiths, Helen Tiffin, 2006 Boasting new extracts from major works in the field as well as an impressive list of contributors this second edition of a bestselling Reader is an invaluable introduction to the most seminal texts in post colonial theory and criticism The African American Male, Writing, and Difference W. Lawrence Hogue, 2012-02-01 In this wide ranging analysis W Lawrence Hogue argues that African American life and history is more diverse than even African American critics generally acknowledge Focusing on literary representations of African American males in particular Hogue examines works by James Weldon Johnson William Melvin Kelley Charles Wright Nathan Heard Clarence Major James Earl Hardy and Don Belton to see how they portray middle class Christian subaltern voodoo urban jazz blues postmodern and gay African American cultures Hogue shows that this polycentric perspective can move beyond a racial uplift approach to African American literature and history and help paint a clearer picture of the rich diversity of African American life and culture Selected Writings on Race and Difference Stuart Hall, 2021-04-02 In Selected Writings on Race and Difference editors Paul Gilroy and Ruth Wilson Gilmore gather more than twenty essays by Stuart Hall that highlight his extensive and groundbreaking engagement with race representation identity difference and diaspora Spanning the whole of his career this collection includes classic theoretical essays such as The Whites of Their Eyes 1981 and Race the Floating Signifier 1997 It also features public lectures political articles and popular pieces that circulated in periodicals and newspapers which demonstrate the breadth and depth of Hall's contribution to public discourses of race Foregrounding how and why the analysis of race and difference should be concrete and not merely descriptive this collection gives organizers and students of social theory ways to approach the interconnections of race with culture and consciousness state and society policing and freedom The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing Debbie Lisle, 2006-11-02 This book brings the serious world of politics to the superficial world of contemporary travel writing Race and the Writing of History Maghan Keita, 2000-11-30 Despite increased interest in recent years in the role of race in Western culture scholars have neglected much of the body of work produced in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries by black intellectuals For example while DuBois' thoughts about Africa may be familiar to contemporary academics those of his important precursors and contemporaries are not widely known Similarly although contemporary figures such as Martin

Bernal Molefi Assante and other Afrocentrists are the subject of heated debate such debates are rarely illuminated by an awareness of the traditions that preceded them Race and The Writing of History redresses this imbalance using Bernal's Black Athena and its critics as an introduction to the historical inquiries of African American intellectuals and many of their African counterparts Keita examines the controversial legacy of writing history in America and offers a new perspective on the challenge of building new historiographies and epistemologies As a result this book sheds new light on how ideas about race and racism have shaped the stories we tell about ourselves

Occupying Architecture Jonathan Hill, 2005-07-28

Occupying Architecture focuses on the importance of the user of architecture It emphasises the cross currents between design theory and use and the need for a wider cross cultural approach to architecture Beginning with the architect the book proceeds to explore models for architectural practice that actively engage the issue of use and concludes with examination of the user The authors draw on illustrations and examples from London Las Vegas Barcelona and Bruges to discuss how and why architecture ignores the user The apparent contradictions between the producer and the product of architecture are highlighted before the activities of the architect and the actions of the user are explored This book illustrates that architecture is not just a building it is the relation between an object and its occupant

Representing Atrocity in Taiwan Sylvia Li-chun Lin, 2007-11-30 In 1945 Taiwan was placed under the administrative control of the Republic of China and after two years accusations of corruption and a failing economy sparked a local protest that was brutally quashed by the Kuomintang government The February Twenty Eighth or 2 28 Incident led to four decades of martial law that became known as the White Terror During this period talk of 2 28 was forbidden and all dissent violently suppressed but since the lifting of martial law in 1987 this long buried history has been revisited through commemoration and narrative cinema and remembrance Drawing on a wealth of secondary theoretical material as well as her own original research Sylvia Li chun Lin conducts a close analysis of the political narrative and ideological structures involved in the fictional and cinematic representations of the 2 28 Incident and White Terror She assesses the role of individual and collective memory and institutionalized forgetting while underscoring the dangers of re creating a historical past and the risks of trivialization She also compares her findings with scholarly works on the Holocaust and the aftermath of the atomic bombings of Japan questioning the politics of forming public and personal memories and the political teleology of closure This is the first book to be published in English on the 2 28 Incident and White Terror and offers a valuable matrix of comparison for studying the portrayal of atrocity in a specific locale
