Rationality And Mind In Early Buddhism:

Rationality and Mind in Early Buddhism Frank J. Hoffman, 2002-01-01 Corrected Edition Rationality and Mind in Early Buddhism Frank J. Hoffman, 1987 Rationality and Mind in Early Buddhism Frederick John Hoffman, 1981

Rationality and Mind in Early Buddhism Frank John Hoffman, 1981 Studies in the Buddhistic Culture of India During the 7th and 8th Centuries A.D. Lal Mani Joshi, 1977-01-01 It is a pioneer attempt of its kind to study Indian Buddhism in its entirety as a system of rational philosophy profound faith and as a historical matrix of creative human culture and civilized institution during the 7th and 8th centuries the brilliant epoch of the University of Nalanda the mere name of which spells the great wonder that was Buddhism in Ancient India A chapter on the contribution of Buddhism to Indian Civilization has also been added The treatment of the subject is critical and integral though not traditional Encyclopedia of Indian

Philosophies Karl H. Potter, 1995-01-01 This constitutes the first volume of the series It indicates the scope of the project and provides a list of sources which will be surveyed in the subsequent volumes as well as provide a guide to secondary literature for further study of Indian Philosophy It lists in relative chronological order Sanskrit and Tamil works All known editions and translations into European languages are cited where published versions of the text are not known a guide to the location of manuscripts of the work is provided The Philosophy of Desire in the Buddhist Pali Canon David Webster, 2005 David

Webster explores the notion of desire as found in the Buddhist Pali Canon Beginning by addressing the idea of a paradox of desire whereby we must desire to end desire the varieties of desire that are articulated in the Pali texts are examined A range of views of desire as found in Western thought are presented as well as Hindu and Jain approaches An exploration of the concept of ditthi view or opinion is also provided exploring the way in which holding views can be seen as analogous to the process of desiring Other subjects investigated include the mind body relationship the range of Pali terms for desire and desire's positive spiritual value A comparative exploration of the various approaches completes the work Buddhist

Philosophy William Edelglass, Jay Garfield, 2009-04-21 The Buddhist philosophical tradition is vast internally diverse and comprises texts written in a variety of canonical languages It is hence often difficult for those with training in Western philosophy who wish to approach this tradition for the first time to know where to start and difficult for those who wish to introduce and teach courses in Buddhist philosophy to find suitable textbooks that adequately represent the diversity of the tradition expose students to important primary texts in reliable translations that contextualize those texts and that foreground specifically philosophical issues Buddhist Philosophy fills that lacuna It collects important philosophical texts from each major Buddhist tradition Each text is translated and introduced by a recognized authority in Buddhist studies Each introduction sets the text in context and introduces the philosophical issues it addresses and arguments it presents providing a useful and authoritative guide to reading and to teaching the text The volume is organized into topical sections that reflect the way that Western philosophers think about the structure of the discipline and each section is introduced by an essay explaining Buddhist approaches to that subject matter and the place of the texts collected in that section in the enterprise. This volume is an ideal single text for an intermediate or advanced course in Buddhist philosophy and makes this tradition immediately accessible to the philosopher or student versed in Western philosophy coming to Buddhism for the first time. It is also ideal for the scholar or student of Buddhist studies who is interested specifically in the philosophical dimensions of the Buddhist tradition.

Companion Encyclopedia of Asian Philosophy Dr Brian Carr, Brian Carr, Indira

Mahalingam, 2002-09-11 The Companion Encyclopedia of Asian Philosophy is a unique one volume reference work which makes a broad range of richly varied philosophical, ethical and theological traditions accessible to a wide audience. The Companion is divided into six sections covering the main traditions within Asian thought: Persian, Indian, Buddhist, Chinese, Japanese and Islamic philosophy. Each section contains a collection of chapters which provide comprehensive coverage of the origins of the tradition, its approaches to, for example, logic and languages and to questions of morals and society. The chapters also contain useful histories of the lives of the key influential thinkers as well as a thorough analysis of the current trends.

Philosophies of Appropriated Religions Soraj Hongladarom, Jeremiah Joven Joaquin, Frank J. Hoffman, 2023-12-21 This book brings together different intercultural philosophical points of view discussing the philosophical impact of what we call the appropriated religions of Southeast Asia. Southeast Asia is home to most of the world's religions. Buddhism is predominantly practiced in Thailand, Vietnam, Myanmar, Singapore, Laos and Cambodia. Islam in Malaysia, Indonesia and Brunei, and Christianity in the Philippines and Timor-Leste. Historical data show, however, that these world religions are imported cultural products and have been reimagined, assimilated and appropriated by the culture that embraced them. In this collection, we see that these appropriated religions imply a culturally nuanced worldview which in turn impacts how the traditional problems in the philosophy of religion are framed and answered in particular questions about the existence and nature of the divine, the problem of evil and the nature of life after death. Themes explored include religious belief and digital transition, Theravada Buddhist philosophy, religious diversity, Buddhism and omniscience, indigenous belief systems, divine apology and unmerited human suffering, dualism and the problem of evil, Buddhist philosophy and Spinoza's views on death and immortality, belief and everyday realities in the Philippines, comparative religious philosophy, gendering the Hindu concept of dharma, Christian devotion and salvation during the Spanish colonial period in the Philippines through the writings of Jose Rizal, indigenous Islamic practices in the Philippines, practiced traditions in contemporary Filipino celebrations of Christmas, role of place aspects in the appropriation of religions in Southeast Asia and fate and divine omniscience. This book is of interest to scholars and researchers of philosophy of religion, sociology of religion, anthropology of religion, cultural studies, comparative religion, religious studies and Asian studies.
