Lost, Texas Bronson Dorsey, 2018-04-24 In Lost Texas Photographs of Forgotten Buildings Bronson Dorsey takes us on a tour of old abandoned buildings in Texas that evoke the mystique of bygone days and shifting population patterns With a skilled photographer s eye he captures the character of these buildings mostly tucked away in the far corners of rural Texas though surprisingly some of his finds are in the midst of thriving communities even in one case the Dallas metroplex Most of the buildings are abandoned and in a state of decay though a handful have been repurposed as museums residences or other functional structures Encompassing all regions of the state from the Piney Woods to the Panhandle the images in Lost Texas evoke distinctive memories of the past They grant a sense of how those who preceded us lived and how the Texas of earlier days became the Texas of today Some of the historic sites include a Coca Cola bottling plant in Beeville a lumberyard built over two generations a beautiful mission style schoolhouse raised in a small farming community the skeleton of a boomtown gas station near the Yates oilfield and what remains of the only silver mining operation in Texas With Dorsey as a guide readers may explore these hidden and neglected gems and learn the basic facts of their origins and intended uses as well as the principal reasons for their demise Along the way and in the background he quietly makes the case for preserving these buildings that while no longer central to the ongoing function of their communities still serve as important emblems of the past
