Read Your Child's Thoughts:

Raising an Active Reader Samantha Cleaver, 2020-05-18 This book will prove a valuable resource for parents, teachers and librarians on the vital topic of reading aloud. Library Journal Starred Review. Parents and teachers know that reading aloud to children is important and many parents of infants and toddlers read aloud to them daily. However, when children start to read on their own, parents often stop reading aloud. But these early elementary school years are actually a perfect time to build vocabulary and comprehension skills through reading aloud and Active Reading. Raising an Active Reader makes clear the process of learning to read how Active Reading fits into raising strong readers and what adults can do to encourage strong language comprehension and vocabulary in children in grades K-3. This book extends on the ABCs of Active Reading: Ask Questions, Build Vocabulary and make Connections as they apply to older children for picture books, chapter books and novels. It provides parents and teachers with examples, clear explanations and ideas for making one-on-one or small group read aloud sessions a powerful way to build children's early literacy and language skills all while creating a lifelong love of reading.

Dad, what happened? Why are they shooting? What is this vigil for? The shootings keep coming and so do Jeremiah's questions. Dad doesn't have easy answers, but that doesn't mean he won't talk about it or that he won't act. But what if Jeremiah doesn't want to talk anymore? None of it makes sense and he's just a kid. Even if he wants to believe in a better world, is there anything he can do about it? Inspired by real-life events, this honest, intimate look at one family's response to racism and gun violence includes a discussion guide created by the Muhammad Ali Center in Louisville, Kentucky, a multicultural center and museum committed to promoting respect, hope and understanding. A portion of the publisher's sales proceeds will be donated to nonprofit organizations that facilitate the empowerment of Black communities.
