Krupshaw

Readers Construction Of Narrative:

The Reader's Construction of Narrative Horst Ruthrof, 2016-08-19 In this book first published in 1981 the author argues that narrative is an interaction between the presented world and the presentational process and attempts to define narrative from the perspective of reading The Reader's Construction of Narrative includes chapters on narrative language translating narrative and discusses what happens when we read a narrative text This book will be of particular interest to students of literary theory

The Construction of Mental Representations During Reading Herre van Oostendorp, Susan R. Goldman, 1998-11 This volume presents in depth investigations of the processes of meaning making during reading at both local discourse and global general knowledge levels It will be of theoretical and practical interest to cognitive scientists reading researchers

Performativity, Cultural Construction, and the Graphic Narrative Leigh Anne Howard, Susanna Hoeness-Krupsaw, 2019-09-11 Performativity Cultural Construction and the Graphic Narrative draws on performance studies scholarship to understand the social impact of graphic novels and their sociopolitical function Addressing issues of race gender ethnicity race war mental illness and the environment the volume encompasses the diversity and variety inherent in the graphic narrative medium Informed by the scholarship of Dwight Conquergood and his model for performance praxis this collection of essays makes links between these seemingly disparate areas of study to open new avenues of research for comics and graphic narratives An international team of authors offer a detailed analysis of new and classical graphic texts from Britain Iran India and Canada as well as the United States Performance Social Construction and the Graphic Narrative draws on performance studies scholarship to understand the social impact of graphic novels and their sociopolitical function Addressing issues of race gender ethnicity race war mental illness and the environment the volume encompasses the diversity and variety inherent in the graphic narrative medium This book will be of interest to students and scholars in the areas of communication literature comics studies performance studies sociology languages English and gender studies and anyone with an interest in deepening their acquaintance with and understanding of the potential of graphic narratives

Reading Fiction in Antebellum America James L. Machor, 2011-04-01 James L. Machor offers a sweeping exploration of how American fiction was received in both public and private spheres in the United States before the Civil War Machor takes four antebellum authors Edgar Allan Poe Herman Melville Catharine Sedgwick and Caroline Chesebro and analyzes how their works were published received and interpreted Drawing on discussions found in book reviews and in private letters and diaries Machor examines how middle class readers of the time engaged with contemporary fiction and how fiction reading evolved as an interpretative practice in nineteenth century America Through careful analysis Machor illuminates how the reading practices of nineteenth century Americans shaped not only the experiences of these writers at the time but also the way the writers were received in the twentieth century What Machor reveals is that these authors were received in ways strikingly different from how they are currently read thereby shedding significant light on their present status in the literary canon in comparison to their critical and popular positions in their own time Machor deftly combines response and reception criticism and theory with work in the history of reading to engage with groundbreaking scholarship in historical hermeneutics In so doing Machor takes us ever closer to understanding the particular and varying reading strategies of historical audiences and how they impacted authors' conceptions of their own readership

Narrative Asides in Luke-Acts Steven Sheeley, 2015-01-29 An examination of the literary device of narrative asides including parenthetical remarks addressed directly to the reader which interrupt the logical progression of the story and establish a relationship between the narrator and the narratee Narrative asides in Luke Acts are located categorized according to their function and examined within their literary context With this discussion in mind the book offers a narrative critical exploration of the relationship of asides to the plot narrator and audience of Luke Acts

Narratology in the Age of Cross-disciplinary Narrative Research Sandra Heinen, Roy Sommer, 2009 Narrative Research has developed into an international and interdisciplinary field This volume collects fifteen essays which look at narrative and narrativity from various perspectives including literary studies and hermeneutics cognitive theory and creativity research metaphor studies and film theory and intermediality

Narrative Theory, Literature, and New Media Mari Hatavara, Matti Hyvärinen, Maria Mäkelä, Frans Mäyrä, 2015-06-19 Offering an interdisciplinary approach to narrative this book investigates storyworlds and minds in narratives across media from literature to digital games and reality TV from online sadomasochism to oral history databases and from horror to hallucinations It addresses two core questions of contemporary narrative theory inspired by recent cognitive scientific developments what kind of a construction is a storyworld and what kind of mental functioning can be embedded in it Minds and worlds become essential facets of making sense and interpreting narratives as the book asks how story internal minds relate to the mind external to the storyworld that is the mind processing the story With essays from social scientists literary scholars linguists and scholars from interactive media studies answering these topical questions the collection brings diverse disciplines into dialogue providing new openings for genuinely transdisciplinary narrative theory The wide ranging selection of materials analyzed in the book promotes knowledge on the latest forms of cultural and social meaning making through narrative necessary for navigating the contemporary mediatized cultural landscape The combination of theoretical reflection and empirical analysis makes this book an invaluable resource for scholars and advanced students in fields including literary studies social sciences art media and communication

New Perspectives on Narrative Perspective Willie van Peer, Seymour Chatman, 2001-03-22 Narrative perspective is the faculty through which humans understand structure and explore the world that confronts them This is the first volume to bring together the theoretical study of perspective with the rigor of experimental studies combining work in narratology with that in linguistics philosophy film studies literary theory and cognitive psychology The chapters are grouped thematically and drawn together by the editors who provide guidance through this new and fascinating interdisciplinary territory

Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction Robyn McCallum, 2012-10-02 Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction examines the representation of selfhood in adolescent and children's fiction using a Bakhtinian approach to subjectivity language and narrative The ideological frames within which identities are formed are inextricably bound up with ideas about subjectivity ideas which pervade and underpin adolescent fictions Although the humanist subject has been systematically interrogated by recent philosophy and criticism the question which lies at the heart of fiction for young people is not whether a coherent self exists but what kind of self it is and what are the conditions of its coming into being Ideologies of Identity in Adolescent Fiction has a double focus first the images of selfhood that the fictions offer their readers especially the interactions between selfhood social and cultural forces ideologies and other selves and second the strategies used to structure narrative and to represent subjectivity and intersubjectivity

Literary Construction of Identity in the Ancient World Hanna Liss, Manfred Oeming, 2010-06-30 Encountering an ancient text not only as a historical source but also as a literary artifact entails an important paradigm shift which in recent years has taken place in classical and Oriental philology Biblical scholars Egyptologists and classical philologists have been pioneers in supplementing traditional historical critical exegesis with more literary approaches This has led to a wealth of new insights While the methodological consequences of this shift have been discussed within each discipline until recently there has not been an attempt to discuss its validity and methodology on an interdisciplinary level In 2006 the Faculty of Bible and Biblical Interpretation at the Hochschule für Jüdische Studien Heidelberg and the Faculty of Theology at the University of Heidelberg invited scholars from the U S Canada the Netherlands Israel and Germany to examine these issues Under the title Literary Fiction and the Construction of Identity in Ancient Literatures Options and Limits of Modern Literary Approaches in the Exegesis of Ancient Texts experts in Egyptology classical philology ancient Near Eastern studies biblical studies Jewish studies literary studies and comparative religion came together to present current research and debate open questions At this conference each representative from a total of 23 different disciplines dealt with literary theory in regard to his or her area of research The present volume organizes 17 of the resulting essays along 5 thematic lines that show how similar issues are dealt with in different disciplines 1 Thinking of Ancient Texts as Literature 2 The Identity of Authors and Readers 3 Fiction and Fact 4 Rereading Biblical Poetry and 5 Modeling the Future by Reconstructing the Past
