Makers

Like Experiencers, Makers are motivated by self-expression. They express themselves and experience the world by working on it-building a house, raising children, fixing a car, or canning vegetables-and have enough skill and energy to carry out their projects successfully. Makers are practical people who have constructive skills and value self-sufficiency. They live within a traditional context of family, practical work, and physical recreation and have little interest in what lies outside that context.

Makers are suspicious of new ideas and large institutions such as big business. They are respectful of government authority and organized labor, but resentful of government intrusion on individual rights. They are unimpressed by material possessions other than those with a practical or functional purpose. Because they prefer value to luxury, they buy basic products.

Survivors

Survivors live narrowly focused lives. With few resources with which to cope, they often believe that the world is changing too quickly. They are comfortable with the familiar and are primarily concerned with safety and security. Because they must focus on meeting needs rather than fulfilling desires, Survivors do not show a strong primary motivation.

Survivors are cautious consumers. They represent a very modest market for most products and services. They are loyal to favorite brands, especially if they can purchase them at a discount.

Reading And Rhetoric:

Reading and Rhetoric (Classic Reprint) Robert B. Kaplan, 2015-09-27 Excerpt from Reading and Rhetoric There are already a great many readers on the market and it hardly seems necessary to add to the abundance with one more effort This reader is designed for a particular purpose which it seems to me is not satisfied by any other work presently available Great numbers of students come to the United States each year to study everything from anthropology to zoology and many of these students are handicapped in their pursuit of higher education by their deficiencies in English More and more universities and colleges are beginning to recognize the need for more intensified English training and are attempting to meet it with special courses in English as a Second Language Of course textbooks have been prepared for such purposes But it seems to me that many of the textbooks in this field suffer from one of two distinct disadvantages either they are composed of materials which because of their simplicity and condescension insult the often highly developed intelligence and mature sophistication of the international student or they are composed of materials which mistakenly strive to give the international student a very contemporary view of American life and which as a result present that student with selections containing cultural assumptions far beyond his grasp This textbook attempts to do two things First it tries to avoid the sins of which I have accused other texts Second it tries to present its materials according to a rhetorical pattern so that it may conveniently be synchronized with a writing and grammar course About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Everyday Use Hephzibah Roskelly, David A. Jolliffe, 2005 Brief and accessible this rhetoric teaches students to read closely critically and rhetorically and to write effectively to achieve their rhetorical goals P The five traditional canons of rhetoric ndash invention arrangement style memory and delivery are introduced in a particularly accessible chapter showing students that rhetoric has roots in antiquity but essential applications in our own time Ch 2 Staircase to Writing and Reading Alan Casty, Donald J. Tighe, 1969

Inventions of Reading Clayton Koelb, 2019-06-30 Where do writers of fiction get their ideas Clayton Koelb here takes issue with those who regard inspiration or imitation as primary forces influencing literary invention He finds that another mechanism which he calls rhetorical construction underlies much fiction and some nonfiction as well Rhetorical construction Koelb says is a way of producing writing out of reading The rhetorical writer begins by discovering an interpretive crux in a familiar text a passage from the Bible for example or a commonplace expression and then proceeds to imagine a fictional situation in which all the meanings of the passage contradictory though they may seem may be realized According to Koelb inventions of reading do not stop with the discovery of the eternal and inevitable deconstructibility of language they somehow generate an urge to put language back together through the invention of a fictional world Among the texts he discusses are writings by Boccaccio Rabelais Goethe Schiller Kleist Hawthorne Hans Christian Andersen Nietzsche Kafka Calvino and Flannery O Connor

Reading Rhetorical Theory Barry Brummett, 2000 An anthology of original readings Reading Rhetorical Theory uses selections from primary sources to track the history of thinking Two features of this book enable it to stand apart from other texts on rhetorical theory First its unique mix of readings blends traditional authors such as Aristotle Plato and Kenneth Burke with popular modern authors such as Karlyn Kohrs Campbell Second the editorial introductions develop a consistent and unified perspective that allows for differing interpretations of rhetorical theory at the same time that it ties together the history of the subject Reading Rhetorical Theory is appropriate in graduate or undergraduate courses that cover the history of rhetorical theory by using primary sources to track the history of thinking about human symbolic influence

Rhetoric's Questions, Reading and Interpretation Peter Mack, 2017-08-20 This book aims to help readers interpret and reflect on their reading more effectively It presents doctrines of ancient and renaissance rhetoric an education in how to write well as questions or categories for interpreting one's reading The first chapter presents the questions Later chapters use rhetorical theory to bring out the implications of and suggest possible answers to the questions about occasion and audience chapter 2 structure and disposition 3 narrative 4 argument 5 further elements of content such as descriptions comparisons proverbs and moral axioms dialogue and examples 6 and style 7 Chapter eight describes ways of gathering material formulating arguments and writing about the texts one reads The conclusion considers the wider implications of taking a rhetorical approach to reading The investigation of rhetoric's questions is interspersed with analyses of texts by Chaucer Sidney Shakespeare Fielding and Rushdie using the questions The text is intended for university students of literature especially English literature and rhetoric and their teachers

Reading Writing George Y. Trail, 2002 Reading Writing An Argument Rhetoric and Reader was conceived as a textbook for an undergraduate class in the rhetoric of argument but in its final form casts a much wider net in terms of audience Starting from the Orwellian premise that those who are passive rather than active in their relationship with the language will be its victims rather than its masters this book critically examines a series of examples of persuasion as it is currently practiced in the popular media Every reader and every writer can learn something from this personable witty thoughtful and thought provoking book

The Language of Composition Renee H. Shea, Lawrence Scanlon, Robin Dissin Aufses, 2007-05-14 The ideal book for the AP English Language course The Language of Composition is the first textbook built from the ground up to help students succeed in the new AP English Language course Written by a team of experts with experience in both high school and college this text focuses on teaching students the skills they need to read write and think at the college level With practical advice on reading and writing and an extensive selection of readings including essays poetry fiction and visual texts that are both interesting and appropriate for a high school audience The Language of Composition helps students develop the key skills they must master to pass the course to succeed on the AP Exam and to prepare for a successful college career Need help with the audit Click here to download an AP correlation      Ideology, Rhetoric, Aesthetics Andrzej Warminski, 2013-06-07 Readings of de Man s critique of aesthetic ideology and the strange materiality that emerges from it This volume explicates Paul de Man s late project of a critique of aesthetic ideology and attempts to extend it in ways productive for critical thought After a reading of de Man s work in all its rigour and hence also the aesthetic theory of Kant Schiller and Hegel the book goes on to uncover a material moment in Hegel s Phenomenology of Spirit that lives on in Marx and in the Marxist tradition The book also elucidates de Man s critical reading of Heidegger on the example of Holderlin a moment essential for de Man s shifts to the question of rhetoric and then to the question of ideology and ends with a reading of Derrida s last text on de Man and its uncanny self inscription in Rousseau s episode of the stolen ribbon      READING AND RHETORIC ROBERT B.
