Reading And Literacy In The Middle Ages And Renais:

Reading and Literacy Ian Frederick Moulton, 2004 It is not surprising that the development of the internet and related electronic technologies has coincided with an academic interest in the history of reading Using and transmitting texts in new ways scholars have become increasingly aware of the precise ways in which manuscripts and printed books transmitted texts to early modern readers This volume collects nine essays on reading and literacy in Europe from the fourteenth to the seventeenth centuries Topics include the function of marginalia in vernacular medieval manuscripts the trope of reading in the fourteenth century the definition of literacy in early modern England marginalia and reading practices in early modern Italy revision of medieval texts in the Renaissance the prevalence of translated French poetry in sixteenth century England the use of poems as props in the plays of Shakespeare the private reading of the playscripts of masques and early modern women s reading practices These essays demonstrate the energy and excitement of the rapidly developing field of the history of reading They will appeal to those interested in European cultural history the transition from manuscript to print culture the history of literacy and the history of the book

Medical Authority and Englishwomen's Herbal Texts, 1550-1650

Rebecca Laroche, 2009 The first study to analyze print vernacular herbals from the standpoint of gender this book also recognizes the rhetorical agenda of female writers who claim herbal practice As she examines women s herbal language across various genres and in both manuscript and print Laroche also incorporates meticulous archival research which ultimately generates original findings to do with women s ownership of medical texts

Childhood in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance Albrecht Classen, 2011-12-22 Earlier theses on the history of childhood can now be laid to rest and a fundamental paradigm shift initiated as there is an overwhelming body of evidence to show that in medieval and early modern times too there were close emotional relations between parents and children The contributors to this volume demonstrate conclusively on the one hand how intensively parents concerned themselves with their children in the pre modern era and on the other which social political and religious conditions shaped these relationships These studies in emotional history demonstrate how easy it is for a subjective choice of sources coupled with faulty interpretations caused mainly by modern prejudices toward the Middle Ages in particular to lead to the view that in the past children were regarded as small adults The contributors demonstrate convincingly that intense feelings admittedly often different in nature shaped the relationship between adults and children

A Cultural History of Education in the Renaissance Jeroen J. H. Dekker, 2023-04-20 A Cultural History of Education in the Renaissance presents essays that examine the following key themes of the period church religion and morality knowledge media and communications children and childhood family community and sociability learners and learning teachers and teaching literacies and life histories Education was the fuel for the communication and knowledge society of the Renaissance This period saw increasing investments in educational institutions to meet the growing demand for literacy in the context of a religiously divided Europe with growing cities and emerging central governments An essential resource for researchers scholars and students in history literature culture and education

Spectacle and Public Performance in the Late Middle Ages and the Renaissance ,2006-04-01 No volume about the spectacles and public performances of early modern England could pretend to treat comprehensively a body of materials so conspicuously vast Rather than efforts to survey the territory these essays are best understood in the original sense of the term as essays as trials attempts experiments to open alternative ways of understanding that vast corpus of mystery plays civic pageants court masques and professional dramas that constitute its subject The book crosses traditional period lines including studies of Medieval as well as Renaissance entertainments Once more the essays are not organized according to a single critical or historical methodology They employ an eclectic range of interpretive practices reflecting the variety of interpretive approaches now current in the field Contributors include Tiffany J Alkan Robert W Barrett Jr Sarah Beckwith Tom Bishop Peter Cockett Richard K Emmerson Peter Holland Nora Johnson Richard C McCoy Lauren Shohet and Robert E Stillman

Communication and Materiality Susanne Enderwitz,Rebecca Sauer,2015-08-31 This volume reconsiders literacy and communication in pre modern societies focusing especially on how material form affects the way textual artefacts are understood and interpreted By bringing together scholars from diverse disciplines such as archaeology medieval studies and Islamic studies this volume provides the specialist and non specialist with insights on how humans express themselves through writing and material culture

Self-Commentary in Early Modern European Literature, 1400-1700 Francesco Venturi,2019-05-15 This volume investigates the various ways in which writers comment on present and defend their own works and at the same time themselves across early modern Europe A multiplicity of self commenting modes ranging from annotations to explicatory prose to prefaces to separate critical texts and exemplifying a variety of literary genres are subjected to analysis Self commentaries are more than just an external apparatus they direct and control reception of the primary text thus affecting notions of authorship and readership With the writer understood as a potentially very influential and often tendentious interpreter of their own work the essays in this collection offer new perspectives on pre modern and modern forms of critical self consciousness self representation and self validation Contributors are Harriet Archer Gilles Bertheau Carlo Caruso Jeroen De Keyser Russell Ganim Joseph Harris Ian Johnson Richard Maber Martin McLaughlin John O Brien Magdalena O arska Federica Pich Brian Richardson Els Stronks and Colin Thompson

Playbooks and their Readers

in Early Modern England Hannah August, 2022-04-24 This book is the first comprehensive examination of commercial drama as a reading genre in early modern England Taking as its focus pre Restoration printed drama s most common format the single play quarto playbook it interrogates what the form and content of these playbooks can tell us about who their earliest readers were why they might have wanted to read contemporary commercial drama and how they responded to the printed versions of plays that had initially been performed in the playhouses of early modern London Focusing on professional plays printed in quarto between 1584 and 1660 the book juxtaposes the implications of material and paratextual evidence with analysis of historical traces of playreading in extant playbooks and manuscript commonplace books In doing so it presents more detailed and nuanced conclusions than have previously been enabled by studies focused on works by one author or on a single type of evidence
