Heads Will Roll, 2012-01-20 The decapitation motif recurs in nearly all medieval and early modern genres from saints lives and epics to comedies and romances yet decollation is often little regarded save as a marker of humanity that is as the moment mortality exits or inhumanity that is as the moment the supernatural enters However as a seat of reason wisdom and even the soul the head has long been afforded a special place in the body politic even when separated from its body proper Capitalizing upon the

Hoshowsky,2007-04-30 Although they committed separate crimes Arthur Lucas and Ronald Turpin met their deaths on the same scaffold at Toronto s Don Jail on December 11 1962 They were the last two people executed in Canada but surprisingly little was known about them until now This is the first book to uncover the lives and deaths of Turpin a Canadian criminal and Lucas a Detroit gangster The result of more than five years of research The Last to Die is based on original interviews hidden documents trial transcripts and newspaper accounts Featuring crime scene photos and never before published documents this riveting book also reveals the heroic efforts of lawyer Ross MacKay who defended both men and Chaplain Cyril Everitt who remained with them to the end What actually happened the night of the hangings is shrouded by myth and rumour This book finally confirms the truth and reveals the gruesome mistake that cost Arthur Lucas not only his life but also his head The Flight of Icarus James S. Amelang,1998-08-01 Exploring autobiographical texts written by European urban craftsmen from the fifteenth to the eighteenth centuries this wide ranging book studies memoirs diaries family chronicles travel narratives and other forms of personal writings from Spain France Italy Germany and England In the process it considers the motivations of the authors the changing forms and emphases of artisan narratives and more generally the significance of written self expression in early modern popular culture By analyzing reading and writing as practices laden with social meaning this work aims to illuminate the changing role of the lower classes and other groups considered marginal in the history of literature and literacy It uncovers an Icarian logic by which writing about the self and one s immediate and private world developed as a complex response to widely shared expectations regarding the cultural and political subordination of craftsmen and others relegated to the margins of public life and discourse The book also contributes to the contemporary interdisciplinary debate concerning the nature and evolution of autobiographical writing It draws upon those currents within literary studies such as feminist criticism which favor a more flexible approach to the study of first person narrative than that adopted by traditional literary critics and historians of ideas It also argues for revising the standard history of autobiography eschewing the teleological presentation of a small handful of classic texts in favor of a more nuanced trajectory in which a wide range of social actors helped shape the emerging patterns of modern self understanding and expression The Valley of the Shadow of Death Kermit Alexander,Alex Gerould,Jeff Snipes,2015-09-22 Former NFL star Kermit Alexander tells the true story of the massacre of his family and his subsequent years of despair followed by a spiritual renewal that showed him a way to rebuild his family and reclaim his life Amazon com Death in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen,2016-04-11 Death is not only the final moment of life it also casts a huge shadow on human society at large People throughout time have had to cope with death as an existential experience and this also of course in the premodern world The contributors to the present volume examine the material and spiritual conditions of the culture of death studying specific buildings and spaces literary works and art objects theatrical performances and medical tracts from the early Middle Ages to the late eighteenth century Death has always evoked fear terror and awe it has puzzled and troubled people forcing theologians and philosophers to respond and provide answers for questions that seem to evade real explanations The more we learn about the culture of death the more we can comprehend the culture of life As this volume demonstrates the approaches to death varied widely also in the Middle Ages and the early modern age This volume hence adds a significant number of new facets to the critical examination of this ever present phenomenon of death exploring poetic responses to the Black Death types of execution of a female murderess death as the springboard for major political changes and death reflected in morality plays and art
