Technology and Transition Abdelkader Djeflat, Girma Zawdie, 2014-01-14 The Maghreb countries had a promising start in economic growth after independence For the most part they thrived on industrialisation by import substitution but unfortunately this strategy left them with macroeconomic and structural imbalances which together have effectively constrained their ability to compete in the world economic system and to catch up with the rapidly changing global techno economic circumstances Issues relating to aspects of technology transfer to the Maghreb strategies for technological and resource development and the integration of education and R D systems with the productive systems of the economies in the region are discussed along with relevant cases from Mexico China South Korea India and Bangladesh

Building Science, Technology and Innovation Systems in Africa Abdelkader DJEFL, 2010-06-30 The book discusses the policies and strategies for Science and Technology S T and Innovation capability building put up by Maghreb states Algeria Tunisia Morocco in the last three decades The application of structural adjustment programmes SAPs in recent years the opening up of their economies and liberalisation of trade have confronted firms with largely innovation based competition and the attempt to reduce this impact are far from effective particularly in the face of the era of knowledge economy and sustainability requirements The work is articulated around three major themes the difficult path to S T capacity building the attempts to put up National Systems of Innovation NSI and the prospects for a more innovation driven growth at the territorial level notably through intermediate institutions and science and technology poles While pointing out the difficulties of building NSI the book examines how the context of an innovation driven competition put local firms especially SMEs in a difficult position It notes that universities which are prone to internal politics and rent seeking are not producing the necessary human capital The knowledge economy era challenges raise some hopes for better access to innovation and knowledge assets in the world while at the territorial level new innovation dynamics are taking place Based on extensive research and consultancy work done on the analysis of policies in the Maghreb the book also raises the issue of the neighborhood of the European Union and argues that unless Europe integrates the Maghreb in a real neighborhood Innovation System the prospects for innovation take off in the region are limited Towards a Sustainable Economy

Patel, 2018-03-26 Originally published in 1993 this book contains 4 studies on Asia Bangladesh India South Korea and Sri Lanka The studies reflect 4 different patterns of technological transformation India with its large population has made considerable progress but its overall development has been slow until recently At the other extreme South Korea which had a very low per capita income in the 1950s registered a quantum leap in technological transformation within a short span of 30 years The heritage of Bangladesh s past has constrained its progress in overcoming structural weaknesses but in comparison Sri Lanka displays a very different pattern The sources used draw upon research in development economics economic history technology and studies in general and country studies in particular Strategies for Industrialisation M. M. Huq, Jim Love, 2000 Collection of papers presented at a series of conferences Bangladesh Strategies for Development Roy H. Grieve, M. M. Huq, 1995 This Volume An Outcome Of The Inaugural Conference Of The Uk Forum Of The Bangladesh Economic Association Held At The University Of Strathclyde Glasgow In May 1994 Sheds Light On Some Vital Issues Facing Bangladesh The Contributors Include Debapriya Bhattacharya Sanat Kumar Saha Narayan Chandra Nath Jim Love Among Others Capacity Realization and Productivity Growth in a Developing Country Ruhul A. Salim, 2018-12-14 First published in 1999 Firms in manufacturing industries are influenced by the market oriented liberalization reform policies in many developing countries since the late eighties However studies applying appropriate methodology to appropriate data seldom analyze the impact of reforms on the performance of production units such as manufacturing firms The central point of this book is to address this issue by comparing firms achievement with best practice performance before and after reforms This form of analysis is not new but it emphasizes a new focus or realignment of thinking within neoclassical economics to develop an analytical framework This book examines the productivity growth of Bangladesh manufacturing firms as component measures of changes in capacity realization and technical progress The significant feature of this approach is that it allows for the inefficiency of firms and thus productivity growth is estimated rather than taking it as a residual as is usually measured in the traditional growth accounting approach High rates of technological progress on the one hand can co exist with low rates of capacity realization On the other hand relatively low rates of technological progress can co exist with an improving capacity realization As a result specific policy actions are required to address the difference in the sources of variation in productivity In this respect this book would provide invaluable insights for policy makers development practitioners academics and students of economics

Technology and Developing Countries Richard Heeks, 2020-04-28 The relationship between technology and development is explored by economists policy analysts and other experts The adoption of technology is studied in five main areas agriculture energy infrastructure the introduction of technology and the success and constraints of technological diffusion as a whole This volume also examines the technology transfer between North and South from a perspective of training environmental impact and aid dependency The emphasis is not placed simply on finding problems but ways forward are examined By bringing together both practical and intellectual analysis this collection signposts future directions in the technologydevelopment relationship
